VOLUME 96 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, JANUARY 4, 1973 | PER COPY 10c | NUMBER 45

A New Leaf . . .

People were advised in a recent Warner and Swasey company advertisement: "You have just turned over a new leaf; now tear up the old one and forget it."

The company continued, "If you do, the hopes filling the new page will have a far better chance of coming true."

People were urged to "Throw away the image of young people as rioting, immoral, drug users. For every one who is, there are ten thousand of as fine young Americans as you'll ever hope to see. Americans you can proudly trust your country to. Forget the picture of the black man shaking a clenched fist against America. Take a look instead at the thousands of blacks, men and women, building successful futures in better and better jobs, paying their own way, and helping build better home communities.

"Tear up the cartoon of the businessman polluting the air and water for some selfish gain, and remember that American business is spending tens of billions of dollars to combat and where possible, cure pollution—it's own money, not that of the taxpayers."

People are admonished in their New Year's resolutions to do more—be that they also will do something about improving their own outlook as individuals.

Year's Activities Are Reviewed From Files Of The Republican

Scores of events, large and small, public and private, affected the citizens of the area for better or worse during the past year. Some of these events have been gathered here for a glance at the year behind and a reminder of accomplishments and failures of twelve months of living.

Harland Bittinger Handmade Jewelry Captures Autumn

By Carol Canan

Imagine a maple or oak leaf in its most brilliant fall colors falling on your coat or dress, and you have some idea of the unique and captivating quality of the handmade jewelry made by Harland Bittinger and his faithful assistants, Mrs. Bittinger and Merle Weeks.

Mr. Bittinger said he had "kicked the idea around for about a year" before getting down to making his pins and key rings.

He obtained some maple wood scraps about six weeks ago and spent hours cutting autumn leaf shapes with a jigsaw. After cutting, he grinds each on an emery wheel before painting with watercolors and finishing with a [illegible] finish.

So far he has used only an autumn leaf motif and finished them in natural autumn colors or left the wood free of paints.

He and his helpers have made about 300 thus far, using the kitchen of his Shady Acre home for headquarters. Mr. Bittinger is an employe of the B and O Railroad and is a tower watchman. He and his wife have no children.

They have picked up several hobbies, and in 1971 they turned out over 60 dozen handprinted Christmas cards.

In addition to selling the pins through, and to, friends, Mr. Bittinger may have an outlet for his work through a shop located on Wisconsin Avenue in Washington, D. C.

Town Approved For Health Service Corps Program

Friendsville, named as one of fourteen communities within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Mid-Atlantic Region (Region III) with critical health manpower shortages, has been approved for future placement of National Health Service Corps (NHSC) personnel. The announcement was made this week by Dr. Z. Erik Farg, Interim Regional Health Director for DHEW's Health Services and Mental Health Administration (HSMHA).

The NHSC a pilot program created by the Emergency Health Personnel Act (P.L. 91-623) to help alleviate acute health problems in underserved areas through deployment of health manpower, assigns health personnel to areas of critical shortage. In each community, the NHSC assigns its personnel to non-profit health delivery organizations. Fees are charged in accordance with prevailing rates and the Corps is reimbursed for reasonable costs by the community organization. The community's share of the income can be used as revenue for its health delivery system.

The communities in Region III (comprising Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, W. Va. and the Dist. of Columbia), have been approved for 32 physicians and four dentists. Placement is scheduled to begin in July, 1973. However, communities should be aware that it is impossible at this time to predict what the impact and imminent discontinuance of the doctor draft would have on physician availability. To counteract anticipated shortages, NHSC is launching an intensive recruitment effort at both regional and national levels.

Prior to this third round of approved communities, marking a new development in the NHSC

Sanitary Sewage Location Sites Being Verified

Swindell-Dressler Company, a consulting engineering firm based in Pittsburgh, is presently designing a sanitary sewage collection system and main transmission line for the Town of Oakland. In part, the firm's work includes locating the existing sanitary sewers now discharging near or directly into the the Little Youghiogheny River, designing a system for collecting the sanitary sewage from the various discharge points, and designing a main transmission line to carry the sewage to the Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights Sewerage Facilities for treatment and disposal.

"On the ground" surveys have been conducted by Swindell-Dressler in an effort to locate all the existing discharge points along the Little Youghiogheny River so they may be incorporated into the collection system design. To date, approximately thirty discharge points have been located and are being provided for. It is anticipated that no "connection fee" will be charged against homes using these discharge points since they will be connected to the system as construction progresses. It is also anticipated, however, that, due to the difficulty in finding the discharge points on the ground, some may have inadvertently been overlooked. Con-

Legislators Open Session January 10

The Maryland General Assembly will begin its 1973 legislative session on January 10 in Annapolis for a 90-day period. West Virginia also begins its legislative routine on that day while the Pennsylvania legislators were scheduled to report January 2.

Of all the states with time limits on regular sessions, only four legislatures meet longer than Maryland's 90 days. They include Texas, with 140 days and Oregon, Minnesota and North Carolina, all with 120 days.

Five other states in addition to Maryland, Kansas, Mississippi, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Tennessee, meet for 90 days.

West Virginia has a 60-day session in Charleston, while Pennsylvania legislators meet in Harrisburg with no time limit. Some sixteen states operate without time limits.

Instead of using a certain number of days for the time limit, two states, Delaware and Missouri, must conclude legislative action by June 30. Only Kentucky is not scheduled for a regular session in 1973.

In Maryland the General Assembly may be extended into a special session and may consider any subject which may be considered at a regular meeting. West Virginia and Pennsylvania legislatures are limited to consider only subjects in the governor's call.

Maryland's special sessions are limited to 30 days, while West Virginia and Pennsylvania special sessions have no time limit. In West Virginia, though, the legislature may convene itself with no subject limit.

In keeping with HEW objectives of making its programs more responsive to local needs, the Corps now has program directors in each of the 10 HEW Regional Offices. All of the communities have received technical assistance from these Regional Representatives and the new approvals are the result of months of cooperative efforts at the local level, with such agencies as areawide planning groups, Regional Medical Programs and professional societies.

Region III now has a total of 31 communities identified as shortage areas.

The decision concluded a joint effort by Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr., Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., and Dr. William W. Pope, health officer, and many citizens.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

By James F. Remley, Pastor Bethel United Methodist Church Mountain Lake Park, Md.

"Our Christmas Gift"

Now that the holidays are over most of us are involved one way or another with the gifts we received. Some are playing with toys, one boy said he had been out twice with his new skis, while visiting in Buckhannon on New Year's Day I saw some golfers out on the course even though it was a cool day, and I supposed they had gotten some golf equipment for Christmas. Can we say we are as involved with the gift God has given us. We need to be cautious lest after reading the Christmas story many times during the holiday season, attending worship services and Christmas programs, talking about the spirit of Christmas, as soon as it is over becoming so involved with other gifts that we forget God's gift which is really the most valuable of all.

I think that the personal gifts that we get are the most appreciated as compared to group gifts such as one gift for the family. We need to remember that God's gift to man is also a very personal gift. In the Christmas Story in Luke the Angels tell the shepherds that, "Unto You is born this day in the city of David a Saviour." The Christian faith is a very personal faith. God's gift to man is a special, personal gift to each one, "Unto You." He is your saviour, your hope, your eternal life, your guide. How you respond to God's gift is up to you personally. What benefit you gain or share in Christ is up to you personally. Someone else cannot live your Christian hope or obligation for you. You are responsible, you live or you die in Christ or you live and die without Him. And how you respond to God's Christmas to you determines whether you live with Him or die without Him.

What one does with his gifts shows how much he values them, how much he appreciates them, and determines how much he gets out of them. What are you doing today after Christmas with God's gift to you? God's word in the Christmas story says, "Behold I bring you good news of a great joy," have you labored in God's word until you have found that joy? Is it a part of your daily witness? The scripture tells us that God is love and Christmas tells us this too. Have you found that love and does that love abide in you? God's word calls Jesus the "Prince of Peace." Does He live in you so that you live in peace with God, with yourself, with those around you?

God's word gives us the promise of freedom from sin in forgiveness and strength to resist temptation. Do you know this strength and freedom? If these promises are real in your life then you are involved in the gift of God's word as one should and can be, if these promises are not real in your life then they can be if you will use God's gift of his word.

One of the joys of after Christmas is sharing with our family and friends what we got for Christmas. Christmas is at its best when it is being shared. Christmas began with God sharing himself with the world. We continue in sharing gifts, greetings and visits. One way we can best honor God's gift to us is by sharing that gift with our neighbors. There is within the Christian faith a basic principle, if a person tries to keep the Christian Life all to himself he loses it. And, when one shares that faith this sharing cultivates and matures the Christian life within the life of the one sharing it. Perhaps Jesus words apply here, he who would save his life will lose it, and, he who would lose his life for my sake and the Gospel will save it.

During this post Christmas season as we are involved with our many blessings of the season, let us be sure and not forget the most blessed blessing of all God's gift to us all; and, let us honor that gift by being involved with it and sharing it so that all mankind might be involved in its redemptive power.

Column For Homemakers

By Mrs. Freda Denison Extension Agent

What's New

Looking for a small dryer for an apartment, trailer, or other small area? A compact unit with a 5 pound capacity has permanent press, air fluff and regular cycles, and is only 30 inches high. Available in avocado, goldtone and white, it has a matching washer, also. The 115-volt dryer, which offers up to 120 minutes drying time, has swivel casters or it can be hung on the wall, announced Mrs. Denison.

A new line of narrow woven elastics helps the home sewer select and sew more professional looking garments that will withstand repeated machine washings and dryings. Much guesswork is eliminated because the package provides information such as the fiber content and for what sewing projects each particular elastic is best suited. In addition, there are how-to sewing project instructions. They are available in thirteen types, plus a variety of widths and colors.

For ecologists, natural-foodists and those who just like fresh food, a manually-operated juicer and a new food grinder will fill the bill. Both made of easily-washed plastic, the grinder comes in green or orange and has a lever controlled suction cup bottom for good stability. The large-capacity juicer, in green only has a straining section for pulp and seeds and a see-through reservoir.

Final installment on Federal and State government loans to Bausch & Lomb, which enabled the Rochester, N. Y., optical firm to build a new $5.7 million plant at Oakland, was delivered at ceremonies at the Department of Economic and Community Development in Annapolis. James F. Chmelik (second from left), Department deputy secretary, presented the remaining portion of the State's 20-year loan of $280,600 to A. Eugene Stillman, Bausch & Lomb financial vice president. Also attending were William W. Grant, (left), Oakland attorney, representing Garrett County; and Edward J. Morris (right) of Atlanta, regional business development chief for the Federal Economic Development Administration, which made $3.6 million in loan funds available.

Final Loans To B & L Plant Are Delivered

ploying about 325 persons with an annual payroll in excess of $1.5 million.

Checks were delivered and final papers signed at a ceremony at the Department's office here. Presenting checks to A. Eugene Stillman, vice president-finance, of Bausch and Lomb were James F. Chmelik, Department deputy secretary, and Edward J. Morris of Atlanta, regional chief of EDA's Business Development Division. William W. Grant, an Oakland attorney, represented Garrett County.

EDA loaned a total of $3,647,800 to Bausch and Lomb to help finance construction of the plant which was completed in the summer of 1971. The State of Maryland and Garrett County each put up $280,000 in 20-year loans and the company added $1,403,000 of its own funds to complete the financing.

Later, the group which participated in the loan signing ceremony met with Lieut. Gov. Blair Lee, III, who told them that construction of the plant represents "the type of commitment Governor Marvin Mandel has made to Western Maryland to help that area extend its economy." He added that the area offers many advantages to industry and "the State government intends to create the type of climate that will encourage industry to locate there."

Mr. Chmelik, who represented Secretary Edmond F. Rovner, said "This project is a prime example of what government at all levels, in cooperation with private industry, can do to provide economic opportunities in those sections of the State which have not fully shared in the economic growth the State has achieved in recent years."

"The impact of this new plant on the economy of the Oakland area has been significant. A new economic vitality is evident, with increased consumer spending being reflected in new home building, increased retail sales and gains in other economic indices. The Department is confident it can extend the lesson of the Oakland experience to other areas of the State. What we have done in this one instance is to prove that imaginative leadership and wise use of available resources can turn an area around economically."

Man Killed In Flintstone Wreck Last Thursday

A Pennsylvania man was killed late Thursday afternoon, December 28, when the car he was operating was hit broadside by a tractor-trailer on U. S. Route 40 about three-tenths of a mile east of Flintstone.

Richard R. Perdew, 56, of Ephrata, Pa., was pronounced dead on arrival at Cumberland Memorial Hospital. The accident occurred at 5:35.

The driver of the tractor-trailer, 20-year-old Ronald Lee Wagner, of Route 1, Mellenry, was unhurt in the collision.

State Police said Mr. Perdew had pulled from a service road onto the eastbound lane of Route 40 and was struck broadside by the tractor-trailer which was eastbound.

A quantity of oil spilled onto the highway and a crew of the State Highway Administration applied sand to the area. Two trucks of the fire company and ten volunteer firemen responded to the accident.

The body was taken to the Conner Funeral Home, Everett, Pa.

Big Freeway Job Nears Final Phase

Within four months the construction of the National Freeway will resume and by that time the remaining 13.55 miles of the 41-mile long Freeway from Cumberland to the West Virginia state line at the western edge of this county will be under contract.

John D. Bushby, district engineer for the State Highway administration, said that 26 miles of dual lane highway and a number of bridges are under construction, although work is now halted due to winter weather. About four and one half miles between Cumberland and U. S. route 40 at LaVale are open to traffic.

Next June the section between Winchester road and State route 36 near Frostburg will be opened to traffic. This stretch is completed except for the paving and will provide another section of almost five miles of Freeway travel.

The SHA has under contract or advertised a total of 47.8 million dollars worth of work. Between now and April the remaining 13.55 miles from Finzel road interchange to the Keyser Ridge area will be under contract and work will be underway by June, Bushby said. The Interstate Amiesite corporation has the contract for paving the dual lane from Winchester bridge to State route 36 for $2,038,598 and this work is 57.6 percent complete.

The bridge over State route 55, one of the highest in Maryland, is just about completed. It is 770 feet long and towers about 135 feet above the Vale Summit road near Clarysville. Cost of this project is $2,734,425.

Next spring the Cumberland Contracting company will start paving the Freeway from west of State route 36 to about a mile west of relocated state route 546, (Finzel road) a distance of 5.4 miles. This work will cost $2,204,933.

The grading and drainage work on the Freeway from the Allegany-Garrett county line to 1.01 miles west of route 546, a distance of 3.134 miles, is 91.5 percent complete.

Two Minor Accidents Occurred Last Week

Two minor accidents occurred last week at opposite ends of the county. There were no injuries.

Frank Snyder, Aurora, W. Va., was traveling east on State Route 135, in Mt. Lake Park, the morning of December 26. He attempted to make a left turn into Crystal Lane and struck the car of Robert R. Oliverio, McHenry, traveling west. Snyder was charged by Trooper J. E. Foley with improper passing. Damage to the Snyder truck was $300 and the Oliverio car, $600.

Don L. Klink, Meyersdale, Pa. was traveling west on U. S. Route 40 early Christmas morning near Lower New Germany road. His car went off the roadway in heavy fog and struck some guard rails. Trooper Foley made no charges and car damage was said to be $450.

Meet The Staff

PAUL MERRILL

It is hard to find an individual who possesses all of the fine qualities of this week's staff member. He is Paul Merrill, manager of our meat department. He has been working for us for over eight years. When he joined our company he had 18 years experience in the meat business, having worked for Giant Foods, Grand Union Supermarkets, as well as managing his own business in Cumberland, Md. Paul's superior knowledge of the meat business has helped to increase his department volume to five times its original size.

One of Paul's finest assets is his ability to merchandise. He makes sure that you receive the freshest meat products available and supervises the displaying of all items so that they are complete and attractive. Recently Paul spent a great deal of time studying a new box ready beef program. Under his supervision and direction we recently adopted this new program and it has proved to be a tremendous success. To begin with, Paul purchases USDA Choice Western Beef exclusively which is the best beef your money can buy. The box ready program costs us more money, but it gives you a more sanitary product, it is cut and vacuum sealed for the ultimate in taste and freshness. We no longer have carcasses hanging in our meat coolers where they can be subject to bacteria.

As most of you know, we are in the process of building a new delicatessen, bakery, and restaurant. We are proud to announce that this new facility will be managed by Paul Merrill. We feel that under his supervision that this will be one of the finest food preparation facilities available.

Paul's outstanding personality has gained him the friendship and respect of all of our employees as well as the customers he serves. We are proud to have a man of his caliber in our company.

Paul is a past president of the Optimist Club and enjoys fishing and playing chess. He is also an amateur artist and has mastered several musical instruments. He and his wife Katie reside on Herrington Manor Road with their twin daughters Pamela and Paula.

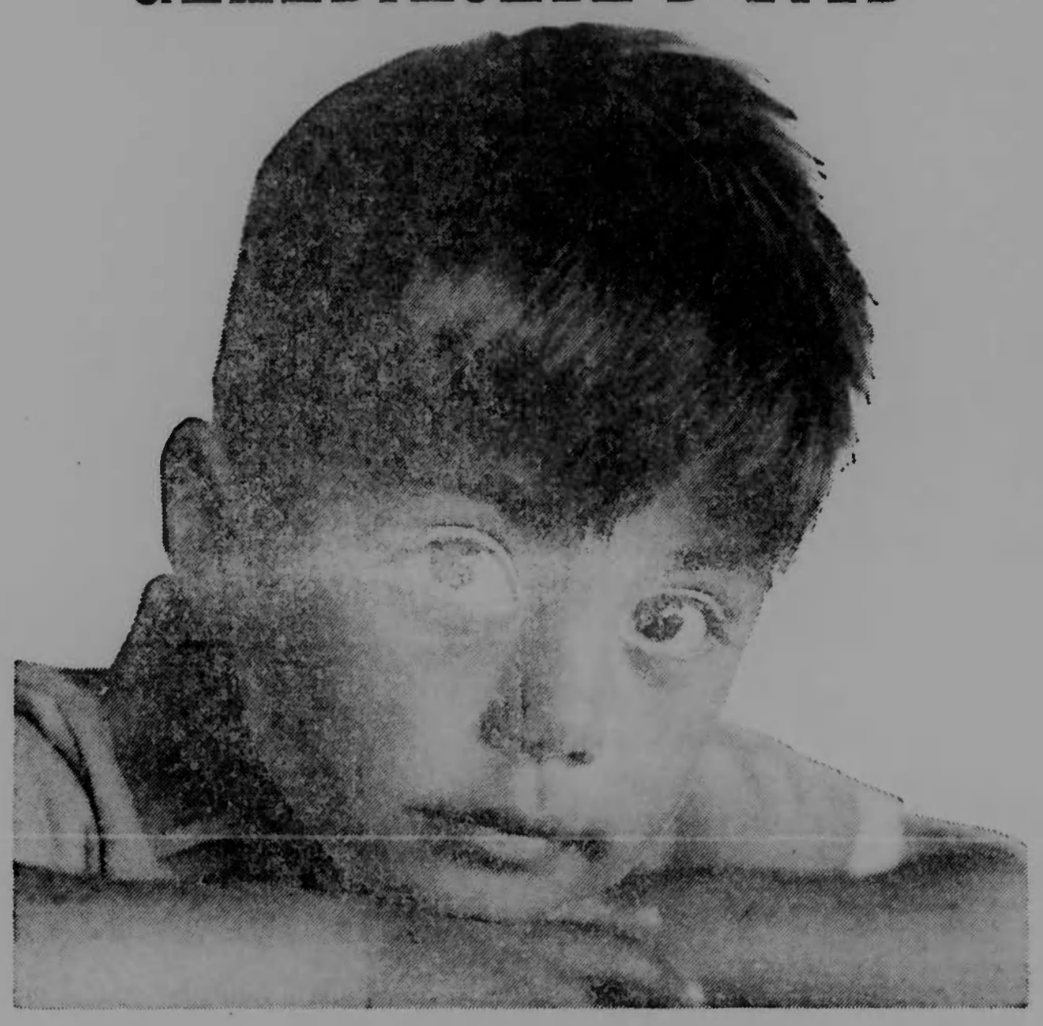
GRANDFATHER'S EYES



That's what Grandma always says — that I have Grandfather's eyes.

It's certainly a mixed-up world, isn't it? People having other people's eyes.

But they never say Grandfather has my eyes. I asked Dad about it.

Although he didn't answer directly, he did say that we all have to have faith and character worth passing on to our children. That's why we go to church.

Later it occurred to me: Someday, somebody will have my eyes . . . my faith.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

TIME TO CHANGE

Lesson for January 7, 1973

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 31; 32:36-41
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:3-11.

"I think the Lord just got my attention!"

These words suddenly came from a friend as he brooded over a stinging personal defeat. What he meant was, not that God had caused this defeat, but that in the midst of it he was beginning to hear what God had obviously been trying to say to him for some time. Humiliated and despondent, the message was starting to get through to him: there were going to have to be some substantial changes in his life.

Rev. Althouse

"I will forgive their iniquity . . ."

One thing that was now for the first time very clear to him was that his pride had become a sinful, destructive factor. "Riding high," he had not been willing to see this, but now, his pride wounded, he realized that it had been a subtle but destructive force in his life. "Strange," he mused, "how blind I've been to it."

This is the way it had been for the people of Judah. Jeremiah the prophet had tried to make them see their need for repentance and change, but they had stubbornly refused to heed his warnings. Now, captives in Chaldea, God's message at least was beginning to get through to them. And the man who most correctly forecast their tragedy, now was bringing them a new message of hope: ". . . I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more" (31:34).

Sometimes we have to go through bitter experience before we begin to hear the message God has been sending to us: "Time to change!" "Time to change!"

"Upon their hearts . . ."

Jeremiah spoke of a "new covenant" which God would make with the people. Actually, this "new covenant" would be a new relationship between God and His people. The old relationship ("covenant") had rested upon laws written on scrolls. Intended to guide the people in spiritual growth, these written laws were often broken, ignored, or twisted into insignificance. What God proposed now, said the prophet, was a new relationship based, not on written laws, but a new spirit within their own hearts.

This promise of a new covenant relationship also speaks to our needs today, too. Like the people of Judah, we tend to drift into a works-oriented, hand type of religion. We depend too much upon outward —appearances of religion, rituals, customs, church —and miss that most important spiritual reality: the experiences within. Thus, it is for us, too, that Jeremiah gives the promise: "And no longer shall each man teach his neighbor and each his brother saying, 'Know the Lord' for they shall all know me . . ." (31:34).

Perhaps God is trying to get your attention, to tell you that it's time to change.

A COLD ACCORDING TO CHARLES DICKENS

"I am deaf in the ears, hoarse in the throat, red in the nose, green in the gills, damp in the eyes, twitchy in the joints and fractious in temper from a most intolerant and oppresive cold." That is how the 19th century novelist Charles Dickens described a cold.

Millions of people each year experience one or more of these distressing symptoms and the simple common cold is still one of our worst enemies. However, to fight back we have regularly in stock a great variety of products that can combat the symptoms Dickens so aptly describes.

Buy any new Volkswagen and we'll give you free service for 12 months/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work.

But our service plan does.

With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned, and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.

Lube jobs are free.

Spark plugs are free.

Points, condensers, wiper blades, fuses, hoses, even light bulbs are free.

We'll look for trouble, too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.

Actually for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because except for gas, tires and collision damage, your problems are our problems.

Now, what do we expect from you?

You have to buy a new Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Campmobile, or Type 4 from us.

You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagens maintenance schedule.

And you can't modify, abuse or lose it.

That's it.

Except for one last detail.

We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us. Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks--

I am doing a report in the "energy crisis' in the United States and wonder if you have any information on this subject?

A new forecast of U. S. energy supply and consumption up to the year 2000 has been published by the Department of Interior. The booklet highlights energy sources and consumption and includes a special chapter on "Synthetic Gas." Copies of 'United States Energy Through the Year 2000" are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

I understand that Congress has shortened the 6-month waiting period for Social Security disability payments. Please explain?

Due to recent changes in the social security law the waiting period for disability benefits has been shortened by one month. As of now, the first check will be payable after the end of the 6th month of disability and not the 7th month.

Where can I obtain a list of the area that will be required to have flood insurance?

Flood insurance will be required on FHA-insured mortgages in special flood hazard areas designated by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Information on areas can be obtained from the Federal Insurance Administration, Housing and Urban Development Department, Washington, D. C. 20410.

I thought government-controlled rent increases for the elderly were illegal if they took advantage of the recent 20 percent increase in Social Security benefits?

According to the Cost of Living Council some rent increases are permissible. For example, some Social Security recipients are subject to HUD regulations requiring rents to be adjusted with changes in income. In no case, however, will Social Security recipients have to pay a higher percentage of their income for rent than the percentage they had been paying before the Social Security benefits increased on October 3. Citizens with questions on such rent increases should contact their local IRS office which is conducting a "rent watch" program on their behalf.

Where can I obtain tickets for the Inaugural Parade?

The Inaugural Parade will begin at 1:15 p. m. on Saturday, January 20, commencing on Capitol Hill and proceeding down Pennsylvania Avenue. General Seats are on sale for $5 and up ($2 for children 12 and under) on a first-come, first-served basis. Ticket information may be obtained by writing the Inaugural Committee, Second and T Streets, S.W., Washington, D. C. 20315.

Alcohol Abuse—II

Government involvement in the problem of alcohol abuse is not new. As early as the reign of King Edgar, English taverns were required to serve drinks in pegged cups that measured the quantity a customer consumed. When a thirsty Englishman finished one portion of his brew, he was taxed one penny before he could go on to the next section of the cup.

Today's programs to curb the abuse of alcohol are, fortunately, more sophisticated and, unfortunately since the problem has grown to critical proportions, more expensive. The federal government has not stood idly by while alcoholism extracts its dreadful price—in both human and economic terms--from our nation. In response to this crisis, President Nixon, increased the Department of Transportation's auto accident and alcohol program expenditures more than four-fold in a one year period—from $8 million in fiscal year 1971 to $35 million in fiscal year 1972.

Everything I've heard so far strongly suggests that the the President's initiative and the Department of Transportation's now invigorated Alcohol Safety Countermeasures Programs are paying off. We need look no further than the Greater Baltimore Area Alcohol Safety Action Project for an example of how state and local agencies, including health workers and law enforcement officers can all work in concert to develop joint local safety and health programs that reduce the prevalence of both alcoholism and traffic fatalities.

Project Director Bill Terwilliger and Colonel William Harris of the Baltimore City Police Department's Traffic Division have collaborated well together to insure that those who come into professional contact with the drinking driver will keep their attention focused on the need to identify, re-educate, treat and rehabilitate this person rather than pursue the once traditional interest in fining or incarcerating him, or just giving him the "good-old-kick-in-the-pants" treatment.

Certainly this therapeutic rather than punitive approach to the problem of drinking which is being pursued in the greater Baltimore area would not have been possible without the high priority attention and support of our health care and criminal justice systems.

I'm proud of this program, but I think too that our state can take pride in itself. Maryland back in 1968, was one of the first states in the Union to enact a statute which repealed the public intoxication offense and established instead a comprehensive new system, under civil law, for detoxification, inpatient and outpatient treatment for intoxicated persons and alcoholics. This is a far cry from where we were in this country during the previous 350 years when public intoxication was handled exclusively under the criminal law. In this respect, the Maryland statute serves as a model for the rest of the Nation.

There is no reason why our Alcoholic Safety Action Project can't also become a national example of the effectiveness of locally planned and developed programs that are designed and carried out with the twin goals of curbing the drinking driver and saving lives.

Annular Eclipse

Today at 11:00 a. m. the moon will pass between the sun and the earth. Sunlight will be visible as a bright ring or annulus around the dark moon. This is because the moon has just begun to move closer to the earth from its apogee (see last week's column) and is not yet close enough to the earth to appear the same size as the sun. An eclipse of this type is called an annular eclipse of the sun. Today's eclipse is visible in the South Pacific and the southern part of South America.

Lunar Phase

The moon passes through its New Moon phase at 11:00 a. m. today. A waxing moon will be visible this week. Moonset will range from 5:15 p. m. today to 11:41 p. m. next Wednesday.

Visible Planets

Venus, Mars and Saturn are the most easily observed planets this week. Saturn may be found among the stars of Taurus in the east at sunset. Mars is very faint, rising about three hours before the sun. It is among the stars of Libra. Venus rises closer to sunrise now and is still very bright for about an hour before the sun appears.

Conjunction

Wednesday at 4:00 a. m. Jupiter will be exactly opposite the earth on the other side of the sun. This is called a conjuction of Jupiter and the sun.

Daylength

Wednesday will have seven minutes more daylight than there will be today. The sun rises at 7:39 a. m. and will set nine hours twenty-eight minutes later at 5:07 p. m. today. Wednesday sunrise is at 7:38 a. m. Sunset will be at 5:13 p. m.

NO. 6263 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY,
STATE OF MARYLAND.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, that on the 18th day of December, 1972, a Bill to Quiet Title to Land, was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the Plaintiff against the Defendants who are dead and unknown heirs, Personal Representatives, Devisees and assigns.

The Bill alleges in substance that Virginia P. Deacon, Widow, is the owner of property in Garrett County, Maryland, obtained from the Estate of E. Ruth Rudisell, Deceased, and that E. Ruth Rudisell, from mesne deeds and conveyances and by inheritance became the owner of such property from Katie B. Rudisell and Lewis A. Rudisell, her husband, who had given a Mortgage to Daniel E. Offutt, Arthur Townshend, Levi Hewitt and P. T. Garthright, dated November 2, 1910, for approximately $1,467.65, which Mortgage has not been released upon the Lien Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and creates a cloud on the title of said property.

The relief prayed for in the Bill is substantially as follows: That the Court pass a Decree declaring the said Virginia P. Deacon, has absolute ownership of the said property, free and clear of any cloud or lien of said Mortgage and enjoining the Defendants from asserting by virtue of said Mortgage any such claim by any action at law or otherwise.

WHEREUPON IT IS ORDERED BY THE CIRCUIT COURT for Garrett County, Maryland, this 18th day of December, 1972, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 12th day of January, 1973, giving notice to the said Defendants, their unknown heirs, personal representatives, devisees and assigns, of the object and substance of the Petition and Bill and warning them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 12th day of February, 1973, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 20th day of December, 1972, a Bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the Plaintiffs against the Defendant, William Frantz, whose address is unknown, and another defendant. The object of which is to procure that passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Cora Frantz, Nell Shaffer, Percy Frantz and Perry Frantz situate in the Town of Oakland, Maryland.

The bill states:

That by deed dated July 2, 1937, Mary E. Frantz, widow, conveyed to Cora Frantz, Nell Shaffer, Percy Frantz and Perry Frantz, as tenants in common, Lot No. 103 as shown on the Plat of Wilsons First Addition to the Town of Oakland, together with all of the grantors household furniture and fixtures, contained in the dwelling on the aforesaid Lot No. 103; that Cora Frantz died intestate without issue leaving all the parties to this suit as her heirs to whom her interest descended; that Nell Shaffer died intestate survived by her daughter Betty Shobe to whom her interest descended; that Percy Frantz died testate and his interest was devised to Betty Jane Shobe; that Perry Frantz died intestate survived by Joseph Frantz and Frank Frantz, to whom his interest descended; that Cora Frantz, Nell Shaffer, Percy Frantz and Perry Frantz departed this life possessed of the aforesaid real estate and household furniture and fixtures; that all the parties to this suit are of full age; that all of the aforesaid heirs and devisees are herein set forth as either plaintiffs or defendants; that the said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind amongst those entitled to interests therein without material loss and injury, and that it would be for the best interest of all the parties hereto that the real estate be sold and the proceeds divided amongst them according to their several interests.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of the said real estate and for general relief.

The Advantages of Using Southern States
PRO-MO
LIQUID PROTEIN SUPPLEMENT

Saves Money . . . Saves Muscle
★ Southern States PRO-MO Liquid Protein Supplement
Southern States PRO-MO is a liquid feed supplement providing 32% protein. It multiplies the value of home-grown grains and forages in aiding beef cattle, sheep and dairy cattle to produce meat, milk and wool more efficiently. In addition to protein, PRO-MO supplies vitamins, minerals and energy.
★ Reduces Work, Waste
PRO-MO is pumped directly from delivery truck to feeder. Or you can spray it right onto forages or grains. Animals self-feed. No spillage or spoilage. No bags to lift or haul. No grinding, mixing or blending. Self-feeders are simple and relatively low in cost.
★ Protein Plus Palatability
The primary function of any feed supplement is to supply nutrients which farmers themselves do not produce in adequate amounts. The principal one is protein PRO-MO supplies 32% protein, principally from liquid urea. This protein, along with the other nutrients in PRO-MO, is digested and assimilated efficiently. Molasses is used as the carrier. It represents the safest vehicle for feeding urea and overcomes the sometimes objectionable lack of palatability in high-urea feeds.
★ Bonus Nutrient Values
PRO-MO supplies a minimum of 1.5% phosphorus, more than most supplements supply. In addition to helping combat milk fever and keeping production high in dairy cows, PRO-MO's source of phosphorus, phosphoric acid, promotes free flow in cold weather and reduces insect attraction in summer.
Unlike most liquid feeds, PRO-MO contains enough Vitamin A, D and E to meet highest daily recommendations for livestock—20,000 units of Vitamin A, 20,000 units of Vitamin D and 20 units of Vitamin E. Vitamin A stability is retained for at least 3 months.
PRO-MO contains trace minerals but free choice feeding of salt and Livestock Mineral Supplement is recommended.
★ Balances Protein
PRO-MO balances the low protein intake associated with the feeding of corn silage and low quality hay. Research studies have shown that urea feeding improves the digestibility of forages. This means more nutrients are available from each pound of forage fed.
★ Ingredients Locked In
Each ingredient in PRO-MO is completely dissolved and blended together by an exclusive patented process that insures stability and prevents separation. Years of research, both in laboratories and on farms, were required to develop the formula and the blending process. PRO-MO has been profit-tested on the farms of countless beef, sheep and dairy farmers in many states.

The tunnel will be used to control release of water from the dam when it is put into use five years from now

Low bidder was the L. G. DeFelice company, North Haven, Conn., with a figure of $6,206,827

Sales Tax Now 25 Years Old

The Maryland Retail Sales Tax Division has now completed 25 years of service to the State. Established by emergency legislation during the administration of William Lane in 1947, the Retail Sales Tax Division is now the State's second largest revenue producing agency.

Following WW II, Maryland, like her sister states, was confronted with an urgent need for additional revenues to quickly implement programs and fund construction required to meet the needs of rapid growth

Maryland enacted its sales tax in 1947 at a time when few states had come to depend on this form of revenue gathering. Sales taxes were at that time unpopular with the general public. Today, 45 states rely heavily upon sales taxes as sources of revenue.

Maryland Sale Taxes in 1947 were estimated to produce $18,000,000. Collections for the eleven months of operations during the first fiscal year ended June 30, 1948 exceeded $20,000,000. Collections for the very last month totaled $1,000,000.

The largest monthly collection during the 25 year history of the Maryland Retail Sales Tax was $25,000,000 for the month of January 1972. This figure reflects the heavy volume of sales during Christmas 1971. Total collections for the entire 25 year period amounted to $2,353,000,000.

Most Wanted Men . . .

The United Press association provided us with a list of the ten most wanted men.

The man who tries to be the right example to every child rather than talk about it.

The man who has a passion to help rather than a passion to be helped.

The man who is willing to say, "I was wrong, I'm sorry."

The man who will look at temptation squarely and say "No."

The man who puts God's business above any other.

The man who throws himself totally into a project then gives the credit for its sueeess to his helpers.

The man who has a ready smile and a pat on the back for others.

The man who brings his children to church rather than sending them.

The man who can see his own faults before he sees the faults of others.

The man who gives his money, time and talent without thought of return.

The article suggested a person could be all ten. Why not?

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call to a fire in the residence of Itoy Elliott in Hutton at 11 o'clock last night.

The fire was out when the two fire trucks arrived.

Damage only in the basement was minor, being mostly smoke. The apparent cause was gasoline spillage near the furnace.

State Retail Sales Reflect Increases

Total revenue of $292,990,134 from retail sales and use tax was collected during fiscal year ending June 30, 1972, and compared to collections of the previous year there was an increase of $28,888,528, or 10.94 percent.

These figures were released in a report of Louis L. Goldstein, comptroller of the treasury for Maryland, concerning the retail sales tax division.

The figures concerning Garrett county are given below.

Under admissions tax unit there was $4,136,005 available for distribution to subdivisions including incorporated towns. Garrett county received $12 285 of this amount.

Efforts are already underway to try to meet the quota. Emile Germain has agreed to use his school bus to help transport a number of Amish citizens recruited by Claude Swartzentruber. VanMeter's Ambulance Service is donating the use of an ambulance in case of emergency.

Blood use locally in November consumed 22 pints, while nine pints were used in December.

The lowest temperature during the week was 5 degrees Tuesday, although there were some unofficial readings of a degree or two below zero reported. The highest reading was last Thursday with 50 degrees. The only other above-freezing reading, day or night, was 41 degrees last Friday. The air was mostly calm to light breezes except some moderate breezes Saturday.

Power Companies Withdraw Request For Electric Cut

The request for a cutback in the use of electricity was withdrawn by the electric power companies after being in effect Monday and Tuesday.

The companies had issued an appeal to customers to reduce non-essential usage of power.

The request was the result of a heavy demand for electricity in sub-freezing weather, coupled with the loss of generating equipment at the Fort Martin power station of the Monongahela Power company, north of Morgantown.

The loss of power at the plant was remedied which preceded the withdrawal of the request.

The reduction in voltage had no detrimental effect on appliances, lighting and motors.

Preston Countian Marries In Jail

A Preston county, W. Va., man who had escaped from the maximum-security penitentiary at Moundsville on New Year's day, had two unusual experiences last Thursday. The first occurred when he was recaptured by Maryland authorities and the second was his marriage which took place in the county jail in Oakland.

John Koton, 24, who was serving a one to ten year sentence for grand larceny, married Jacqueline Lee Snook, 23, also of Kingwood, in the jail where he was taken after his apprehension by Cpl. D. A. Tucker of the Maryland State Police and Deputy Sheriff David Livengood.

Koton had walked away from the Moundsville prison Monday morning while on a work assignment at the prison garage and was taken into custody on a tip received by authorities that he was at the home of a relative in point by Cpl. Tucker and Dep. Crellin. He was taken at gunuty Livengood.

Koton reportedly had told sheriff's deputies at Oakland that he had escaped in order to get married, since he did not believe that he could get married in prison.

Deputy Robert Finch served as best man at the wedding which was requested by Koton as soon as he was apprehended. Koton had applied for the license on Tuesday, January 2, and picked up the license last Thursday afternoon.

Koton was being held at Oakland pending a move by West Virginia prison officials. He is fighting extradition to that state.

Sheriff Jack Browning indicated that Koton had also been picked up in this county last year after escaping from the same prison.

Destroys Jail Property

Sheriff Browning said that Koton and another inmate had apparently broken a piece of steel from a bunk and managed to break a lock off the control panel in a possible escape attempt Saturday. He said they may be charged with malicious destruction of property.

Police Lock On To Bomb Threat Call

Telephone tracing equipment led county and state police to a residence on Water Street in Oakland in response to a bomb threat phoned to the sheriff's office Monday morning. Investigation, however, has failed to identify the caller and the bomb scare proved to be a hoax.

Sheriff Jack Browning said a caller with a female voice advised his office that a bomb was planted in either Southern High School or Dennett Road School and was received at 7:52 Tuesday morning. Locking devices on the telephone enabled police to determine where the call had been placed, but upon arrival at the residence no one was at home.

Persons living at the address have been cleared. Sheriff Browning said, but other suspects are being investigated. The door to the residence was unlocked at the time.

Appeal Board Hears Testimony On Condominium

Some eighty-five persons gathered Tuesday evening at a public hearing to hear testimony and exhibits on the granting of a permit to construct a one hundred fifty town house condominium in the Turkey Neck section of Deep Creek Lake.

Marshall Rickert, planning director for Garrett county, had granted a permit last October for the construction of the unit. Some citizens' groups made a formal protest and the meeting was arranged before the Deep Creek Lake District Zoning Appeals board.

On the board are Ed DeWitt, McHenry; Aza Stanton, Oakland, and Mrs. Elizabeth Friend, of the Patterson Boat company. Jack Turney is legal counsel for the board.

The condominium was planned to be built in the base of the turkey neck section near the Steiding church road.

Several citizen groups presented testimony and exhibits, while some also testified in favor of the construction.

The board deferred decision on the appeal and indicated there would be a ruling within a month.

REAP Program Is Terminated

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has terminated cost share funding of the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP), it was announced by J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee. Mr. Margroff said that the reason given for termination of the program was that REAP was selected after a review of Federal Programs to identify those of low priority that could be reduced or eliminated without serious economic consequences. The review was initiated as a part of the effort to hold 1973 Federal budget outlays to $250 billion.

Other reasons given by USDA Officials for the termination were that, for the nation, realized net farm income in 1972 will reach an all time high of nearly $19 billion. In view of this, and because of the general acceptance and profitability of certain practices, it is believed farmers will continue to implement a significant number of them without supplemental income from the Federal government.

ASCS will honor commitments made under the REAP Program through December 22, 1972. No requests by producers for cost sharing under the program will be approved after that date.

Wool Program Reminder Given

Applications for price support incentive payments on shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold in 1972 should be made by January 31, 1973, J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee, reminded growers today.

Applications should be filed at the ASCS Office on U. S. Route 219 North of Oakland. Growers must submit original bills of sale or carbon copies bearing the original signature of the buyer or sales representative. Sales of both wool and unshorn lambs may be included in a single application.

The Chairman urged all growers to file applications. The incentive price for 1972 was set at 72 cents per pound of shorn wool. Payments for both shorn wool and unshorn lambs are based upon the national average price received for shorn wool, and are made to all growers, whenever the national average price for wool is less than the incentive price.

Mr. Margroff said it is expected that checks will be mailed to growers in April.

County Receives Second Revenue Sharing Amount

Check Comes To County Commissioners In Amount Of $230,431.00

The County Commissioners and eight incorporated towns have received the second Federal Revenue Sharing check this week, this time, in the amount of 0230,431. The check received in December amounted to $279,213. This makes a total of $509.544.

The first check covered the period January to June, 1972. The second payment was for the balance of the year

Payments were based on fiscal year 1971 tax data and revenue sharing payments are based on a formula which considers total tax effort, population and per capita income in determining each revenue sharing allotment.

Commissioners stated that specific guidelines have not as yet been received and therefore no absolute plans as to the utilization of the money have been undertaken.

Contrary to what is sometimes thought, Wayne Hamilton, commission chairman, said using monies to reduce taxes would be a very unwise move as it would jeopardize the forthcoming amounts which are based upon the tax-effort of the county. Many of the negected needs of the county will be given great consideration, he said.

There are eight categories where this money may be used but thus far nothing has been definitely decided, he said.

Colonel O'Keefe and George Comp of the Civil Defense agency discussed proposed plans for the installation of a central communications system for Garrett county, with the commissioners. The system would include tie-ins of the state police, sheriff's department, ambulance service, health department, hospital, etc. From 50 to 85 percent of the project can be funded by the federal government, it was pointed out.

Mr. Gizesh, a local architect, discussed existing needs for future office space and possible sites for an office building. Hamilton said both pros and cons were related as to the most feasible direction in which to move.

Paul DeWitt, county roads administrative engineer, reported on the progress of the merit system. He said much work was involved but it was progressing well. Members of the merit system committee are Robert Diehl, Calvin Rinker and Earl Foster.

The commissioners plan to attend a two-day seminar on budgeting in Frederick January 18 and 19. Two of the major departments of utmost concern are the Department of Social Services and the Board of Education, Hamilton said.

The commissioners ordered the renewal of plumbing facilities in the basement to improve the cold water supply to various parts of the building.

Assembly Receives Redistricting Plan

Gov. Marvin Mandel's legislative redistricting plan came into the General Assembly Wednesday with no real surprises and with every indication it would be approved with a minimum of change.

Republicans appeared unhappy with some of the district lines. The plan would automatically become law unless the General Assembly enacts its own plan by the 45th day of the session.

Legislators Hear School Bus Problem

The County Board of Education discussed with legislators a problem on school bus transportation for students who live less than one mile from school and who are ineligible for busing, part of a meeting last Thursday. State Senator William A. Wilson and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden met with the board.

William Watson, supervisor of school bus transportation for the board, outlined the situation. He cited the exceptional conditions in the county which included no form of public transportation and no sidewalks along U. S. routes 40, 50 and 219 and state routes 135, 38 and 39 which are less than a mile from schools.

Snow plowed high along roadways and extremely cold temperatures posed a hardship for the children. He also said hazards are created by extra cars transporting students to and from schools.

The board pointed out that in view of the state policy on school bus transportation the problem should be handled on a local basis.

Mr. Watson submitted a breakdown to the Tri-Legislators showing what it would cost to transport [illegible] school [illegible] nearest to the county [illegible] for this service would be [illegible] 8,502 school children. They await the arrival of buses could cost $8 500 according to Mr. Watson.

NO FAULT INSURANCE
THE NEW LAW FOR MARYLAND MOTORISTS
New legislation effective January 1st contains four requirements which all auto owners should know about.
1. Auto Liability Insurance is now compulsory.
2. The Assigned Risk Plan is terminated except for the duration of unexpired policies.
3. The State will provide auto insurance for those people who are refused policies by regular companies. State insurance may be bought and serviced through most agencies including ours.
4. The no fault concept is derived from Personal Injury Protection, a coverage (requiring an additional premium) designed by legislative act to pay up to $2500 in medical and lost earnings benefits to each claimant suffering bodily injury caused by an automobile accident. Such payments shall be made under the policy insuring the automobile in which the injury occurs, whether or not another automobile is involved and is at fault.
For assistance in complying with the new law - or for any other insurance problem - give us a call. We would be glad to be of service.

Legislation Sought By Local Groups

Officials of the Head Start program for children and the Farmers' Wild Life association of Asher Glade, Friendsville, have asked State Senator William A Wilson to consider legislation in connection with their respective operations.

Kay Eichhorn, president of the Policy Council, and Nancy L. Fazenbaker, secretary, of Head Start, wrote the senator about a problem confronting children because buses which haul them are not permitted to use "school bus" lettering or flashing red lights because of Section 15-109 Article 66½ of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

The problem deals with buses parking along side a road while loading and unloading.

The Wild Life association wrote concerning complaints of members about "spotlighting" of game. Many persons, Burton W. Lytle, secretary, wrote, are not intending to shoot deer but only looking at them. Nevertheless they are still aggravating to residents and farmers of the area.

The association met with the Department of Natural Resources and was told other areas were having the same problem but present laws do not allow restricting of spotlighting.

Legislation was asked to make it unlawful for occupants of any vehicle to "cast a light on any woods, fields, orchards, livestock, wild animals, wild birds, dwellings, or buildings, or for any other reason."

19 Are Killed On State Highways

Nineteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly news release published by Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Seven of the persons killed were drivers, eight were passengers and four were pedestrians. At least five of the deaths could have been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in ten of the deaths, speed in twelve and "driver error" in 17.

The most serious of the accidents last week occurred when one vehicle being operated at a high rate of speed failed to stop for a stop sign and struck a second vehicle on the left side. Five persons were killed including a six-month old baby. Alcohol and speed were determined as the probable cause of the accident by the investigating officers.

At 25 miles per hour, the chances of death in a traffic crash are one in 167; at 35, one in 111; at 45, one in 67; at 55, one in 40; at 65, one in 29; at 75 one in eight and at above 80, almost certain.

Miller Life Term Is Slated Today

Cary Miller, now 22, will return to the Allegany County Circuit Court this afternoon where more than five years ago he was sentenced to be executed for the murder of a 20-year old Pocahontas, Pa. woman near Eckhart.

He will be resentenced by Associate Judges Harold E. Naughton and James S. Getty, to life imprisonment.

The girl was Judy Lee Ziegler whose body was found on an old dump near Eckhart. She had been struck with a blunt instrument.

Miller was to have been executed the week of January 1 1968.

U. S. Mail Probe Is Being Sought

Heaps of unprocessed mail line up in the basement of the post office in Charleston, W. Va., is resulting in a congressional investigation of the U. S. Postal Service by Democratic Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia.

The congressman said the discovery of 3,475 bags of undelivered mail was "an incredible example of inefficiency, due to the nationwide policies of the U. S. Postal Service."

Randolph, ranking majority member of the Post Office and Civil Service committee, has asked permission to conduct Senate hearings on the problems of the service.

Randolph said the department had "become a thoroughly inefficient operation with much bureaucratic red tape, brough: on in part by transient specialists who are unfamiliar with area problems and people."

Northern Matmen Lose To Keyser

Recording three pins and four decisions, Keyser High School's wrestling team built up a big lead halfway through the evening and then held on for a 31-23 triumph over Northern High on the Golden Tornado mats.

Coach Jim Thompson's Keyser charges held a comfortable margin after Riffle pinned Bill Bowser in the 145-pound class when the Huskies came storming back with pins in the next three matches. Julius Carey, Lee Sutherland and Don Richter turned the trick fir Northern but Bob Stephen saved the night for the Tornado by decisioning Steve Wiley in the unlimited encounter.

Terry Wigfield, Mike Stickley and Rocky Riffle got pins for Keyser, flattening Paul Packet, Blake Brenneman and Bill Bowser respectively. Besides Stephen scoring decisions for Keyser were Dale Litten, Jim Browning and Joe Winebrenner.

Gary Reckner and John Platter had scored decisions for Northern in consecutive matches earlier, with Carey, Sutherland and Richter providing the other scores late in the match.

This gave a 2-3 record for Northern while Keyser had a 2-2 account for the season.

General Assembly Opens Yesterday

The Maryland General Assembly convened Wednesday for a 90 day session in which money and fiscal questions loom as the dominant force.

Matters of finances range from a balanced state budget to the pockets of home owners growing restive about increases in property assessments and taxes.

Other issues include a resumption of executions, more state control over local land use decisions and the granting of adulthood status to 18 year olds.

The busing of school children to achieve racial balance is expected to produce debate.

No coal mine deaths were reported in Logan Co. W. Va. in 1972.

Long-Minded Man

Andrew Jackson was a colorful man, flamboyant and simple by turns in taste and temperament. He has been called by a Southern Highlander "a long-minded man" because he had lofty visions of the best qualities in life and did his best to uphold them. He had what we call strength of character.

Charles Merrick Nevil, an eminent geologist from Cornell, speaks of rocks and the earth's crust when he says, "Strength is not a constant. It is a variable depending upon confining pressure, temperature, distorting force, presence of solutions, and duration of time." He further elaborates, "Strength differs from rigidity in that it represents not the instantaneous, but the enduring resistance to deformation." In geology, strength over long or short periods may actually have a different shade in meaning.

In just the same way, then, do we see strength in persons. The quality may not be a quick manifestation, but rather a process involving several instances. Most of us know farmers who continue to try when the rains day after day seem so much of an obstacle; their endurance gains them the victory of some good type of crop to offset the poor one. Strength is a quality of some tranquillity; the strong, silent man or woman is present in nearly every community. Each of these people seems to endure, as the neighbor told Scarlett O'Hara, "You don't make a fuss about things that can't be helped even if they are disagreeable. You take your fences keenly like a good hunter."

One Iowa story told of the townsman who seldom spoke rancorously or had too much merriment in his eyes. Only after death did his sister discover that the stolid human had preserved a packet of love letters which had been returned by an unknown woman. Of his deep hurt over her abandonment he had never divulged one tiny complaint, carrying on in his place in the town and refusing to speak of it.

We cannot be sure of our strength until we must withstand a disappointment by rearranging our plans or even lives. One young woman told of wanting to be a nurse, but meeting strong parental disapproval by becoming an x-ray technician instead. And how many young women have ever guessed that they would be left in widowhood with a family to care for? Nevertheless, they gather their skirts and roll their sleeves to support children with their work and fortitude.

Dag Hammarsjold exemplifies modern strength, for though no soldier bearing arms, he fearlessly strode into the verbal battle of nations which was necessary for any type of negotiation in our present world, serving as a bulwark and example for the emissaries of these nations to consider humanity as the final worthwhile thing to be cared for. He did not sit in the United Nations and send important messengers to make agreements or find answers at a conference table. Instead, he went with calm to face the arbiters himself, and so lost his life, proving again what Goethe once asserted, "Character is best formed in the stormy billows of the world."

It is too often that we look for strength in the mighty, the famous, or the long ago. Everyone knows how much strength is possessed by the child who does not cheat, by the woman who holds a quiet faith when buffeted by ill health, by the official who will be angry by the offer of a bribe. True, the invaders of our Appalachian Highland had to cover each hurdle and survive, but today we have reflections of dauntlessness in the people who fail in business to start again, endure the live and rebuild, suffer a death loss and raise their chins. They are like the rocks which may be distorted, but not totally displaced, long-minded men. —Tamarack

JOINING THE MARCH—Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) was wearing a lapel button for a cause that everyone can support when he recently greeted Paula Pfeifer, the 1973 March of Dimes Poster Child from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Paula, who is 5 years old, represents the nearly 250,000 children who are born with birth defects each year in the United States. The national March of Dimes campaign, which takes place in January, supports medical research and other programs directed at overcoming the nation's most serious child health problem.

Byron Discusses Problems

Rep. Goodloe E. Byron spent some time in Cumberland and in Oakland last Friday discussing various problems and projects in Allegany and Garrett Counties with the respective County Commissioners.

One problem discussed with the Garrett County Commissioners was the adverse effect of possible loss of Federal funds for sanitary projects in various parts for the county according to Commissioner Wayne Hamilton. Areas currently affected would be Friendsville and Accident. No Federal funds have yet been requested for such a project in the Deep Creek Lake area, Mr. Hamilton said.

One of the Allegany County problems discussed in Cumberland was that involving the Casselman River watershed in the northeast corner of Garrett County including four dams. One 80-feet-high dam would cover about 550 acres of Garrett County land.

The Soil Conservation Service office in College Park apparently lacks sufficient manpower to push the Garrett County projects for the watershed.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Broadwater of Grantsville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise Catherine Broadwater, to Kevin Lloyd Dunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dunton of Cumberland. Miss Broadwater is a senior at Northern High School and Mr. Dunton is a senior at Fort Hill High school. At present, no date has been set for the wedding.

Named to Church Council

Six persons were elected to the Lutheran church council at a congregational meeting Sunday evening. They included Clayton Winters, Sr., for a two-year term; Carlton Bowser, J. Stuart Cooper, Mrs. George Hanst, J. Haig Jackson, and Gerald Moyer, for three year terms. They will be installed at a church service on Jauary 15.

The congregation also decided on a building program which is scheduled to begin probably this spring. A new church edifice is to be constructed on the area now occupied by the Patish house, which is in the process of being dismantled.

Mathias Reports On Postal Service Survey

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.), who has been critical of the United States Postal Service, stated that his own survey of Maryland mail service resulted in both "good and bad news." "On balance," he said, "I am hopeful that the situation has begun to improve."

Senator Mathias said he will present the results of his test mailing to Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen when they tour the new Baltimore Post Office on Wednesday, January 10.

The Mathias survey monitored over 100 letters sent to and from various parts of Maryland, as well as letters sent between Maryland and Washington, D. C.

"If this survey is an accurate sampling," Senator Mathias said, "Marylanders have a better than even chance of two-day delivery, and a reasonable chance of delivery within five days. That is a far cry from the goal of 24 hour service nationwide, but it is better than the spotty record of the recent past."

National unemployment remained at 5.2 percent for December.

Two Injured In One-Car Mishap New Year's Day

Two persons were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an auto wreck late New Year's evening on Old 219 just south of U. S. Route 219. Six other accidents resulted in no apparent personal injuries but varying amounts of vehicle damage.

Richard L. Rodeheaver, 25, of Bloomington, a passenger in the car and Eddie E. Stolzenbach, 20 of Morgantown, W. Va., operator were treated and released from the hospital following an accident on old 219 a short distance south of U. S. Route 219 south of Oakland.

Stolzenbach was traveling south on old 219 and approached a sharp right turn. As he did, an unidentified vehicle was coming north on the wrong side of the road and struck the Stolzenbach car. The Stolzenbach car then ran off the left shoulder of the road, into a ditch, overturned and came to rest on its wheels headed north. The car was disabled. No charges were made by Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis.

Betty Lou Mapel, Farmington, W. Va. was traveling west on U. S. Route 40 near Pigs Ear Road east Saturday evening. A large dog ran onto the road in front of her car. She swerved to miss the dog, lost control of her car, skidded across the road and struck some guard rails. Trooper R. C. Georg made no charges.

Barry A. Rush, Burnsville, W. Va., was traveling on the Mutt-tingly Hill Road in the Keyser Ridge area last Wednesday afternoon. Rush was unable to negotiate a curve, ran off the road, skidded back to the left side of the road and overturned. Tpr. Georg charged him with operating at excessive speed. His car sustained disabling damage.

Flora J. Michaels, Swanton was traveling north on Sand Flat road just south of U. S. Route 219 at a speed too great for the icy road. Michaels crossed the center line of the road and collided with a car driven by David P. Miller, Oakland, traveling south. Both came to rest in the south lane. Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis is charged Flora Michaels with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Shirley E. Guthrie, RD 1, Oakland, was traveling north on the Crellin-Underwood road last Tuesday morning and had started to cross a one-way bridge at the south end of Crellin. Thomas E. Bowman, Oakland, going south, failed to notice the oncoming Guthrie car and the two hit headon. Some functional damage was sustained by each car. Bowman was charged on three counts, having no operators license, excessive speed and failing to properly display registration tags by Trooper G. D. Broadwater.

Paul D. King in a Willys Wagoneer was towing a farm tractor east on U. S. Route 40 about a mile west of U. S. Route 219 on New Year's evening. At this location, the lights of his vehicle went out. He attempted to turn into a driveway on the left side of the road, missed it and became stuck with the tractor still on the road. Robert C. Duan, Jr., Spencer, W. Va., driving east, did not see the tractor in time and hit it. Trooper Georg made no charges.

A tractor-trailer of the E. C. Grimm and Sons Lumber Co. of Terra Alta, W. Va., was parked on a lot just off State Route 135 near Chestnut Grove road last Wednesday afternoon. Apparently the air pressure leaked off the parking brakes and allowed the rig to drift onto Route 135. It went eastbound for about 300 yards, off the right side of the road, struck an embankment and turned over on its side. Disabling damage was sustained. Trooper Broadwater made no charges.

Get Your 1973 Checkup

Annual checkups are necessary for women after reaching puberty.

Checkups for men and children under 30 are adequate at lesser intervals, but those should increase to annual exams for healthy men at 50.

When you notice any changes in your well-being . . . you should not wait until the next time your physical checkup is due.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

By Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, Pastor, St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

"A Plate of Tea"

In the frontier days of America the settlers usually ate plain food. Living on the edge of civilization, they could not often go to the stores to make purchases. Since most of them had little money, they could not buy many things even when they could go to the towns. Their meals were made up of the game they could capture and the things they could grow.

An Englishman was accustomed to his daily cup of tea. Since few of the places where he visited on the American frontier had tea, he carried a supply in his saddle-bag.

On one occasion the Englishman gave his supply of tea to the hostess where he was visiting. Later, she returned with a plate upon which was a damp brown mass. When asked what this was, she said that she had cooked the tea he had given her, poured off the water she had cooked it in, and there on the plate was his tea.

To his amazement and sorrow, the Englishman learned that she had thus used up his entire supply of tea. It would be many weeks before he could get any more.

This incident is a parable of many experiences that each of us has. The hostess was trying to be helpful but her lack of understanding caused her to fail.

There have been times you have tried to be helpful but the results did not turn out as you had hoped they would. There have been times when a lack of understanding has caused unhappy results.

When such things happen one tends to become discouraged. He thinks, "Why should I try when trying does not result in what I thing it should?" But, in his better moments he realizes that inaction is not the answer. He sees he has to do the best he can even if he is thus subject to misunderstanding or failure.

Resolve today to: 1. Try to understand the needs of persons with whom you come into contact; 2. Use your best efforts to help those whom you can help, 3. Keep from being discouraged when your motives or actions are misunderstood; 4. Determine to work to bridge gaps that misunderstanding have caused.

State Police End Reporting Course

Maryland State Police at the LaVale Barracks have completed a series of four-hour classes, required of all troopers, designed to familiarize each man with the new Maryland Automated Accident Report system.

The system, isvolving considerably more detail than was required in the past, went into effect January 1 throughout the state.

Locally, Cpl. H. W. Graham and Tfc. T. G. Lindner were instructors for the class series. They had spent several days in Pikesville and Frederick for instructor training.

According to State Police, the new system, designed for computer use, has taken more than two years to develop, and will initially add 30 to 40 minutes of preparation time onto time already required to prepare on-the-scene accident reports.

Maryland is the first state to initiate the automated system.

Alumni, Seniors, Professionals Attend Annual Career Brunch

Attending the annual Senior Brunch held on December 22 were about 50 guests and over 100 Seniors. On arrival all the guests were invited to the cafeteria for an informal brunch. The buffet was prepared and served by the senior home economics classes.

Following the social hour the seniors were divided into groups according to their interests, these being, four-year colleges, two-year colleges, employment after high school, military service, business training, and vocational-technical training.

Consultant for two-year colleges was Professor George Dailey from the local community college; employment after high school advisors were Robert Browning and Charles Briner. Representing the armed forces were Sergeant Randall from the Army, Sergeant Lasiter from the Air Force, and Captain Lovell from the ROTC unit at Potomac State College.

Mr Catherman, Dean of Catherman's Business School and Dr. Jan Janssen, Dean of Students at Garrett Community College, talked to the business students. The four-year college group had no adult moderators, but many college students were there to talk about college life. Raymond Alexander, Career Counselor at Garret College, spoke with the vocational-technical group.

Mrs. Joyce Tennant was responsible for the food preparation. Mrs Jean Wolfe, senior advisor, James Bittinger, Ben Fiorne, and Miss Anna Bishop of the guidance department planned the event.

Student moderaters were, Joanne Cosby, Mike DeWitt, Ron Skipper, Norma Fitzwater, Junior Uphold, Shirley Rentschler, Kris Maffett, and John Filsinger.

Special guests for the event were Dr. William H. Buser, Superintendent of Schools, Albert R. Ringer, Lewis A. Domenick, Ernest C. Spoerlein, Richard Travis, and William Watson from the county Board of Education office. Principal, Robert F. Rodeheaver and several teachers also attended.

Sammy Hall Singers To Visit Southern January 16

The Sammy Hall Singers will present a concert on January 16 during school time at the Southern gymnasium.

The talented young singers were well received last year at Southern. Their return performance is expected to be equally successful. Through January 14 to 17 of this month they will present several concerts at the southern and northern ends of the county.

January 17, at 7:30 p. m. they will be at the Southern High Cafetorium for a concert Tickets purchased in advance for adults and students will be $2.00, at the door they will be $2.50.

G.A.A. Discuss Sponsoring Foster Child

At the monthly meeting of the G.A.A the idea of sponsoring a foster child was discussed. Plans for a bowling party were also discussed and this was held January 10.

Twenty-five junior girls were given G.A.A. badges at the January 4 meeting. These girls have accumulated 50 or more points. Points are obtained by attending football and basketball games in addition to participating in other activities.

Southern Matmen to Wrestle Bruce

The Southern wrestling team will travel to Bruce High School to tangle with the Bulldogs in a match to be held January 15.

In the first meeting of the year between the two schools, Bruce downed the Rams by the score of 32-19. Last year the Rams were defeated by the Bulldogs 35-13 and 31-15.

Bruce goes into the match with a 5-0 record while the Southern Rams carry a 3-1 record.

Last week the wrestling match between Southern and Fort Hill was cancelled because the referee was unable to make it to Southern.

Jr. High to Play Keyser

Coach Don Stemple's Jr. High basketball team will host the Keyser quint tomorrow night at 8:00 p. m. in Southern's gym. This is a return match of the two teams which tangled at Keyser Monday night. The Little Rams lost this one in overtime by a score of 50 to 51 Kevin Liller led Southern with 21 points.

Tomorrow night's clash should be a good one, according to Coach Stemple, because of the close score on the opponent's floor. This week's other game with Union, Mr. Stemple also feels by comparison of scores, will be close.

When asked to comment on the year as a whole, Coach Stemple said, "Up to now we've played the toughest teams that we will play. We should improve each game as we gain experience. By the time of the tournaments the Jr. Rams should be as good as any other Jr. High team."

Next week's card lists only one game for the junior high. They will play host to the Mountaineer Bears.

Coach Stemple feels the best played game so far has been the second half of the Piedmont game. The Rams lost, but he said that they played their best. Mr. Stemple also chose Kevin Liller as best offensive player and Ed Panther as best defensive player.

The game with Kingwood that was to be played last week was postponed due to illnesses of the Kingwood players and lack of transportation from Kingwood to Southern.

Buses Carry School Spirit

At every game away from home, whether once or twice a week, Southern has a group of about forty or more students to cheer them on.

This support is made possible because of the "student bus," which is provided for the students at a small cost. Each bus holds forty of these loyal Ram fans, not counting the six cheerleaders who lead chants on the way to and from the games.

The buses are sponsored mainly by the cheerleaders' advisor, Mrs. Helen Rostosky. The chaperones are members of the P.T.A., who give up their free evenings to help out. They include Mrs. John Eberly, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fike and Mrs. Samuel Meyers.

Rams Hosts Mountaineer Travels to Bishop Walsh

The Southern Rams having only one game this week with Union, will play host to the Mountaineer Bears next Tuesday, January 16 and will play Bishop Walsh on the road on January 19.

This will be the first meeting of the year between Coach Tom Kuln's Rams and the Mountaineer Bears. Last year they swept Mountaineer, beating them by the scores of 76-69 and 59-57.

Southern dropped the first meeting this year with Bishop Walsh losing by the score of 59-55. They managed a split with B.W. last year.

Children Of Two Families Found To Be Neglected

Children of two families were found to be neglected by their parents in juvenile court by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamilt, Jr., at hearings last Friday. One youth was found to be delinquent by reason of three motor vehicle charges.

Robert McRobie and his wife, Ellen Mae McRobie, of the Hutton area, by willful act or omission, caused their one-year-old child judged to be neglected. They were specifically charged with providing improper home environment for the child.

The child was found to be neglected and placed in the custody of the Department of Social Services for the purpose of finding a proper foster home for it.

Robert McRobie was found guilty of neglect of the child and sentenced to one year to the Commissioners of Correction at the Maryland State Penitentiary.

Mrs. McRobie on the same charge was placed on probation before verdict and is to have her home supervised by the Department of Social Services.

Two children, aged 2 and 4 years, were found to be neglected by their mother, Mrs. Hager Beckman of Vindex road, Kitzmiller. They were found to be neglected by reason of Mrs. Beckman providing inadequate food, clothing and medical care and suffering serious harm from improper home environment and guardianship.

The children were judged to be neglected and placed under the Department of Social Services for the purpose of finding proper foster homes for them. Mrs. Beckman was placed on probation before verdict and is to cooperate with the Department of Social Services in finding proper foster homes for the children.

A 15-year-old male of Mt. Zion road, Swanton, was found to be deliquent in juvenile court last Friday and was placed on probation before verdict on three motor vehicle charges. The youth is to make restitution of $10 per month to Richard H. Sharpless of near Swanton for damage done to his car.

The motor vehicle charges were: operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license, operating an unregistered motor vehicle, and failing to stop after a property damage accident.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and father, Glen Fratz, who passed away one year ago January 10.

Our loved one in the grave we lay,
There to await that solemn day;
When God himself shall bid him rise

We have no cause to mourn or weep,
Securely shall our loved one sleep;
Till Christ himself shall death destroy,
And raise the blessed dead to joy.

Meet The Staff

BUD BISER

Our youngest manager is this week's staff representative. He is Bud Biser, co-manager of our front end operation. Bud is no stranger to the front end operation of a supermarket, he started working for us as a packer while still in high school. His cheerful personality, neat appearance, and personal drive were instrumental in his appointment to management. His chief duties include scheduling, money control and supervision.

Having worked the job from the bottom to the top, Bud has been able to initiate new ideas into the front end operation. He stresses the importance of being friendly and helpful to shoppers as well as packing an order so that it will arrive home in the same manner as it was purchased. Bud understands the sentiments of his employees and meets with them regularly to discuss their ideas on how to make their front end operation even better.

It takes a special type of individual to successfully handle the front end manager's job. Besides the managing of forty employees, he must always be on hand to make sure that all customers are satisfied. If customers have to wait in long lines and receive cold receptions while checking out, it is very likely they'll be seeking elsewhere to shop. We feel that with Bud's presence you'll never have to seek that "elsewhere." Stop in and say "Hello" to our newest manager and we're sure you'll be aware of his presence when you receive your friendly efficient service at the front end.

Bud enjoys bowling, music and playing cards. He resides on Third Street in Oakland with his wife Pam and son Jeremy.

Strutting across the ice, penguins make a comically pompous picture. They are at once dignified and ridiculous, and if we look at them very long they remind us uncomfortably of ourselves!

We, too, are apt to mass together on occasion and to be, perhaps, a little ludicrous in our efforts to be "part of the scene." Sometimes following the leader may, indeed, be the best thing to do. But it can also be the easy way out.

Today, especially, we need the courage of our convictions. We need to stand up for what we truly believe in. We need to do the important things.

Like going to church.

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

COURAGE TO CHANGE

Lesson for January 14, 1973

Background Scripture: Ezekiel 1:1-3, 2 through 4, 33:1-9
Devotional Reading: Psalms 42

Put yourself in Ezekiel's shoes! He was one of ten thousand people carried away from Judah as captives to the victorious Chaldeans. His was a defeated, dispirited people and great was their humiliation.

Rev. Althouse

He was also alien in a strange land far, far from his promised homeland. The way of life in Chaldea was radically different from anything he had known in little Judah.

From priest to prophet

He was also a man without a job. In Judah, Ezekiel had been a priest. As a priest, his function had been to serve in the great Temple of Jerusalem. Now, however, there was no longer a Temple. A priest without a temple was a man without a job.

We do not know what Ezekiel did for the first five years of exile in Chaldea, but at the end of that period this ex-priest received a call by God to serve as a prophet to the Jewish people in exile by the river Chebar, an important navigational and irrigation canal of Babylonia. Somewhere along its banks north of the capitol, Babylon, he began an entirely different life.

We must not underestimate the difficulty of transition between the roles of priest and prophet. There was a considerable difference. The priest attained his office by being born into a priestly family, while the prophet was selected by God from among any class or family. The priest served principally at the Temple, while the prophet took his message wherever God directed. The main task of the priest was to conduct the rituals of worship and sacrifice in the Temple; for the prophet the task was to bring the people a proclamation of God's message. The priest was normally recognized by the people as the authoritative religious leader, whereas the prophet was frequently rejected by most. As a priest, Ezekiel had been concerned primarily with rituals and laws; as a prophet, however, he was called to focus on the spiritual condition and ethics of the people.

A "New ball game"

Do you see the enormity of the change to which Ezekiel was being called by God? Doubtless, he would have preferred to remain a priest and do the job he knew best, but times had changed and he was being challenged to change along with them.

Let us also realize that there were no guarantees with this challenge. There is no assurance of success. His people did not listen to the prophecies of Jeremiah. They had been a rebellious people and there was no assurance that they would change. To make this big step, Ezekiel had to have courage.

When we are confronted by "a whole new ball game," we too are called to have the courage to change.

℞ KEEP CHILD RESISTANT CONTAINERS—CHILD RESISTANT

The purpose of dispensing medicines in what are called "child resistant" containers is to substantially cut down and try to prevent the ever increasing number of accidents involving children and drugs. But, this purpose is defeated when a child is given an empty medicine container with which to play.

It does not take a child too long a time of experimentation to figure out how to get an empty container open. The next time it could be one that is full. Give your children a break and buy that extra time a child-proof container gives you when they haven't had a chance to find out how it works.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

U.S. Troops In Europe

In considering future force levels, the President must not only negotiate with our NATO allies but he must also consult and coordinate his negotiations with the United States Senate. While only 33 Senators supported Senator Mike Mansfield's proposal in the 92nd Congress for an immediate unilateral reduction of American troops in Europe, an additional 22 supported the Mathias Amendment calling for more gradual changes after agreed collective decisions within the NATO alliance. Thus the majority of the Senate is on record as favoring a move away from the status quo toward lower United States troop levels in Europe.

In addition, advance warning has been given by some stalwart supporters of current American force levels, such as Senator Byrd of Virginia, that they will not automatically respond to another demand to extend our commitment indefinitely. The Administration can not ignore such significant signs of changing attitudes.

The Administration must understand the nature of the sentiment within the Senate which has led to this state of affairs. One is reminded of the old saw that "it isn't the money, but the principle of the thing." In this case the money matters since the estimated cost of maintaining troops in Europe runs well over $1.5 billion annually. But the question is also one of principle.

Senator Mansfield has become the foremost spokesman for those who want to see an early reduction of the level of troops in Europe. In this, as in most things, he is motivated by his high degree of patriotism and by his veneration for the United States Senate as an integral part of our Constitutional system. He voices a concern which transcends those of the professional budget cutters and Pentagon pettifoggers. His concern is shared by many Senators, including myself.

Commitments made by the United States, even within the NATO Treaty which has been ratified by the Senate, become a part of the foreign policy of the United States in which the Senate has a continuing Constitutional responsibility. While I believe that the current Senate supports the principles of the NATO Treaty as firmly as did the Senate which ratified that treaty, I also believe that the current Senate must be consulted upon the present plans to carry out the purposes of the treaty if it is to have the support of the present generation of Americans.

Beyond that there is, of course, the long shadow of Viet Nam. President Johnson's interpretation of the powers granted him in the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution have led many Members of Congress to view with suspicion, if not with alarm, any similar opportunities that might be available to a future Chief Executive.

Thus it would seem that the key to the President's success in negotiating new arrangements with Europe may lie at home in the Senate which wants very much to find a shared policy, a real and genuine accommodation with the President, but which will not do so on terms that are inconsistent with its sense of its responsibilities to the Constitution and to the Nation.

Youths Fail To Use Voting Rights

The Census Bureau reported that less than half of the newly enfranchised voters from ages 18 to 21 cast ballots in the 1972 presidential election.

There were 5.3 million youths in the 18-21 age bracket who voted which was 48.3 percent of those eligible. It compared with a turnout of 71 percent in the 45-64 age bracket, which had the best showing.

A youth 18, survived an 800-feet fall in a Calif. park.

New Senior Citizens Organization Formed

The Golden Years Club of Garrett County, a new senior citizens organization, has recently been formed.

It is a non-profit, non-political organization whose objective is to obtain services not now available to more than 3,000 senior citizens of the county.

The results of a recent survey among the elderly of the county indicates the need of additional services such as: public transportation, additional medical and dental services, recreational centers, and a local Social Security office.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

Education Comes First

The first few days of a new Congress are usually reserved for ceremonial functions such as administering the oath of office to new members, electing party leaders and adopting resolutions on rules and committee assignments.

This year there are additional activities, of course, involving preparations for President Nixon's inauguration on Jan. 20.

So, normally, one might expect to find things rather quiet at this time in the Senate and House of Representatives. This year, however, such is not the case.

There have already been proposals brought forward for congressional reform, there has been debate over the Vietnamese negotiations, and here in our own state of Maryland, there has been an outcry over a federal court order that would lead to a massive busing plan in Prince George's County before the end of the month.

I am strongly opposed to this busing action, and I have already come forward with a bill which, if enacted, will prevent the implementation of new busing orders during the school year.

In my judgment, the Prince George's County decision is educationally unsound and administratively indefensible. It goes beyond the mere question of busing—which in self is controversial—and creates even more problems by aggravating an already difficult situation.

My personal belief is that children should be allowed to attend their neighborhood school, and neighborhoods should be open to all people regardless of race, creed or color.

I do not believe that forced busing to achieve a racial balance contributes to the improvement of the quality of education.

Unfortunately, Congress has been unable to reach any agreement on the busing issue. But we cannot continue to ignore this problem; it will not go away.

There have been judicial and administrative excesses that must be restrained, and the decision to implement a massive busing plan in the middle of the school year is a case in point.

It is disruptive to the continuity of education, it breaks the rapport a teacher has developed with his or her class, it causes enormous scheduling problems, and it has a catastrophic effect on extra-curricular activities—which are an important part of a student's over-all development and school life as a whole.

The subject of mid-year disruptions in our school system has come to my attention in a previous instance involving Somerset County on the Eastern Shore.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare wanted to implement a massive reassignment of teachers just nine weeks before the end of the school year. After hearing of the incredible timing of this order, I was able to arrange a series of meetings which led to the postponement of the action until the following September.

I think the same error can be found in the Prince George's County busing order, and that is why I am opposed to it.

Yet, as a member of the Senate Education Subcommittee, I would like to reiterate another concern of mine with respect to busing.

I am deeply bothered that this controversy is preventing us from addressing the great educational deficiencies and needs that exist in many of the schools in this country.

I believe there is public support for correcting such deficiencies and doing, in general, what is necessary to make certain that all our schools are quality schools. But we are finding too much of our energy and effort centered and dissipated on the busing issue rather than focused on the goal of quality education.

Above all, I believe that we are a nation of laws, and I ask for restraint by the people being affected by this decision. But to the members of Congress, I say that now is the time to act swiftly in order to assure the continuity of the educational process in our schools.

Buy any new Volkswagen and we'll give you free service for 12 months/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work.
But our service plan does.
With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.
Lube jobs are free.
Spark plugs are free.
Points condensers wiper blades, fuses, hoses, even light bulbs are free.
We'll look for trouble too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.
Actually for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because except for gas, tires and collision damage your problems are our problems.
Now, what do we expect from you?
You have to buy a new Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Campmobile, or Type 1 from us.
You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagen's maintenance schedule.
And you can't modify, abuse or torture it.
That's it.
Except for one last detail.
We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us. Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

STATE OF MARYLAND.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, that on the 18th day of December, 1972, a Bill to Quiet Title to Land, was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the Plaintiff against the Defendants who are dead and unknown heirs, Personal Representatives, Devisees and assigns.

The Bill alleges in substance that Virginia P. Deacon, Widow, is the owner of property in Garrett County, Maryland, obtained from the Estate of E. Ruth Rudisell, Deceased, and that E. Ruth Rudisell, from mesne deeds and conveyances and by inheritance became the owner of such property from Katie B. Rudisell and Lewis A. Rudisell, her husband, who had given a Mortgage to Daniel E. Offutt, Arthur Townshend, Levi Hewitt and P. T. Garthright, dated November 2, 1910, for approximately $1,467.65, which Mortgage has not been released upon the Lien Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and creates a cloud on the title of said property.

The relief prayed for in the Bill is substantially as follows: That the Court pass a Decree declaring the said Virginia P. Deacon, has absolute ownership of the said property, free and clear of any cloud or lien of said Mortgage and enjoining the Defendants from asserting by virtue of said Mortgage any such claim by any action at law or otherwise.

WHEREUPON IT IS ORDERED BY THE CIRCUIT COURT for Garrett County, Maryland this 18th day of December, 1972, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 12th day of January, 1973, giving notice to the said Defendants, their unknown heirs, personal representatives, devisees and assigns, of the object and substance of the Petition and Bill and warning them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 12th day of February, 1973, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

January 22 Is Deadline For State Cabin Facilities

Those wishing to reserve the limited cabin facilities available at three Maryland State Parks this year should submit their applications to the Park Service of the Department of Natural Resources by January 22, it was announced today.

Rental season for the 39 cabins at New Germany, Herrington Manor and Elk Neck State Parks will extend from the second Saturday in June through the third Saturday in September. They are available on a one-week occupancy basis.

Rates for the 1973 season will range from $45.00 for a non-equipped cabin for four at Elk Neck to $110.00 for a fully-equipped cabin accommodating six at New Germany and Herrington Manor. These rates represent an increase of from $5.00 to $10.00 over last year's rental fees. reflecting increased operating costs.

Prospective cabin renters are reminded that prompt remittal of a $10 00 deposit after confirmation of their reservations is essential. Reservation applications should be addressed to the Park Service, Department of Natural Resources, Tawes State Office Building. Annapolis, Marvland 21401.

Applications for reserved camp sites at five State Parks where such a system is in effect are now being received by the Park Superintendents at Assateague, Shad Landing, Elk Neck, Point Lookout, and Deep Creek Lake State Parks. Reservation season runs from the Memorial Day weekend to the Labor Day weekend, and use of the reserved sites is limited to one week.

Dead Miner Was Former Student At Northern

The remaining five bodies of nine coal miners killed in a July 22, 1972, fire at Blacksville, W. Va., were brought out of the No. 1 mine there last Thursday night. One of them was Roy Sisler, 24, of Morgantown, W. Va.

Sisler was a former student at Northern High school. He was married January 20, 1970 to Diana Lee Bowser, also a former Northern High student.

Last August Mrs. Sisler had written a letter to Rev. George W. Lovelace, Sr, at Craigsville, who had married the couple while he was pastor of the Friendsville United Methodist charge. She declared "I guess you must know by now that where the Blacksville mine is, is where my world of happiness ended. I and my husband were married by you in your home on January 20, 1970. I am writing this to request that I would like for you to come to the service of my husband. Of course they will have to open up the mine before we have it."

The body was recovered from the mine on January 4.

Autopsies on the bodies were ordered because of a regulation of the 1969 Coal Mine Health and Safety Act. In addition to determining the cause of death the autopsies were to see if the men were suffering from pneumoconiosis, or black lung disease. If they were the widows and children would be eligible for benefits.

Gov't Purchases Mineral Rights Under 'Dolly Sods'

The United States has purchased the minerals, coal, oil and gas under the Dolly Sods scenic area from the Nature Conservancy at a ceremony in the office of Monongahela National Forest Supervisor Alfred Troutt, on December 29.

The Dolly Sods area has long been considered a special area by many people, including numerous ones from this county. It is in the highlands of the Allegheny Plateau and contains unusual scenery and vegetation, upland bogs, and windswept plains in the 4,000 foot elevation range. The mineral purchase under this area is in both Randolph and Tucker counties.

There are 10,200 acres designed as the Dolly Sods Scenic area.

The minerals deeded to the United States by the Conservancy are under 15,558 acres of National Forest land in and adjacent to the Dolly Sods scenic area. The consideration was $570,235.

Previous land purchases by the Monongahela National Forest from the Nature Conservancy total 3,867 acres in 5 tracts, 305 acres on Gandy Creek, Randolph county; 1280 acres along the route of the proposed Spruce Knob Scenic drive; a 64-acre virgin hemlock stand; 120 acres in the Spruce Knob-Seneca Rocks National Recreation area; and 1998 acres on North Fork Mountain. The last four tracts are in Pendleton county, W. Va.

Weaving Craft Revived To Rock Music Beat At Ashbys

SHOWING HOW IT'S DONE is Mrs. Harold Ashby, who loves weaving and has become quite proficient at the craft since she learned how in 1963. Mrs. Ashby says it takes at least four to five hours of concentrated work to set up her loom before the actual weaving can begin.

by Carol Canan

What happens when a woman follows the ancient craft of weaving to a rock music background? Beautiful things happen, that's what.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ashby, State Road, Oakland, the time-honored rhythmic thump-bump of a loom in operation is often accompanied by the newest and loudest rock music vibrations, as Mrs. Ashby works the loom in her dining room and sons Stephen, Mark and Jim and their friends play music in the basement.

Martha Lou Ashby, who feels that learning anything new is wonderful experience and who is always willing to try something new, began weaving in late 1963 when courses were offered at Penn Alps in Grantsville.

Since then, she's busied herself in her spare time making woolen cloth for suits; linens and cottons for tablecloths and placemats, heavier cottons for handbags and rugs.

She says she likes linen best, as it is easier to handle.

Her interest in weaving prompted her to teach herself to spin as well. Recently she has been experimenting with handspun yarns dyed with natural dyes, namely cherry root and apple bark.

Her largest work to date has been the huge red dossal, or drapery cloth, behind the altar at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland.

Before anyone gets their hopes up, thinking they can run over to her house and either request

Sunshine, Rising Mercury Brings Complete Change

Sunshine and moderating temperatures were a complete change from the cloudy, subfreezing weather of the previous week. The mercury climbed above the freezing mark Saturday for the first time in over a week.

There was some light snow last Thursday and about another inch fell or so Monday.

Early morning temperatures have been in the 20s since Monday after having been in the single digit figures the previous eight days. The lowest was an even zero Saturday morning. Yesterday afternoon temperatures passed the 50-mark on their way up. Even with the rise, temperatures averaged near eight degrees below normal for this time of the year.

Snowfall will have to increase quite a bit to catch up with the January normal of 15.2 inches. So far there has been only about two inches this month.

Busy Season

Road, near Finzel, to eliminate bad curves and alignment on a section of the road.

The Department also plans to continue its repaving of existing hard surface roads in different parts of the county, with another 30 miles scheduled to be resurfaced.

Also the road men must continue normal maintenance work, including drainage work, brush cutting and patching.

A program emphasizing drainage work, including ditching and installing of new pipes where necessary, has been in progress during the past two years.

Also during the past two years, three rotary brush mowers have been obtained and put into use, considerably aiding the never-ending job of brush work.

This year the Department will be in the process of installing new, uniform traffic code signs on county routes. Installation of these uniform signs will be spread out over a three-year period beginning this year with the primary county routes, continuing next year on secondary routes, and ending its third phase with local access roads.

The project, one of the most ambitious yet undertaken by the Department, involves over 500 signs with a materials-only cost of $5,000 or $10 per sign. The county plans periodical inspection and inventory of these new signs to insure upkeep.

Mandel Asks $2.4 Billion State Budget

Includes $39,558 Surplus With No Increase In Tax

A $2,467 billion budget with a $39,558 surplus was presented to the Maryland General Assembly yesterday by Gov. Marvin Mandel.

There was no increase in taxes in the spending program for fiscal 1974, and the governor promised there would be none.

There also was no money for a proposed $21 million aid to education program.

Mandel said, however, he would sponsor the education program and would finance it without a tax increase.

The surplus was the smallest in many years.

The governor's budget includes $1.3 billion in general funds, $605 million in special funds, and $510 million in federal funds, and represents an increase in spending over the current budget of 13.7 percent. In the general fund area where expenses are financed out of regular revenue sources such as the income and sales tax, the increase was 10.2 percent.

The budget contains few new programs and very limited expansion of existing programs.

The governor's budget includes a request for $30,000 to begin planning for Western Maryland Mental Retardation Center II, with plans to spend $2,172,100 in fiscal 1975 and $110,000 the following year. The 50-bed institution would serve Garrett and Allegany counties and would be built in Allegany county.

Districts Combined

Republican delegates David J. Williams, Melvin W. Sloan and DeCorsey Bolden will have to oppose each other in 1974 to be elected, as the plan for reshuffling the legislature comes to light. Legislative districts would be combined under the new plan.

The same goes for State Senators William J. Wilson and Edward J. Mason.

This county would stand to lose its one and only delegate, unless he ran in the new district which will include a large portion of Allegany county also.

GORTNER

Buy any new Volkswagen and we'll give you free service for 12 months/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work.
But our service plan does.
With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned, and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.
Lube jobs are free.
Spark plugs are free.
Points, condensers, wiper blades, fuses, hoses, even light bulbs are free.
We'll look for trouble, too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.
Actually, for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because except for gas, tires and collision damage, your problems are our problems.
Now, what do we expect from you?

You have to buy a new Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Campmobile, or Type 4 from us.

You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagen's maintenance schedule.
And you can't modify, abuse or torture it.
That's it.
Except for one last detail.
We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us. Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

Signup Dates For Program In Feed Grains Are Given

Signup under the 1973 feed grain and wheat set-aside programs begins February 5 and continues through March 16, it was announced by J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee.

The 1973 Feed Grain program recently announced includes barley, corn and grain sorghum, and producers may elect to participate under one of two options. Option A requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 30 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. Per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 35 cents for corn, 33 cents for grain sorghum, and 28 cents for barley. A supplemental payment is possible if a five-month national average price plus the payment is less than 70 percent of parity. Feed grain acreage on farms signed up in this option will be limited only by set-aside and conserving base requirements.

Option B requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 15 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Farmers electing to participate under this plan agree to limit their 1973 total feed grain acreage to the total acreage certified as planted for harvest in 1972 and also agree to forego supplemental payments. Payment will be on acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum, and 20 cents for barley.

Farmers will soon be receiving a notice of the established feed grain base, feed grain yields, wheat allotment, wheat yield, and conserving base acreage for their farm. Upon receiving this notice, a farmer has the right of appeal of any entry on the form within 15 days from the date of mailing of the notice. The appeal period is not extended where a producer has been given a previous right of appeal of an entry.

Mr. Margroff said it is the responsibility of the producer to notify the local county ASCS office of any change during the crop year in the ownership or operation of the farm, or changes in the land on the farm as a result of subdivision, sale, purchase or rental. It is important that these changes in operation of the farm be reported prior to signup in order that the records in the office may be kept current. Failure to report these changes could result in a producer being in violation of a program procedure and may cause loss of payment.

Under the 1973 program, it is necessary that participating farmers designate set-aside acreage which is capable of producing a crop and be at least equal in productivity to other cropland on the farm normally planted to crops for which payments are to be made. In addition, the minimum field size is five (5) acres, except where the total set-aside requirement is less than the minimum.

Farmers may visit the local county ASCS office to learn more about the set-aside programs.

Bill Would Require Disclosure Of Finances

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) and Adlai E. Stevenson (D-Ill.) have introduced legislation that would require members of Congress to make annual public disclosure of their finances.

The bill would require Senators and Congressmen to file with the Comptroller General of the United States the amount and source of income, gifts whose value exceeds $100 and assets, debts and financial transactions with a value of more than $5,000.

Present Senate rules require only that campaign contributions and honorariums of more than $300 be made available to the public.

Senator Stevenson said the necessity for the bill is underscored by public opinion polls which "indicate a growing feeling among the electorate that public officials are not to be trusted."

The Senators said they believe public disclosure is the "best medicine to restore the health of Congress' public image."

MRS. MARTHA LOU ASHBY holds up the jacket of a suit she made for herself, from weaving the woolen material to the actual sewing. Also pictured on the table is a wall hanging she has made, while in her hand she holds a woven handbag and a picture of the dossal at St. Paul's Methodist Church, which are other projects of hers.

Mrs. Ashby does no commercial work at her loom, as her time is almost entirely taken up hy caring for her optometrist husband, their four sons, their home, and her full-time job as secretary to the librarian at Southern High School.

Weaving Craft

some work done or buy something already completed, let me warn you that she does work only for the enjoyment it brings her, and gives her handiwork to friends and relatives only. Sorry about that!

Loom work is very time consuming, especially getting the warp set up, which takes at least four or five hours of concentrated work. Mrs. Ashby got her loom from a weaving supply house near East Berlin, Pa., not far from Gettysburg. She uses a spinning wheel that her husband got her for Christmas a few years ago.

To continue her story, Mrs. Ashby now has to sandwich in some time at the loom, since for the past two and a half years she has been working at Southern High School as secretary to the librarian. Miss Martha DeBerry. Her four sons, Stephen at Frostburg State College, Jim, Mark and Bill demand a great deal of time, as does cooking for her family and caring for their ten-room home.

In between such activities, she also finds time to ski with her family, a sport the whole family loves, as well as do crewel work, crochet, sew, knit, play bridge and read.

Weaving seems to he her favorite pastime. Though as she says "In weaving, you forget whatever troubles you may have, as you have to keep your mind only on what you're doing."

Mrs. Ashby feels she learned to like doing handcrafts from ner mother, Mrs. Mildred Ashby, who braids rugs hy the dozens. Her sisters, too, love crafts, and one operates a ceramics shop near Mt. Airy, Md., where she also gives lessons.

Mrs. Ashby has done public weaving at the Springs Festival, at Penn Alps, and at the GCC Arts and Crafts Display in December 1972.

Martha Lou feels definitely that interest in crafts is reviving. She knows several people, including Mrs. Homer Bennett and Mrs. Morgan Barr, who are interested in weaving and who do heautiful work. She noted that Milton Naylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Naylor, Oakland, has built a 17th century reproduction loom in connection with his American Heritage class at Salem College.

This revival is due partly to the satisfaction that people derive from making something with their hands, she feels, and partly from a release from tension that only such work can bring.

She neglected to mention the very unique and attractive heirlooms that are a direct result of such handcraft!

Meet The Staff

KENNETH SAVAGE

A man who deserves a lot of credit in the growth of our company is this week's staff representative. He is Kenneth Savage, assistant manager of our grocery department. Ken has been employed with our company since 1960 except for two years absence in the armed forces.

I guess we could call Ken a pioneer in our company. He started two very important programs which were instrumental in helping our company to grow to its present size. To begin with, Ken was our first night stocker. He worked at that position for three years. His efficiency and accuracy proved to us that night stocking was the answer to handling a high volume store. Every morning the shelves are full and ready for the consumer. You don't have to battle cluttered aisles and stock clerks at our store.

Another of Ken's accomplishments was computerized ordering known as the M. S. I. system. Three years ago Fox Grocery Company wanted to experiment with computerized ordering and chose our store as one of the first to try it. We placed Ken in charge of the whole operation and again through his interest and hard work we found a more efficient and more accurate manner of ordering our merchandise.

Working together as a team to bring you the best supermarket available is our motto and Ken Savage is a strong link in our chain of helpful employees.

Ken enjoys doing carpenter work and odd jobs around his home and also likes to participate in competitive sports. He and his wife Nancy reside at Rt. 4, Box 268, Deer Park and are the parents of three lively little girls.

Senate Sustains Governor's Veto

The State Senate reversed itself last Thursday and sustained the governor's veto of legislation to provide property tax relief to the disabled.

The 24 to 19 tally in favor of the Mandel veto came some 24 hours after the upper chamber voted 29 to 13 to override the governor, who ended up seeing the Senate sustain all but one of the 14 vetoes of 1972 Senate-originated bills.

Supporters of the administration argued that the proposal in its present form was fiscally unsound because it would commit the state to an unlimited reimbursement to the 23 counties and Baltimore.

The legislation had provided for persons certified as permanently disabled under Social Security regulations to receive a 50 percent credit toward local property taxes on their homes. The plan would have cost the state $510,000 its first year.

Eleven senators who had opposed Mandel on opening day switched sides on the reconsideration.

Church Council Elects

At an organizational meeting of St. Mark's Lutheran church council on Monday evening Courtney R. Tusing was elected president, succeeding John A. Sharps, whose term expired.

Others named were George H. Hanst, vice-president; Jerry Moyer, secretary; Richard O. Glotfelty, treasurer; Miss Grace Falkenstein, financial secretary, and Edward Bowser, finance secretary and treasurer for the building fund.

The Rams have two games on the card for next week after having played only one game a week since the Christmas holidays.

The Rams will travel to Union on January 23 for a second chance at the Tigers. The Rams defeated the Tigers last week with a score of 75 to 64. The Rams won over the Union Tigers last year in both games.

They will also play Valley, Tuesday, the 26th at Southern.

The Southern Rams previously beat Valley 55 to 44. Last year the Rams dropped both meetings with Valley, by the scores of 74 to 69 and 69 to 58.

Offers Plan To Reform Federal Spending Ways

Warning that "the U. S. Treasury is not a bottomless pit . . . and our limit has been reached," Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. has brought forward a five-point plan to overhaul the federal appropriations process.

"We find ourselves in a position where we must face the very basic economic fact that you cannot continually allow federal expenditures to vastly exceed federal revenues without causing serious inflationary problems," Senator Beall said.

The reforms proposed:

—Make the fiscal year coincide with the calendar year, to enable Congress to work on appropriations bills for a year in advance instead of trying to get the job done in six months after the President submits his budget.

—As first order of business Congress should debate the President's total budget figure and either accept or alter the request. This amount would become the total figure for coogressional appropriations, unless subsequently altered, and would require the budget to be considered as a whole rather than as individual programs.

—Appropriations committees in the House and Senate should set percentage increases or decreases in various budget categories and then use the percentage as a guide for funding individual programs.

—Require each bill introduced in Congress to include a "cost per tax-paying family" and tahulate the total cost per taxpayer as authorization and appropriations bills are passed.

—Establish oversight subcommittees for each standing eommittee of the Congress, to review every three years the costs and effectiveness of programs under their jurisdiction.

New Germany Area Cabin Destroyed

Grantsville Volunteer Fire company responded to a two-room, wood structure blaze Sunday evening at 9:45 with 16 men and three pieces of equipment, in the New Germany area, but the building was consumed by flames when they reached the site.

Tom Bender, radio operator with the fire company, said the structure was adjacent to New Germany State Park on McCandless Hill road and firemen were led to the site by park rangers. An overheated stove was thought to have been the cause of the blaze.

The structure had belonged to a Fiola family and there was no one in the building at the time but a man living in a tent apparently had been heating the structure for the arrival of persons who planned to live there.

A tract on which the bank will locate contains 33,479 square feet; and there will be parking for both customers and employees of the bank, according to Marcus A. Naughton, president.

Other segments of the urban renewal project include the development of an eight acre, downtown shopping center, featuring a Glosser Brothers Department Store, food store and several other satellite stores and the proposed construction of a new C and P Telephone Company office building. The value of all new, proposed construction in the downtown is estimated to be $16 million.

Resurface Contracts Total $832,000.00

Contracts totaling more than $832,000 to resurface Blacktop state highways have been awarded this year in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, primarily because of the Maryland Department of Transportation's 1972 Consolidated Transportation program, according to Secretary Harry R. Hughes.

Among the major resurfacing projects scheduled for fiscal 1973 are U. S. route 40 from its intersection with U. S. 219 at Keyser Ridge, to Grantsville, some six miles, and U. S. route 219 beginning at Gortner and extending south for 0.2 miles.

Secretary Hughes noted that this was more than twice the amount spent last year (about $376,000) and increases from 14.1 to 18.4 the miles of state highways resurfaced in those counties.

Hughes said they might be able to award additional contracts for more of this work during the spring construction season.

Statewide, overlay contracts have topped the $10.2 million mark.

Medical Examiner Addresses Rescue Squad Members

Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., deputy medical examiner for the county, addressed the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad on Sunday, January 11, at Grantsville.

He explained how the medical examiner came into being and the duties of his office. Questions were asked on what the squad's duties were in relation to his office. Merritt Feather, administrator for Garrett County Memorial hospital, also was in attendance.

The squad authorized the purchase of two suction machines and an orthopedic stretcher to be placed in the squad ambulances. Total cost of this equipment is $374. Accident insurance for the squad also was discussed and authorization given the board to act.

The squad also voted to join the Maryland State Ambulance and Rescue association. Delegates were named to attend the February 3rd meeting at Liberty Road Volunteer Fire department in Randallstown. They are Don Newman and Cris Browning. Floyd Baker and Paul Maust are alternates.

Applications for new squad members were approved and it was hoped to have a new class started in the near future. Persons interested in joning the squad are to contact training officer Floyd Baker.

Capt. James Wilburn reported on activities of the squad and commended the squad especially the crew on duty December 30 who participated in the auto accident near Accident.

Mathias Wants Congress Committees Open To The Public

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) has sponsored legislation which would open all Congressional Committee meetings to the public.

Senator Mathias said the only exceptions to the open meetings would occur when a majority of members of a committee voted to close the meeting for the purpose of discussing matters of national security, trade secrets, or personal financial or commercial disclosure.

One Percent Drop Note In Telephone Excise Tax

There was a drop of one percent in the federal excise tax on a subscriber's telephone bill with the January statement. It had been 10 percent and now is nine percent, as the result of the Gift Tax adjustment act of 1970.

The law calls for a similar cut each year from now on, until the entire tax is repealed on January 1, 1982.

The nine percent excise tax will apply on all bills for the balance of the year.

Leo Martin Named District Chairman In Scout Program

Deep Creek District Scout Committee elected Leo Martin, of Mtn. Lake Park, as its new district chairman to replace William Medley, formerly of Bausch and Lomb, who is no longer in the area and resigned. Jack Turney, of Oakland, was elected as vice chairman of the Scout district.

Mr. Martin, who is manager of the C. P. Martin and Son market in Mountain Lake Park, is a former Scout. He also serves as head coach of Youth football. He is a member of the unit committee of Troop 70, Mt. Lake Park. Mr. Martin is married to the former Miss Frankye Pulliam, of King, North Carolina, and they reside at 104 F Street, in Mountain Lake Park, and attend the Bethel United Methodist Church.

A planning session for Pack 70 was held in the K of P Hall in Oakland on Monday night with Gerald Sanders, chairman, in charge.

Scouts from Troop 95, Loch Lynn, and Troop 70, Mtn. Lake Park, distributed the card announcements on Saturday, January 13, for the Brian Beachy Fund spaghetti dinner which was held as a benefit event by the American Legion.

The regular District Meeting night has been changed from the second Wednesday in each month to the second Tuesday night of each month.

Plans are now being formulated by John Walters and Gene Herndon, members of the Deep Creek District Committee, for the annual Winter Scout Camp. Present plans place this event for staging during February and final plans will soon be forthcoming. The two committeemen will inform all leaders as to time, place and supplies needed to participate.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Republican

As a taxpayer I would like to express my view in regard to Federal Revenue Sharing Funds that have been paid directly to the County Commissioners, county's share to date, and undoubtedly additional funds will be received from time to time.

It is my understanding the intent of Federal Revenue Sharing, particularly the portion that is allocated to our county Governing body, should be utilized to relieve the burden of the local taxpayer.

No doubt there will be pressure groups and other individuals that will suggest various projects and other ways to use these funds, and our County Commissioners can squander these funds if they so desire and ignore the taxpayers of Garrett County.

The annual tax base of the County has increased quite sizable each year, and without a doubt this trend will continue, so with this in mind and these additional funds that will be reverting back to our County Government it would seem to me it would be in order the County Commissioners should exercise a degree of responsibility to all taxpayers and seriously consider a tax rate decrease this year 1973-71. I would hope there may be a sufficient number of concerned taxpayers who would insist these funds are properly accounted for.

Respectfully,
Hubert A. Friend
Former County Commissioner
Friendsville, Md.

Contributions poured in from all over the tri-state area, including Garrett County, and from as far away as Johnstown, Pa. and Boonsboro, Md. Those not able to telephone in their contributions have been mailing checks to the radio station.

Next Monday at 1:30 the First National Bank of Frostburg, the money collected will be divided by four and distributed among the four families.

Gary Miller Is Re-Sentenced To Life Term

Gary Miller, 22, the convicted slayer of Judy Lee Ziegler was re-sentenced to life imprisonment last Thursday in Allegany County circuit court.

The re-sentencing was due to a mandate from the Maryland Court of Appeals, ruling by a 5-2 decision that 23 men awaiting execution in the state gas chamber would not be put to death.

The murder took place May 28, 1967 when the body of the 20-year old Pocahontas, Pa., woman was found on an old dump near Eckhart. She had been struck with a blunt instrument.

The sentence was to be counted from the date of Miller's incarceration. Under the law a person serving a life sentence was eligible for parole after serving 12 years of the sentence. This means Miller would be eligible for parole in seven years but that parole would have to be approved by the parole board and the governor.

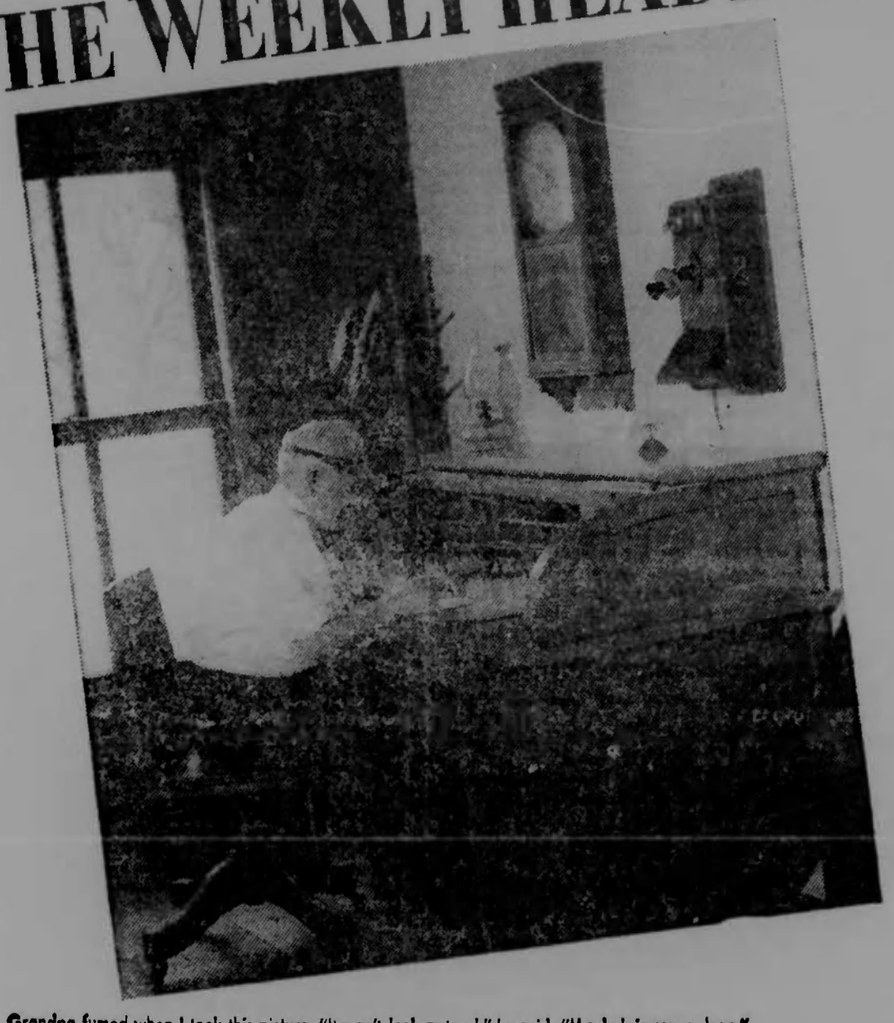
THE WEEKLY HEADLINE



Grandpa fumed when I took this picture. "It won't look natural," he said. "My desk is never clean."

It's clean now. The umbrella stand is empty, the hat rack bare. His old Web press has been retired. But Grandpa's presence lingers on.

For over fifty years he printed the Mayfield Progress, reporting the news with integrity. There were times when he was threatened, cajoled by attempted bribery, menaced by pressure groups, but he stayed true to principle. He was a giant in our town.

What made Grandpa strong in the face of danger — incorrupt when confronted by unscrupulous forces?

His church was the center and circumference of his being. Its truths and its goodness sustained him. It was all that he needed — he remained steadfast and sure.

Your church is eager to help you meet the pressures of your day. Its resources are unlimited and eternal. Go to church, and take your family with you.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IN THE VALLEY

Background Scripture: Ezekiel 34.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 23.

Consider that . . . .

An enemy of this nation launches an unexpected nuclear missile attack on all the major cities of the United States! Although these metropolitan centers are utterly destroyed and millions are killed, there are several hundred thousand survivors and you and your family are among them.

Rev. Althouse

The enemy quickly occupies the country, rounds-up the survivors, and transports them to his homeland for "slave labor." Your country is a nightmarish wasteland, you are thousands of miles from home in a strange and alien land, and the future seems utterly without hope.

What now is your state of mind? Can you still believe in, worship, and try to serve the God whom your conquerors maintain does not exist?

Under the shadow

This is the question that must have nagged at the Jews during the days of their Babylonian captivity. It is one thing to keep the faith when all is going well, but when disaster strikes, that is the time of testing for our faith. The people of Judah found themselves in what must have seemed to be the "valley of the shadow of death" of which the psalmist had written.

Several years ago our evening newspaper carried the story of a local boy of seventeen who was robbed of all his money—a total of fifty-three cents!—and then stabbed three times in the lung and heart. Presumed dead by those who found him, he was rushed, nevertheless, to the local hospital. In the Emergency Room, the physician found no breathing or heartbeat and he was presumed dead.

Through the valley

Then, however, one of the doctors quickly decided to try emergency surgery and to everyone's astonishment the heartbeat and breathing were restored. Many were still dubious that the youth could survive, but following forty-eight hours of intensive care by a team of physicians, the boy "turned a corner" and began to recover.

The photograph in the evening paper showed the boy and the four doctors who shepherded him through "the valley of the shadow of death." Because of them, the boy had survived.

The experience of "the valley of the shadow of death" is one common to men and [illegible]. Often, what is needed is the leadership of a strong, dedicated man or woman. This was the kind of leadership to which God had called Ezekiel. The dark valley of Babylonian captivity [illegible] brought upon themselves. Yet even then, God sent them a shepherd to meet them in that valley and guide them through. Beyond the other side of that valley [illegible] our hope is fulfilled.

ACNE CAN SCAR

Among adolescents, acne is the most often found skin problem. And, it is a mistaken notion that acne needs no treatment because it will eventually go away by itself. Neglected acne can result in skin pitting, blotching, and other disfiguring scars. Emotionally it can leave a devastating scar.

Fortunately, the list of possible treatments for acne is especially good. Besides the common sense rules of a healthy diet and good everyday skin hygiene, there are many specific medicines that a physician can prescribe and which we regularly stock. Prompt treatment is important so don't wait for acne to go away.

Commissioners Get Report Of Treas.

A financial statement from the county treasurer, Mrs. Arzella Parsons, to the County Commissioners this week showed cash on hand and certificates of deposit amounted to $1,399,277.62, as of December 31, with the budget balance payable being $1,896,674.83. It was estimated that uncollected revenue was adequate to meet the budgeted needs.

The revenue sharing funds are to be handled in special accounts. Commissioners said the funds received to date were in certificates of deposit and a bank account. Total received to date is $470,564.00.

Commissioners Travel

Commissioners were traveling this week. Commissioner Wayne B. Hamilton, with school board president, William Goldsborough, appeared before the Inter-Agency commission for school construction on Tuesday.

Commissioner Earl Opel was in Annapolis Monday for a legislative meeting of the Maryland Association of Counties.

The Commissioners and Jack R. Turney, attorney to the board are attending a meeting today and tomorrow in Frederick on a budgetary workshop for Maryland counties. Friday evening they will meet with a representative of the Department of Natural Resources concerning the management of Deep Creek Lake by the department. Planning Commission members will also attend this meeting.

HEW notified the county that the grant for the deputy health officer would be continued for the coming year which amounts to a grant of $15,136, which makes it possible to retain a full time county health officer.

Transportation For Aging Is Under Discussion

Commissioner Wayne Hamilton met with the Garrett County Commission on Aging on January 9 to discuss the problem of transportation for the elderly. Present at the meeting were Commission members Don Bender, Robert Ford, William Styles, Mae Caruthers, Tom Cain, Charles Briner and B. O. Aiken. Also present were Robert Shaffer from Social Services and Duane Yoder from Community Action.

According to Don Bender, Vice-President of the Commission on Aging, the Commission, for the last few months, has been studying the problem of transportation for the elderly and its related effects of isolation. Mr. Bender explained that as an advocate for the elderly, the Commission has been exploring various alternatives in transportation systems and means to fund them.

Bender also indicated that the Commission decided to meet with Hamilton to discuss what revenue sharing funds would mean to the County, and in particular what they could mean in terms of programs for the elderly. According to Mr. Hamilton, the final guidelines for the use of these funds have not been made available to them as of yet, and thus would prevent any actual commitment of funds. He also stated that the Commission should move ahead with ideas and plans, and that its members should make their request so that when funds do become available, the Commissioners can make decisions concerning priorities in the use of revenue sharing funds.

The Commission also discussed further plans for incorporating, which would enable it to accept program grants concerning the elderly. It also indicated involvement in the development of the Senior Centers Program.

Oakland Woman Is Slightly Injured In Two-Car Wreck

An Oakland woman was treated and released from the Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a weekend accident on U. S. Route 219 a short distance south of Oakland. Three other accidents involved minor or no injuries but with varying amounts of vehicle damage.

Dorothy E. Beckman, 59, Oakland, driver of one car, sustained minor injuries in a two-car accident on Route 219 just north of Monte Vista road last Saturday evening. Dorothy Beckman and Harry R. Beeghly, RD 2, Oakland, were both traveling south. Dorothy Beckman started to make a right turn into a private drive. Beeghly failing to note the situation hit the Beckman car in the rear. Beeghly was charged by Trooper J. E. Foley with failing to reduce speed.

Marvin E. Westfall, Lake Lynn, Pa., was slightly injured following an accident while traveling east on U. S. Route 40 at the Green Lantern last Friday about 1 p. m. He noticed traffic stopped ahead, and applied his brakes, went off the roadway and collided with a parked truck of the Beatty Motor Express of Cumberland. The Westfall car sustained disabling damage but the truck, none. Westfall was charged with traveling at a speed too great for conditions by Trooper Carl D. Skidmore.

David L. Huth, Tallmage, Ohio, was traveling north on State Rt. 560 last Friday afternoon. He noticed two vehicles directly ahead, also northbound. Huth said he started to pass the vehicles when the one just in front of him also started to pull out and pass the front vehicle. Huth then lost control of his car, went down and over the south shoulder and struck several small bushes. Damage was minor. No charges were made by Trooper Dale K. Williams.

An accident the morning of January 7 on U. S. Route 40 near U. S. Route 219, north, involved a Greyhound bus and a car driven by Carroll L. Uphold, Sr., Pinto. The bus was traveling west on Route 40. Uphold traveling east, apparently fell asleep, crossed the center line of the road and hit the bus. Tfc. Daniel E. Tharp charged Uphold with failing to keep to the right side of the road. There was no damage to the bus and only minor damage to the car.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for the prayers, visits, cards and many nice things done to make life pleasant since my accident. Many happy hours have been spent with the two wonderful scraphooks put together by the Amish Community, and each page has been an inspiration and joy.

May God bless you all!

Blaze Guts Three Frostburg Business Places Saturday

A Saturday evening blaze along the main street of Frostburg destroyed three buildings, damaged five others and caused losses that will total in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The blaze was first reported at 5:35 p. m., and by the time firemen had brought it under control at 9 p. m. the Frosthurg Bakery, Hohing's Men's store and Super Shoe Store had been gutted.

Damaged were Whitacre's West, a gift shop; Kiddie Town; Hafer's Furniture Store; Wehler's paint and decorating store, and Griffith's, a women's apparel store.

People residing above the stores were led to safety, with no injuries. Evacuees had only the clothing they were wearing at the time, and are presently housed with relatives and friends.

Four firemen from the Frostburg Company were injured seriously enough to be taken to the hospital. One fireman was admitted, and was later reported in good condition.

Frosthurg Fire Chief John C. Durst said he and State Fire Marshal Jesse Jacobs determined that the fire began in the bakery building, apparently at a spot near the ovens, although not in the ovens themselves.

More than 170 fire fighters from 10 companies responded to the fire. Three of those companies stayed overnight Saturday, in addition to members of the National Guard of Frostburg.

Route 40 traffic through Frostburg was detoured through the side streets until Sunday night, when normal highway use was resumed.

Plea To Save Bluebirds Made

The Maryland Ornithological Society is again urging all rural and small town Maryland residents to join in the campaign to save the eastern bluebird. This bluebird is slightly larger than a sparrow and has a bright blue back and reddish breast. It should not be confused with the very common and much larger blue jay.

The bluebird is in serious trouble almost everywhere because of a shortage of the kind of cavities it requires for nesting and raising its young. Bluebirds are unable to compete for these cavities with the much more aggressive house sparrows and starlings that were brought into this country from Europe.

Bluebirds will readily accept properly made starling-proof nesting boxes (bird houses) when they are set out in the right places and kept free of sparrows.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 96 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JANUARY 25, 1973 | PER COPY 10c | NUMBER 48

Delegate Is Vital . . .

There is something basically wrong in the thinking of people who feel that Garrett County could have adequate representation in the legislation, coupled with a huge part of Allegany County.

There is our nation, our state and political subdivisions among our state. There are twenty-three counties and Baltimore city, and they were set up to allow each subdivision to have representation in state government.

This one man, one vote division in our state government is for the birds when it comes to eliminating some counties from any representation whatever.

Not only Garrett County is practically eliminated for all practical purposes. There are other counties on the Eastern Shore in a similar predicament. Who is there to even think that Garrett County would ever have representation when there are 10,000 voters in this county and 40,000 or more in Allegany County?

At one time the county had three members of the House of Delegates. This year that number is down to one, and if reapportionment is effected this term, Garrett County will be compelled to run against Allegany Countians for a place in the legislative body. A few years ago we also had a state senator. Now we have none, and next term that possibility will be further away, even from Allegany County.

Garrett is a county in its own right, a political entity, and as such is entitled to representation on a state level.

According to present laws, it will remain that way, but surely there could be a way out of this dilemma, or one of the causes for which the Revolutionary War was fought, is lost forever.

$2.8 Million Set For Child Care In Area

New Program Is Outlined For Childhood Development

A total of $2.8 million was recently allocated for comprehensive childhood development in the tri-county areas of Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties.

Some $729,479 of the funding is to come from the Appalachian Regional Commission with the remainder coming from Title IV-A of the Social Security Act as administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

This money is earmarked for the western Maryland pilot program which came into being during the summer of 1972.

The Maryland Office of Child Development was created by executive order of Governor Marvin Mandel on May 14 1971. In the summer of 1972 the office received a planning grant consisting of $36,900 in state funds and $100,000 in ARC funds.

According to Wesley Burnham, regional director for the Maryland Office of Child Development who was chosen regional planner for the pilot project, his office is to work with and coordinate efforts with the existing child care programs in the area, to come up with a comprehensive child development program which can serve as a model for all Maryland.

In this pilot stage the project will be aimed, primarily at those children, from birth through age six, who come from disadvantaged backgrounds.

In order to involve local citizens and existing local child care groups as extensively as possible in the new project, a new organization, the Western Maryland Regional Child Development Council, has been formed.

At an organizational meeting held recently, representatives from the following organizations were presented to discuss the formation of the new group: Department of Social Services, Board of Education, Health Department, Community Action Agency, 4-C Committees, Regional Parent Council, Tri-County Council for Western Maryland, Regional Education Service Agency, Health Planning Council for Appalachian Maryland and a representative from the private day care centers in the area.

At the meeting, by-laws were discussed and nomination for officers made. Nominated were John Reusing, director of project administration for the Tri-County Council, and P. Kenneth Logsdon, chairman of the Allegany Community Action, president; Dr. William Pope, public health officer for Garrett County, and Mrs. Lucille Metheny, executive director of Allegany Community Action, vice president; Edward Mason, director of Headstart in Washington county, secretary; and Dr. Peter Callas, president of Regional Education Service Agency and Mrs. Joan Toston, director of Headstart Parent Participation for Garrett County, treasurer.

Election of officers is to be held soon.

PORTION OF CONFISCATED MARIJUANA CACHE—Dave Livengood criminal investigator for the Sheriff's Department, and James Biggs, Sheriff, display show off a portion of the 201 pounds of the weed that were recovered over the weekend following an investigation at the Gorman bridge, which resulted in the arrest of a Texan on a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. Additional packages were underneath the table. They were wrapped in cheap paper and many of them were broken and partially spilled.

Big Marijuana Supply Found Under Bridge

Was Stashed There By Texan Following Car Wreck

Discovery of over two hundred pounds of marijuana, under the bridge at Gorman, on U. S. route 50, led to the apprehension of Patrick Deane Palmquist, 20, of 501 East Gunwood, McAllen, Texas who is being held in the county jail on a charge of "possession of marijuana with intent to distribute." His bond was set at $25,000 at a hearing Monday night. The charge was placed by Cpl. Donald Tucker, criminal investigator for the State Police.

Palmquist was arrested by Garrett county sheriff's department on Saturday after the man was involved in a one-car accident Sheriff Jack Browning reported that Palmquist was injured when the car he was driving struck the Gorman bridge on Friday night about 11:30. Palmquist was brought into Garrett County Memorial hospital for treatment. Later, an informant told James L. Biggs, deputy sheriff that Palmquist had been carrying marijuana in the car but had gotten rid of it before authorities arrived at the scene of the accident.

Investigating the area and gathering up the material were Delbert Swartzentruber, David Livengood, investigator, Corporal Tucker of the State Police; Ralph Burnett, assistant state's attorney Mr. Biggs deputy and two deputies from Grant County, W. Va.

The deputies and others found three boxes and six garbage bags of the substance scattered to some extent under the bridge where they apparently were placed after the accident. One or more of the packages had been broken.

It was also reported that Palmquist had picked up two hitchhikers somewhere in Ohio who were reportedly enroute to Washington to demonstrate during the inaugural. However the two hitchhikers were gone when authorities arrived at the scene.

There was some discrepancy as to the value of the marijuana cache Sheriff Browning reported that the "wholesale value of the marijuana would be approximately $60,000," while other officials were of the opinion the total value would be much less.

According to Deputy Riggs the marijuana was in two-pound blocks measuring six inches by 18 inches. The blocks had been wrapped in paper and put in garbage bags and put into the boxes. A portion of the substance is being sent to Baltimore for positive identification.

The man apparently was enroute to Washington from Texas when the mishap occurred.

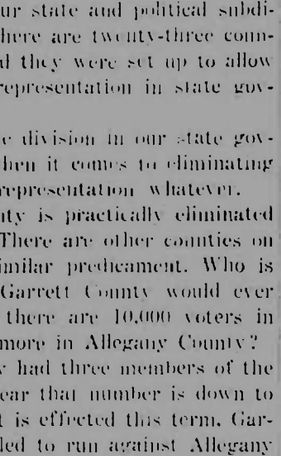
Serves As Page



Barbara Leighton, senior at Southern High School is at work this week in the State House at Annapolis. Garrett County's Page to the Maryland House of Delegates.

She will serve two one-week terms, the first January 22 to 26, and the next March 12 to 16. In case of her inability to serve the second session Carl Henry "Hank" Rebert, the alternate, will assume her duties.

The duties of Page include keeping the legislators' bill books in order and running a variety of errands. Legislators endeavor to show the Pages how a state government is actually run. The Page selection was made by a committee of 10, 6 students, two guidance counselors, another teacher and a school administrator. Representation was determined by the relative size of the student bodies of the 2 high schools in the county. The number of Pages is roughly proportional to the number of delegates from the county, which this year totals one.

Last year's Page was Ellen Smith, of Northern High school. Previous Pages have been George Tusing and Robert Rudy.

Prisoner Sneaks Out In 8-Minute Jailbreak Tuesday

One prisoner escaped from the Garrett County jail for about eight minutes on Tuesday, after he sneaked out during visiting hours.

Daily Franklin Lewis who has been in jail since mid-December on breaking and entering and larceny charges, managed to escape while visitors were entering the jail and fled on foot, without a coat, down the B and O Railroad tracks in the direction of Hutton, where he lived.

Lewis, Deputy Bob Finch and Sheriff Jack Browning began searching the nearby areas in their cars, and Sheriff Browning located the man at the railroad crossing beside Sterling Processing Plant. The man was apprehended without violence and returned to the jail, where he is awaiting a hearing before the March term of the Grand Jury.

Deputy Delbert Swartzentruber was the only employe in the office at the time of the escape, and had been busy letting visitors in and out of the cells and the building. Visiting hours at the county jail are from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Friday, and 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Jailbreaks have been made in the matter three times in the past six years, although this is the first time since Sheriff Browning took office in 1970.

Chickens Scattered As Truck Upsets

Some 2,000 birds escaped temporarily into the countryside around Ellicott City last Friday after a truck overturned at the intersection of Maryland Routes 40 and 97.

It was said most of the missing poultry had been rounded up by mid morning, but several hundred were killed when the M. L. Lansing company truck of Georgetown, Del., overturned. The driver, James A. Rogers, Sr., of Glenville, W. Va., escaped injury.

The truck was enroute to the Sterling Processing company plant at Oakland when a chain on the trailer broke, causing the freight to shift and overturning the truck police said.

Gilmar Sylvester, plant manager of the Sterling Processing, estimated a loss of approximately $7,000 most of which was covered by insurance. He estimated the damage to the trailer might run $10,000.

Lyndon Johnson Dead At Age 64

Lyndon Baines Johnson, 36th president of the United States died Monday, January 22, at age 64.

The Texas native had a history of heart trouble dating back 1955. He was rushed to Brooke Army medical center at San Antonio following the heart attack but he was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Johnson was the nations only living former president, and his death came less than a month after that of Harry S. Truman.

President Nixon called Johnson a "dynamic leader; a unique personality and a man of great ability and unshakeable courage." He ordered flags on all federal buildings to fly at half staff in honor of Johnson for thirty days.

Mr. Johnson's body was flown to Washington to lie in state in the Capital rotunda.

President Nixon designated today as a national day of mourning. Funeral services are to be conducted today after which the body will be returned to Texas for burial in the family cemetery of the LBJ ranch.

38 Farm Bureau Resolutions Cover Guidelines For '73

Nine persons from the Garrett County Farm Bureau attended the sessions of the 57th annual Maryland Farm Bureau convention in Baltimore over the past weekend.

They included Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Umbel, Mr. and Mrs. George Bishoff, John Beachy, Robert O. Ghiselly, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fratz, and Clark Kolb.

The Women's group brought back a second place award for outstanding achievement.

Delegates approved 38 resolutions to serve as guidelines and goals for 1973. They ranged from specific items on rights of hunters to pursue their activity on farm lands to more general resolutions such as the image of farmers.

Angered at what they consider violations of their farmlands by hunters, delegates passed three resolutions supporting legislation to curb unruly hunters. In a related resolution the farmers urged stronger legislation to combat increased trespassing on private property.

Among resolutions were.

Continuing to study methods of preserving open spaces, farm land and natural resources while retaining the farmer's equity in his land.

Two Wilderness Areas Proposed For This County

Two rugged wooded areas of this county would become Maryland's first designated "wildlands" areas under provisions of House Bill 139 which got its first hearing before the House Environmental Matters Committee Wednesday.

The bill describes two primitive mountainous areas of eastern Garrett county which would be set aside by the state for use as wildlands. They are generally, the rugged western slope of Big Savage mountain 2,000 acres of land from the shore of the Savage River dam reservoir to the 3,000 foot ridge of the mountain, and 1,300 acres of land in the Monroe Run area on the eastern slope of Meadow Mountain, up from the Savage reservoir.

According to George Gilmore western regional forester for the Department of Natural Resources, a bill passed last year provided for the state to set aside areas for use as "wildlands," with this measure designating the first areas.

The Big Savage area would be designated as "primitive" wildland, while the Monroe Run area is described as "natural" wildland. A third category would allow the state to set aside areas of land as ecological wildlands, thus preserving pockets of nature noted for rare fauna or flora.

Mr. Gilmore said the distinction between wildland and state forestland is one of projected use and disuse.

"On wildlands, no motorized vehicles are allowed," Mr. Gilmore said. "That means minibikes, trail bikes, snowmobiles, as well as cars, trucks or whatever." The land would be open for hiking, cross country skiing.

To Withdraw Bill

The wildlands bill was scheduled to be withdrawn, the chairman of the committee holding hearings saying that a new bill would have to be drafted.

The snag was caused by amendments requested by the Department of Natural Resources.

Bolden Dismayed By Messages Of Governor Mandel

Republican reaction to the first week of the Maryland General Assembly has been sharp indignation at Governor Mandel's Redistricting Plan followed by outrage at the State of the State message.

Delegate Dorsey E. Bolden R-Garrett County said, "This Redistricting Plan by Governor Mandel is a cynical disregard of the public interest. The Governor gerrymandered the entire state without once consulting the Republican members of the Assembly or the general public. Then he withheld the map showing how they cut the state up until two days before the hearings were scheduled to start. That left no time to study the plan in detail."

The Governor's savage attack on President Nixon in his State of the State message drew this reply from Delegate Bolden. "The Governor reached a new low this time. He accuses the Nixon Administration of trying to cut social programs and progress in Maryland on the one hand, while he accepts Social Dollars in Federal funds on the other. That represents an increase of 45% from the Nixon Administration that the Governor castigates."

Delegate Bolden charged Governor Mandel with the old political trick of drawing attention away from local problems by lashing out at the administration. He said, "The Governor

Picketing Halted At Mount Storm

Honoring a federal court order, about 870 workers Monday returned to their jobs at the Virginia Electric and Power company plant at Mt. Storm after a two-day work stoppage protesting layoffs.

U. S. District Judge Robert E. Maxwell, Elkins, granted a temporary restraining order late Friday after two pickets halted work Thursday and Friday at the Grant County plant.

The assistant workers, Hirshel Kelly and Emanuel Ailstock had been protesting their dismissals. The workers were laid off earlier this month due to "inclement weather" according to company officials.

Fourteen million dollars in air pollution control equipment is being installed at the plant by workers for Research Cottrell, Inc.

A company spokesman said the new equipment includes electronic precipitation gadgetry to remove the overwhelming majority of pollution from Mt. Storm's stacks.

Ignorance isn't all it's cracked up to be.

When's the best time to call long distance?
"Who knows."
Should you dial it yourself?
"What's the difference."
Person to person or station to station?
"Who cares."
When it comes to long distance, ignorance is expensive. For instance.
Person to person can cost three times as much as the same direct-dialed call.

You should know the best times to call, too. Remember, long-distance is usually cheaper weekday evenings and on weekends until 5 p.m. Sunday.
And finally. Whenever possible dial direct. Direct-dialed calls carry a lower rate than calls that require operator assistance.*
Armed with these few simple facts you will become living testimony to the new age-old adage:
Knowledge is bliss.

*Dial-direct rates do not apply to coin, credit-card, collect, person-to-person, hotel-guest calls, calls charged to another number or calls to Hawaii or Alaska.

The more you know about your telephone, the more it's worth.

Half Staff . . .

The flag of the United States of America will fly for another thirty days at half staff, in honor of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, whose death occurred Monday of a heart attack, at 64.

For many years there has not been a time when this country was not without a living former president, and within a one month period two former presidents have been taken from our midst. The flying of the flag at half staff for Harry Truman, had not been completed before it was ordered by President Nixon for Mr. Johnson.

The country deeply feels the loss of these two former presidents.

There are four wives of former presidents, Mrs. Truman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower and Mrs. Jackie Kennedy Onassis.

Bolden

can't blame President Nixon for the cost overruns on the Bay Bridge, the land deals by public officials, the dope problem, and the pressures from the special interest groups that are so commonplace here in Maryland." He added, "No partisan cheap shot at the President is going to make us forget what is going on in the Mandel Administration either."

Commenting on the first week of the General Assembly, Delegate Bolden stated, "This first week set a regretable tone due to the Governor's cynical partisanship, secrecy and obvious favoritism to special interests while ignoring the public interest. This tone is not likely to serve the best interests either of the Assembly or the public."

Hyndman Matmen Win Over Northern

Don Richter and Lynn Brenneman recorded pins for Northern High in the final two matches but Hyndman High school had already accumulated enough points for the victory as the Hornets emerged with a 25-24 wrestling triumph over the Huskies last night at Accident.

The Pennsylvanians, now 4-3 on the campaign, got off on the right foot when Jeff Emerick took the opening match by forfeit. Floyd Shoemaker then scored an easy 9-1 verdict over Paul Tacket.

Jeff Ward surprised Northern's Julius Carey in the 117-pound class by needing only 29 seconds to score a pin. It was Hyndman's only pin of the evening.

Scoring decisions for the Huskies were Danny Durst, 114; John Platter, 128; Morris Warnick, 140, Lee Sutherland, 157. Richter and Brennemao made the final tally a close one.

The results:

Byron Seeks To Reinstate Rural Aid Program

Rep. Goodloe Byron expressed concern at the termination of the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) and said he would co-sponsor legislation to reinstate the program at its current funding level.

The federal cost-sharing program, which encouraged soil and water conservation practices on the part of farmers, was terminated last month by the Agriculture Department. As a result of the action Maryland farmers will cease receiving $808,000 in federal aid this year, including $237,100 allocated to the Sixth Congressional District.

REAP provided funding for 50 to 80 percent of the cost of specific conservation measures which Byron feels is "small" compared to the future costs to the environment if the program of pollution abatement and reforestation is permanently suspended and conservation practices become weakened.

DICK MARTIN

This week our article is featuring Dick Martin. His duties include the ordering and merchandising of the bakery, candy and health and beauty aids departments. To successfully handle this job, one must be efficient and alert. When Dick started working for us three and a half years ago, he performed his duties with enthusiasm and was always eager to learn something oew. We could easily see that he possessed the qualities of handling this important job.

Each week Dick must anticipate the sales in the bakery department. For instance, he must koow in advance how much bread to order. If he doesn't order enough, it could hurt the store's image and if he orders too much, the store suffers a loss. We think you'll agree that Dick's doing a fine job at keeping fresh bakery products available daily.

The health and beauty aids department which Dick supervises contains over 4,000 items. He must make sure that we have all the popular items in stock. He must be knowledgeable of all the oew items coming into the market as well as discontinuing the items with no appeal.

For all of you with a sweet tooth, Dick's the man who keeps you supplied with your favorite candy items.

The next time you shop Foodland, stop in front of our office and look down the long, 150-foot aisle. Everything you see displayed against the wall is Dick Martin's responsibility. You will see that his departments are clean, complete, and neatly displayed. We want to take this opportunity to say "Thank You" to Dick for his outstanding work.

Recently Dick has been trying to master the skill of bowling aod for a beginner looks real good. He and his wife Judy live in Crellin and have one daughter and are hoping to increase their family real soon.

Flu Not 'Epidemic'

Although it seems everyone you talk to just had the flu or is coming down with it, figures at the two county high schools and the hospital do not indicate that there is any serious problem with the illness as yet.

According to Merritt Feather, administrator of Garrett County Memorial hospital, admissions to the hospital in recent weeks have gone up only slightly. Mr. Feather stated that the flu increase "is not what you could call epidemic proportions," at least this week.

According to Carl H. Everly, vice-principal at Southern High School, "There has been some increase in absenteeism, but this week we had two days of extremely bad weather to account for it. Several buses didn't get in Monday." He also noted that their absenteeism has gone up only to 10 percent, and would have to reach 30 percent of pupils absent before it could be called epidemic.

Principal of Northern High School, Francis Harris, said much the same thing. His absenteeism usually is about 5 percent of the student body, and has increased to only 6 or 7 percent. Quite a number of Northern students were also absent on Monday, but Mr. Harris felt icy roads conditions had been the cause, not the flu.

Admissions Taxes Sizeably Increased

A marked increase in Admissions and Amusement taxes collected for October, November and December was shown by Louis L. Goldstein, comptroller. Revenues collected amounted to $1,184,588.68 as compared to $1,163,841.29 for the same period in the previous year.

The Comptroller noted that admissions tax revenues for the first six months had shown a thirty percent growth over a like period in fiscal year 1972.

The admission tax rates are set by local governments and cannot exceed 10 percent of the price of admissions. The Comptroller collects the tax for local governments and distributes the revenues on a quarterly basis.

The county by county distribution showed the Garrett county had received $2,355.97 for October, November and December.

Correction Needed

Introduces Legistation To Expand Elders' Act

In Washington legislation to extend and expand the Older Americans Act was introduced by Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. of Maryland, the ranking Republican member of the Senate Subcommittee on Aging.

Senator Beall's proposal would strengthen the Administration on Aging (AOA) by upgrading it to independent status within the Office of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare. In addition, the bill expands the authority and funding level of AOA.

"Under this bill, AOA will strengthen state aging units, foster the growth and development of local aging offices, and provide them with the technical know-how needed to meet the requirements contained in this legislation," Senator Beall said.

The bill includes provisions to expand and improve senior citizen centers, to expand the Volunteer programs for the elderly which are administered by the Action Agency, to train personnel to meet the needs of older Americans, and to support various research and demonstration projects involving problems of the aging.

The legislation introduced by Senator Beall is a modified version of a bill passed late in the 92nd Congress and subsequently vetoed by the President. The principal differences are the deletion of two man-power programs and a section dealing with the construction of new senior citizen centers.

Miss Steyer is the daughter of Lee Steyer, Deer Park; and Mrs. Dorothy Steyer, of Loch Lynn. Mr. McCartney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall McCartney, Crellin.

Clifford DeWitt, pianist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Robert DeWitt, who sang, "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white velvet. The gown was styled with an empire waist, small stand-up collar, with Juliet sleeves buttoned at the wrist with small white buttons. The chapel train was attached to a belt that fastened in the front with a bow. The gown and train were trimmed in white crocheted lace. Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion, was held in place with a white velvet pill box and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with pink sweetheart roses fastened to a white lace covered Bible.

Miss Denise Harvey was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink chilton over peau de soie, with burgundy velvet bodice and matching velvet headpiece. She carried a velvet muff to which was pinned a pink carnation. Mrs. Diana Nestor, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her dress was styled the same as the maid of honor and was mint green with dark green velvet trim. Her mulf was green with a green carnation.

The flower girl, Randi Sue McCartney, wore a floor length gown of pink chilton, styled as that of the bride. Her headpiece was a burgundy velvet bow. She carried a pink lace basket with two sweetheart roses, which she placed on the open Bible on the altar. The two roses represented two persons united in Christ.

John McCartney, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. Randy McCartney, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Robert Nestor, cousin, and Harmon McGee, foster brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Steyer chose a white wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. McCartney, mother of the groom, chose a purple crushed velvet dress with black accessories and a corsage of lilac colored carnations.

A reception followed in the church Sunday School room. Mrs. Diana Nestor registered guests. The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth with a pink net overlay. A three tiered wedding cake centered the table. Mrs. Janet Steyer cut the wedding cake assisted by Mrs. Janet Tichnel, aunts of the bride, and Miss Tammy Nestor. Miss Janie Upperman served the punch.

For traveling the new Mrs. McCartney chose a pale blue corduroy dress with matching accessories and a pink rosebud corsage, lifted from her bridal bouquet.

A graduate of Southern High school, she is employed at the II-P store. Also a graduate of Southern High school Mr. McCartney is self employed as assistant manager of the M. and M. Auto Body shop in Crellin.

The couple will reside in Deer Park.

Nine persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news release published by Sergeant James E. Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Three of the persons who lost their lives were drivers and six were pedestrians. One death could have been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in one of the deaths, speed in three and "driver error" in five.

Persons killed through January 21 totaled 41 compared to 46 for the same period in 1972.

Southern Loses To Beall 29-28

Southern High matmen lost a close contest to Beall High Mountaineers last Thursday evening at Frostburg by the score of 29 to 28.

Everett Baker, competing in the 185-pound class, registered his eighth victory of the season without a loss by decisioning Jim Ashby, which caused the turning of the tide.

Baker, who also has five pins to his credit, got his third decision scoring a 5-2 verdict.

The Mounties recorded a total of four pins, plus Bakers decision, and were involved in one deadlock. Southern had two pins and four decisions to go with their draw.

The Rams' pins were won by Ed Wolfe over Harry Thomas in the 134-pound class and by Chris Nichols over Kevin Jenkins in the unlimited class.

Jack Sowers, Hank Rebele, Charlie Stinson and Buster Rinker also won for Southern on decisions.

The results:

GAA Team Loses

The basketball team of the Girls' Athletic Association lost a game to the Terra Alta girls last Monday night in the local girls' gym by a score of 29 to 22.

At the end of the first quarter they were tied at 5-5. In the second quarter the Terra Alta team moved up to a two point lead going into the half.

In the second half Terra Alta extended the winning margin to seven points. Southern had a technical foul called for failing to report to the referee.

Juniors Plan for Prom

Holding their first meeting of the year, the juniors discussed topics concerning class projects. Prom committees were chosen and the classes voted on the prom theme. The choices were: "Color My World," "Song Sung Blue," and "Nights in White Satin."

March 15 and 16 is the date that has been set for the play, "Finders Creepers." Auditions will be held within the next few weeks.

Mike Bridgeman, representative of National Community Service, introduced a new fund-raising idea to the class. They will be selling calendars for a week. The calendars will sell for $3.00 and the class will make a dollar on each one sold.

Selling the calendars is one of the various money raising activities the junior class is planning. Their goal is $2,000 which is needed for the Junior-Senior Prom in May.

Sock Hop Planned

The Student Exchange Club is sponsoring a dance after the Southern-Valley game Friday night, January 26.

The dance which will be held in the cafetorium will require an ID card for admission. The admission is .50 cents per student. This is the first sock hop to be held after a basketball game this year.

Seniors Order Grad Supplies

Representatives of Jostens met with Southern seniors last Thursday to take orders for graduation announcements, name cards, thank-you notes, memory books and senior keys. The standard type was ordered with an engraving of the school inside.

At the same meeting seniors voted to buy their graduation robes instead of renting them. The Keepsake robes cost slightly more.

The senior class is in the process of choosing a play. They met last Friday and discussed the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace." They did not come to a decision because the cast requires ten male members and there may not be that many boys interested in participating.

Gas is precious, pure energy. Use it wisely.

Because natural gas has always been so inexpensive, there has never been a great urge to conserve it.
Until now.
Right now, there's just not enough natural gas to supply all the new demands for the cleanest-burning fuel.
Of course, as a gas customer, you don't have to worry about getting the gas you need for the appliances now in your home . . . or their replacements.
But the shortage of natural gas, indeed, the shortage of all clean-burning fuels, is becoming a grave threat to our community's economic growth.
More clean-burning gas is desperately needed.
Not only to stimulate economic growth and provide more jobs, but simply to maintain current requirements.
A healthy economy needs natural gas.
And a healthy environment needs natural gas.
Use gas wisely in your home and business.
It's too valuable to waste.
And the gas you save, together with the new gas Columbia is working hard to develop, can help ease the gas shortage.
Write to Columbia Gas for the free booklet: "30 Ways to Save."

One Hospitalized, Three Slightly Injured In Wrecks

One person was hospitalized and three others received slight injuries in two motor vehicle accidents last week in the southern portion of the county. Several trucks were involved in other accidents.

Sandra Kay Baker, 22, of Kasson W. Va., a passenger in the car of Dennis N. Kostie, 24, Monessen, Pa., was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an accident on the Sand Flat road near Spring Glade road the evening of January 15. Sandra Baker was discharged last Thursday. Kostie was only slightly injured. The car sustained disabling damage.

Kostie was traveling north on Sand Flat road when the vehicle started to skid and went out of control. The car then went across the road, spun around and came to rest on its side. Trooper Dale K. Williams charged Kostie with operating at too great a speed.

Donald Allen Wehr, 40, and a passenger, Susan C. Wehr, 38, of Star Route, Oakland, were slightly injured, in an accident which occurred Sunday about noon just north of the Oakland town limits on U. S. Route 219.

Wehr was traveling north on Route 219. A car driven by Tong Ran Forcier, 38, Athol, Mass. moving north on the north bound shoulder, pulled onto the roadway and was struck by the Wehr car. Tong Ran Forcier was charged with making an improper left turn by Trooper J. E. Foley.

Robert L. Helmick, Elkins, W. Va., was traveling north on U. S. Route 219 about a mile south of U. S. Route 50 Saturday morning. He lost control of the rig while attempting to round a right curve. The rig crossed the road, struck some guard rails and a bridge and turned over on its side. There were no apparent personal injuries but the car sustained disabling damage. Tfc. Robert E. Friend, charged Helmick with operating at too great a speed.

Michael W. Stahl, RD 2, Oakland, was traveling east in a truck on the Crellin road last Thursday evening, following an unknown light duty truck. Stahl passed the unknown truck and after passing it, the truck swerved across the center of the road and into the rear of the Stahl truck. The unknown truck then made a "U"-turn and crossed into West Virginia. Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis investgated.

Geraw L. Chadderton, Kitzmiller, was traveling east on State Route 135 about noon on January 15. Ronald E. Tasker, Swanton, made a left hand turn into the path of the Chadderton car and the two collided. Tasker was charged with failing to keep to the right side of the road by Tfc. Lewis.

Another wreck on Route 135 occurred at old 135 near the east end of Oakland about noon January 15. Charles E. Shillingburg, Deer Park, was in the process of making a left turn onto Route 135 from old 135 when it was struck by a car driven by Lawrence R. Hoban, Ridgeley, W. Va. traveling west on Route 135. Shillingburg was charged with failmg to stop as required, by Trooper J. E. Foley.

A hit-and-run mishap occurred on the Gorman road at Argyle Street, Loch Lynn, last Saturday afternoon William E. Orton III, Greenbelt, in a light duty truck, was traveling north on Route 219 and met an unidentified vehicle traveling south which crossed the center line of the road and struck the Orton truck on the left side. The unidentified vehicle failed to stop. No description of the vehicle was known. Tfc. Ronald S. Lewis investigated.

Julia Ann Fratz, Accident, was traveling south on U. S. Route 219 near Lake Shore Drive last Saturday about noon. Her light duty truck skidded on the snow-covered road, went out of control, ran off the roadway, struck an embankment and turned over on its top in the southbound lane. She was charged with traveling at a speed too great for conditions. The truck sustained disabling damage.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear parents, Frederick and Mary Ltta Holtschneider, who passed away January 10, 1957 (father), and January 27, 1967 (mother).

Because God knew your work was o'er,
Your children taught and grown,
He called you both to come and dwell,
Where no more work is done.
Where the golden sun doth never set,
And the skies are ever blue;
It's there we hope in God's good time,
Dear Parents, to be with you.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

Named Assistant Whip In 93rd Congress

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. has been selected as an assistant Republican whip in the Senate during the 93rd Congress.

The position will make Senator Beall responsible at various times for keeping track of proceedings and protecting his party's interests as legislation is brought to the floor of the Senate.

"In essence, the whip is a coordinator and watchdog whose purpose is to keep things moving, but not so fast that important considerations get overlooked or forgotten," Senator Beall said.

"The functions of a party whip are to keep other members notified of what legislation is coming before the Senate, to alert them of any late changes, and to make sure that procedural agreements are not made until members of the party have been consulted," he said.

Buy any new Volkswagen and we'll give you free service for 12 months/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work.

But our service plan does.

With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned, and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.

Lube jobs are free.

Spark plugs are free.

Points, condensers wiper blades, fuses hoses even light bulbs are free.

We'll look for trouble, too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.

Actually, for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because except for gas, tires and collision damage, your problems are our problems.

Now, what do we expect from you?

You have to buy a new Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Campmobile, or Type 4 from us.

You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagens maintenance schedule.

And you can't modify above certain limits.

That's it.

Except for one last detail.

We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us. Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

It was taught by Francis Deremer of Cumberland, Trust Officer of The First National Bank and Trust Company of Western Maryland. Classes were held at Garrett Community College. The class was attended by bankers from several different banks in both Allegany and Garrett Counties.

All three students have successfully completed AIB courses in Trust Functions and Services, Principles of Bank Operations, Economics, and Effective English. Garrett's Candlesticks

A striking exhibit in the State House is the silver service of the U. S. S. Maryland, designed by the son of Samuel Kirk, Henry C. Kirk, Jr. We looked into the glass ease surrounding it, and there immediately found the six silver candlesticks donated by Garrett County.

In 1904 the Governor's Commission under Gov. Warfield ordered for the ship a silver service, to be a portrayal of Maryland's history, and specifically to be a product of the state. Naturally the old house of Kirk was chosen, and it produced, in six months of intensive artistic labor, almost two hundred pieces of what Mayor Timanus of Baltimore rightly termed "so much beautifully designed and chased silver." In 1930 the ship was scrapped, but the masterpiece for our state is preserved in Annapolis. The cost was $5,000, donated by the various counties.

Mr. Kirk's research led him to illustrate on the candlesticks, along with rope borders as nautical symbols, the national eagle, and the seal of Maryland, the story of the Cumberland Road. We did not recognize at once a log cabin, but found it is the home of Thomas Cresap, who established his hospitable reputation near what was since the B & O Green Spring Station. We recognized the Cumberland Narrows, which became the actual route west after an act of Maryland's legislature in 1832 discarded the original heavy grade going over Will's Mountain. The "Gateway to the West" was surely the scene of many Conestoga wagons going by, and they also are depicted on the candlesticks. These old freight haulers were pulled by six horses each, bearing weights from six to ten thousand pounds. Freight hauling began the commerce for our western development.

The old taverns and wagon stands are shown, most of them from the Pennsylvania road route: the Johnson-Hatfield House near New Salem, the Scaright House at Uniontown, the 1797 Workman House at Brownsville, the Swan Tavern, and the Stone House near Braddock's Tomb. William Downard's watering trough at his stone house on Laurel Hill had its happy tales, but not so th "illared wooden structure at Somerfield termed "the Temple of Juno," which was destroyed by fire before water flooded that section.

As Marylanders, we appreciated these landmarks in silver, but our best attention was held to the tiny rounded brick toll house like no other, for it was the first toll gate on the Pike. From 1833 it is dated, coming from the years when individual states were given jurisdiction over the highway. Gone now are the Iron gates that once swung out on huge iron posts across the road between Frostburg and Cumberland.

But the crown of the candlesticks was a representation of the Casselman Bridge, which has stood from 1813 as a symbol of the quality of workmanship of these road builders. As the federal government had approved of "substantial stone bridges wherever the same may be necessary," it lost to Maryland's argument and built this single arch of stone instead of wood, leaving enough width for the C and O Canal to pass beneath. We stood before this little silver image, hearing the stages creaking and the whips cracking and the Casselman gurgling north in spring. That was the loveliest part of examining Garrett's candlesticks.

IN THE OPINION OF THE COURT

Scriptures selected by the American Bible Society

Copyright 1973 Keister Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Virginia

Crime, drug abuse, sexual license, contempt for society — on all counts the situation is worse, not better. Why do we no longer hear much about juvenile and parental delinquency?

First, the more common evil becomes, the less it is called delinquency. Lower standards enough and there are no delinquents!

Second, it wasn't juvenile or parental delinquency that caused our plight. It was spiritual delinquency. Millions in our society set their spiritual standards at a level where such delinquency became custom.

The thing to do with an opinion like this is to REVERSE it. That can be done by a Higher Court — such as an aroused citizenry, seeking every spiritual opportunity and fulfilling every religious responsibility that its churches provide and teach.

REBIRTH

Lesson for February 4, 1973

Background Scripture: Ezekiel 11:14-21; 36.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 15.

On the night of November 14, 1940 Hitler's incendiary bombs devastated the ancient British city of Coventry. Among the debris of destruction were the charred remains of the ancient cathedral of St. Michael. Henceforth, said Hitler, there would be a new word to denote total destruction: coventrate, a grim reminder of what his bombers had wrought at Coventry.

Rev. Althouse

"Father forgive"

In 1954 work was begun on a new cathedral for Coventry. Eight years later it was completed and was immediately acclaimed and denounced for its bold new architecture. Rising next to the preserved ruins of the old cathedral, the new St. Michael's is one of the most striking church edifices in the world.

Yet, exciting as is the new Coventry cathedral, in my several visits there I have found that most inspiring and significant is, not the new St. Michael's, but a simple charred cross and altar in the preserved ruins of the old. On the altar is a simple, yet profound inscription, "Father, forgive." It is the defiant answer of the people of Coventry to Hitler's challenge of hatred and vengeance.

Contrary, then, to Hitler's expectations, the word coventrate has come to denote, not fearful and wrathful destruction, but the redeeming, renewing love of Jesus Christ. The charred cross serves as symbolic reminder to all men that love, not hate, conquers and prevails by the grace of God. Out of the ruins of the ancient cathedral there has sprung up the phenomenon of rebirth.

"Not for your sake ... O Israel"

To the people of Judah in exile God sent the prophet Ezekiel to proclaim that, although they deserved to be abandoned by the Lord, nevertheless he would bring a rebirth from the ashes of tragedy. This would happen, not because they were worthy, but because he is gracious.

God would restore his people and eventually they would return to their homeland. But the greatest restoration of all would be within:

A new heart I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you; and I will take out of your flesh the heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes ... Ezekiel (36:26, 27).

The prophet is speaking of something that people often miss; it is not enough to be forgiven or even released from the consequences of our sins. What we need most of all is a new spirit within or else we are likely to continue on the same destructive course, repeating over and over again the same tragedies. Forgiveness is just the beginning; salvation is composed of both forgiveness and rebirth.

WHY ALL THE NEW REGULATIONS?

Not very many years ago the laws controlling the sale of medicines were pretty strict. Even such products as aspirin could not be sold except in a pharmacy and then only by a registered pharmacist. When these legal barriers were broken down, we fast became what the experts now call a "pill taking, drug oriented society."

It has reached such drastic proportions that now it has become necessary to try and put the brakes on with new regulations and laws. Frankly, we thought the public had their needs served better when medicines were only sold by people with training and knowledge of drugs.

Column For Homemakers

By Mrs. Freda Denison Extension Agent

Liquid Sunshine Mellows Wintry Days

Cold winds, freezing temperatures—what you need is some golden liquid sunshine, a brimming pitcherful of orange juice to dispense at mealtime and snacktime. Easy does it, too, with those handy cans of orange juice and frozen orange juice concentrate that are now in plentiful supply at reasonable prices, announced Mrs. Freda Denison, Ext. Agent, Home Economics.

Have you tried your hand recently at home baking? Once you've experienced it, you'll never forget the heavenly aroma of home-baked bread, rolls, and cakes, especially when oranges or orange juice are listed among the ingredients.

Use orange juice in cooking, too, for a gourmet touch. For an omelet to remember, use orange juice as the liquid, and top with grated orange rind, a sprinkling of chopped walnuts, and a dash of confectioner's sugar. An orange sauce is just the thing for roast duckling, orange marmalade for Cornish hens, an orange glaze for roast ham, an orange gravy for Hawaiian-style chicken; and orange juice for the liquid for a meat loaf. Take time to try some of these suggestions and your family will be rewarded.

Couple Married On December 23 In Bittinger

Miss Sharron Louise Broadwater and George Robert Shawley II were united in marriage on Saturday, December 23 at 2 o'clock in the afternonn at Emmanel Lutheran Church in Bittinger.

Pastor L. F. Danner performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladoli, ferns and white candles.

Miss Shelia Buckel, organist, played the traditional wedding march, the bridal chorus, and other nuptial selections.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Broadwater, Grantsville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Shawley, Bittinger.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length gown of bonded nylon lace, styled with an A-line skirt, long Elizabethan sleeves tapering at the wrists with tiny buttons, an empire waist with a high neckline edged with a lace ruffle, and small heart-shaped buttons down the front of the fitted bodice. Her chapel-length train was attached at the waist by a wide satin ribbon which encircled the waist and formed a bow and streamer down the front of the gown. The elbow-length veil of nylon net illusion was held in place by a crown of petals, pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white fugi mums, miniature white carnations and yellow roses with ivy.

Maid of honor was Miss Bonnie Broadwater, sister of the bride. She wore a floor length princess-styled gown of royal blue satin with a high, standup collar edged with tiny flowers, long fitted sleeves, a fitted bodice with a bow in the back, and tiny flowers down the front of the gown. Black patent accessories completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white carnations with yellow and white streamers.

The bridal gown and veil and the maid of honor's gown were styled and made by Miss Jane Wiley, cousin of the bride.

Edgar Resh, Grantsville, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Cowser, Bittinger, and Larry Schenk, Deer Park, both brothers-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue double knit dress trimmed in white with gold contrast buttons and black patent accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mother of the groom wore an apricot colored dress with a gold chain belt. White gloves and black accessories completed her ensemble. She wore a white carnation corsage.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the Bittinger Community Building. Mrs. Mary Jane Broadwater, Accident, cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Connie Kamp, Grantsville, presided over the punch bowl.

Others assisting with refreshments were Miss Jane Wiley and Miss Karen Broadwater, both of Grantsville, and Mrs. Molly Wiley, Baltimore, aunt of the bride. Miss Bonnie Broadwater, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Patricia Cowser, sister of the groom, helped with the gifts.

For a wedding trip through Pennsylvania, the new Mrs. Shawley chose an A-line mint green knit dress with long sleeves and a flowered bodice.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Northern High School. Mr. Shawley is also a graduate of Northern, class of 1969. He is employed by his father on their dairy farm.

Prior to the wedding, a kitchen shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Karen Bicker, Mrs. Mary Schenk and Mrs. Patricia Cowser, all sisters of the groom, at the home of Mrs. Bicker.

The couple will reside in Bittinger.

Strip Mine Bill, Others To Be Heard This Week

Several county-instituted bills are scheduled to come up for hearings in Annapolis this week, including one which would prohibit strip mining in areas where the slope is greater than 18 degrees.

Labeled House Bill 314, the strip mining measure would also prescribe a method to determine the slope and establish procedures for back filling.

The bill was introduced into the House as a result of Legislative Council work between sessions, and the hearing is slated for today at noon when the House Environmental Matters committee meets in Room 209 nf the Jeffrey Building.

If passed, the bill will mandate that cross-sections be made at 200-foot intervals in the strip mining areas, with no more than 2 out of 5 of the cross-sections exceeding 22 degrees, and the average slope of the five cross-sections not exceedng 18 degrees.

Backfilling would be done in accordance with the approximate original contour, as established in the rules and regulations of the Bureau of Mines and the Land Reclamation Committee.

Also provided would be that topsoil, subsoil and other material that can support vegetation would be saved and distributed on the surface of the backfill land to assure vegetative cover.

HB 139 Also Scheduled

Also scheduled this week is HB 139, to add approximately 3,130 acres of county land to the State Wildlands classifications.

The land is in the Big Savage Mountain area and hearings on the proposal were conducted last year in Oakland.

That hearing was also to be before the House Environmental Matters Committee.

On the Senate side, state scholarship bills will be aired before the Senate Finance Committee today at 3 p. m. in Room 100 of the Senate office building, including three being co-sponsored by Sen. William A. Wilson, (R. Allegany, Garrett).

One of the measures, SB 89, states that applicants for the scholarships may not be denied an award because of the score on the competitive examination which is required.

The word "passed" on the examination requirements would be deleted and replaced with "taken." Sen. Wilson said he introduced the bill at the request of the scholarship board because many excellent students get nervous when taking exams and their test scores may be low, although their scholastic abilities are above par. There are no provisions in the bill for a minimum score.

SB 90 would include vocational-technical schools in the list of learning institutions which can take part in the scholarship program.

The third Wilson bill is SB 338, which would give the same provisions of SB 89 for general scholarships as well as senatorial scholarships. Sen. Wilson said this measure also was requested by the scholarship board.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 96 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., FEBRUARY 1, 1973 | PER COPY 10c | NUMBER 49

Violation of Rights. . .

State Senator William A. Wilson was one of two members of the senate Judicial Proceedings committee voting against a bill to make wearing of auto lap and shoulder belts mandatory in Maryland, but it was approved.

The senator rightly termed it as "yet another example of another thing that the state would be telling you that you have to do."

The senator urged people interested in the bill to write to members of the General Assembly and express their feelings.

While it would be our hope that everybody would use seat belts, yet we feel such a law would be unconstitutional and a violation of an individual's personal rights, and his freedom of choice.

If such a law would become effective, it might logically follow that in the near future someone would pass a law requiring an individual to eat cheese, or to dress a certain way, or keep one's hair a certain length. There would be no limit to pass laws to compel people to conform to regulations, regardless of their personal desires.

Let's not go too far!

Discrimination has ended in another category and this time it is in the Homemaker of Tomorrow contest, or the search for the Betty Crocker winner. Sponsor of the contest is General Mills, Inc.

This year for the first time the contest was opened to both boys and girls and one of the county winners this year is Donald Richter, student at Northern High school. Representative from Southern High is Barbara Leighton.

Homemaking, ideally, has been a partnership undertaking by husband and wife, and the Betty Crocker search is planned to achieve these goals: to enhance the dignity and prestige of the American home; to stimulate interest in homemaking, and to emphasize the contributions to the home being made by high schools and their teachers.

Both winners will be entered in the search for a state winner, and then a national winner. Each state winner receives a $1,500 scholarship. Second place winner gets a $500 educational grant.

Barbara Leighton

Barbara is the daughter of Dr and Mrs. H. H. Leighton, Oakland and is serving as a Page at the General Assembly at Annapolis, representing Garrett county. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, captain of the color guard, vice president of the senior class and United Methodist Fellowship. She was a national merit scholarship semi-finalist and attended Girls State last summer. She plans to attend Princeton university. She attended a science seminar last summer at Rutgers university.

Donald Richter

Richter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Richter, Accident. Richter was co-captain of the Northern High football team, playing offensive guard and defensive tackle. He is a varsity wrestler, competing in the 185-pound class and currently has a record of seven wins and two losses. He is president of the Exchange Student Arrives In Oakland

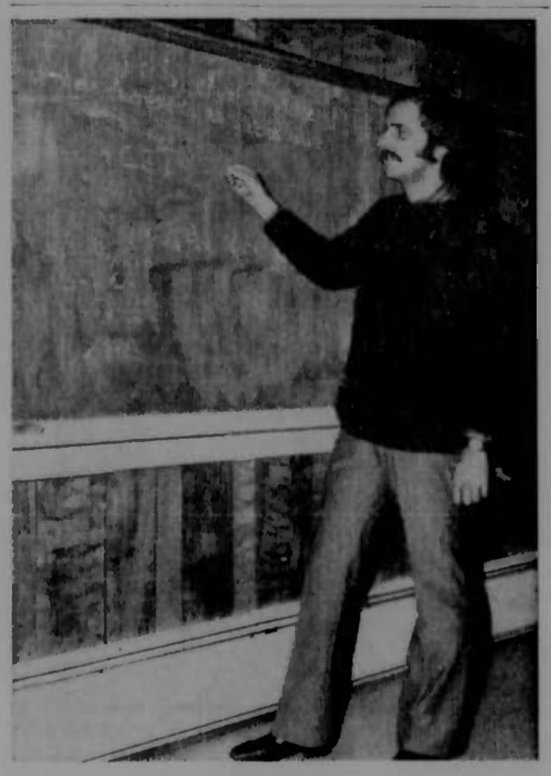
Luz Saavedra, 16, from LaPaz, Bolivia, arrived in Oakland early Tuesday to remain with several families here in a Rotary club student exchange program.

She was met at the Pittsburgh airport by Col. and Mrs. Haig Jackson and brought to Oakland where she will spend the first part of her visit with Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fischetti and their daughter Lenora. Lenora is able to converse in Spanish, which is Miss Saavedra's language.

There are three foreign students in the area who arrived at the same time, one going to Altoona, Pa., and the other to Meadville, Pa. The three were late arriving from South America and landed at the Miami airport too late to catch the scheduled plane for Pittsburgh, and were much later than expected.

She started attending classes at Southern High school on Wednesday morning and will continue her studies during her visit to this country.



MASTER OF SETS AND SUB-SETS—David P. Miller, Parent-School Coordinator, explains the concepts of NEW MATH to a class of enthusiastic, but somewhat bewildered parents in the Oakland area. About 75 persons are attending the two 4-session classes which will conclude this evening. Purpose of the classes is to help parents understand NEW MATH so that they may assist their children with their homework. NEW MATH is now being taught in all County schools from grades kindergarten through high school. Additional classes are being scheduled for the Grantsville-Friendsville and Kitzmiller areas later in February.

No Problems Here Thus Far With Fuel Oils

No Alarm Necessary Yet As Supplies Adequate But Not Abundant

All local fuel oil suppliers agree that continued cold, wintry weather could cause shortages in fuel oil supplies to Garrett county users, but so far there has been an adequate supply with no cause for alarm. Fuel oil suppliers in the Cumberland area also report adequate supplies so far.

Fuel oil is becoming in short supply nationwide, especially in the east and mid-west. Grade number 1, or kerosene, which is commonly used for space heaters and some trailer furnaces, seems in shortest supply at present, but no one anticipates a critical shortage unless cold weather continues without letup for a month or more.

Grade 2 fuel oil, which is most commonly used in home heating, is in adequate, but not abundant, supply.

All dealers agree that they will have enough fuel to service their regular customers through the winter, but most are not encouraging new customers at this time, especially those who are thinking of switching from coal to fuel oil.

Opinions as to when the fuel shortage might end vary from dealer to dealer, most felt that the critical time will end in approximately 45 days, as President Nixon has lifted the import quota on fuel oils, so that now there can be unlimited fuel importation.

However, one man thought the critical time might extend for the next two or three years, until new sources could be found.

Even if the present situation should become critical due to bad weather, no one should be left without fuel, as the companies plan to ration the fuel between users, possibly giving partial fill-up service every two weeks rather than filling tanks. One company plans to especially encourage summer fillups at least in 1973.

Statewide, the possible shortage has prompted the Bureau of Gas Company Also To Close Office At Lonaconing

Columbia Gas of Maryland will close its office at 19 Union Street, Lonaconing, on March 2, as part of its consolidation of customer accounting operations at Cumberland. The Oakland office was closed in the same manner December 29.

W. C. Deems, area manager, announced the move saying, "All customer account records maintained at Lonaconing will be transferred to the Cumberland office to achieve efficiency and economy, but service operations to the Lonaconing area will not be affected."

Service personnel will continue to operate from the Lonaconing Service Center to provide service and maintenance for the Lonaconing-Oakland areas. The Center serves 4,800 customers in Allegany and Garrett counties in Lonaconing, Oakland, Midland, Barton, Westernport, Luke, McCoole, Bloomington and smaller communities.

Deems noted that Columbia has made arrangements for convenient bill paying. He said customers may mail payments to Columbia's Cumberland office at 149 Baltimore Street or pay any of the following local business locations in area communities served: Lonaconing, Liberty Trust Company (all branches); Midland, Hazel Taylors; Barton, Barton Supply Company, and First National Bank of Oakland; Westernport, Luke, McCoole, and Bloomington, Brown's Wallpaper Store and First National Bank of Oakland, Westernport; and Garrett National Bank, Bloomington.

Called To Flue Fire

The firemen prepared to send two trucks to the scene when it was first thought to be the company store. There was no damage.

No Snow Forces Cancellation Of Snowmobile Races

The fifth annual Maryland State Championship Snowmobile Races, scheduled to be held this weekend, February 3 and 4, have been cancelled due to lack of snow.

No makeup date can be set this year, as the earliest possible time would be in March after the World Series races have been held.

In the past four years, snow conditions have never been exactly right, according to Dale Paugh, who is in charge of the event for the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Company, which is the sponsoring organization.

The races in January were postponed last year due to lack of snow, and when the makeup date arrived on February 5 and 6 snowplows were needed to clear a path for the racers.

Ken Sisler, Akron, Ohio, was last year's trophy winner, beating out 140 competitors.

Clarifies Interest Rate On Overdue Taxes

In order to clear up the new interest rate on overdue taxes, Mrs. Arzella Parsons, county treasurer announced that House Bill 689, codified as chapter 706 of the Laws of Maryland, effective last July 1, had increased the interest on overdue taxes from one half percent per month to two thirds percent per month, an increase of from 6 percent to 8 percent per year.

All tax bills from July 1, including those in arrears over previous years will be calculated at this new rate of interest, Mrs. Parsons said.

Regardless of what is printed on the tax bill, the recent law supersedes, she concluded.

More Marijuana Found At Gorman Over Weekend

Garrett county police recovered two more packages of marijuana, worth over $11,000, over the weekend.

The two new packages were found by Grant county, W. Va. deputy Schell in the area near the Gorman bridge. One package, found Saturday, weighed 19 pounds, and the second, discovered on Sunday, tipped the scales at 19½ pounds.

They were in cheap paper wrappings, like the 201 pounds found Friday, January 19 after an automobile accident at the bridge. Patrick Dean Palmquist, 20, of McAllen, Tex., is being held on a charge of possession of a controlled substance (marijuana). Young Palmquist reportedly was unemployed at the time, and was enroute to Washington, D. C. to sell the marijuana.

This brings the total amount found so far to 239½ pounds. Mr. Palmquist allegedly told authorities that there had been 150 pounds of the pot in his vehicle. Total street value of that amount is over $70,000.

The package on Sunday was found by a hobo as he was passing through the area. He had turned the package over to the West Virginia authorities, and they passed it on to Maryland police.

On Monday members of the Garrett County Sheriff's department, the Maryland State Police and Grant county police continued searching the area for additional packages, but one spokesman felt that they had found all the marijuana that was recoverable.

Two Thefts Reported

A breaking and entering and two thefts were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's department during the past week.

On January 27, Delano Martin, Crellin, reported the theft of a tape player and some tapes from his car while it was parked along Route 219 north. Tfc. Broadwater of the Maryland State Police is continuing the investigation.

On January 29, a breaking and entering and larceny was investigated along Mayhew Inn Road. Roland Koger, Glen Burnie, reported someone had broken into his trailer there and stolen nearly every item of value.

Missing were all the furniture, bedclothes, pots, and pans, dishes, silverware, even the motor in the refrigerator.

Members of the sheriff's department are investigating.

$500 RESCUE SQUAD DRIVE—Beroie Zlomek, left, president of the Garrett County Rescue Squad, receives a check for $500 from Nordeck Shaffer, executive vice president of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland, as an initial gift in the campaign for $10,000 in its funding drive. The Rescue Squad is endeavoring to raise the $10,000 which would provide free ambulance service to the southern area of the county. Some forty persons are taking a 27-week course of training in order to become qualified emergncy medical technicians. The Garrett National provided the first large contribution.

County Could Continue To Have One Delegate

That Garrett county could elect a member of the House of Delegates, in spite of the new proposed realignment of voting districts was pointed out last week by the Board of Election Supervisors office.

If the new alignment is approved by the legislature, there would be one delegate for district 1-A named from all of Garrett county and seven districts in Allegany county. As of December 1, there were 3,888 voters in the Allegany county districts, and 9,854 registered voters in Garrett county as of October 10.

The Allegany county voters in those seven districts are divided at 937 Democrats, 2,926 Republicans, 24 declined and one other.

In the proposed realignment there would be district 1-B, which would elect two delegates, both of Allegany county, and the voters would be in election districts 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 17, 20, 22, 23, 24, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 34, and 35, of Allegany county.

There would also be a district 2-A, which would elect one delegate, with voters from election districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 16, 21, and 33 of Allegany county, and election districts 4, 5, 15 and 29 from Washington County.

$13,615 Grant To Aid Senior Citizen Program In County

The Garrett County Community Action Agency announced that it had been awarded a $13,615 grant for a Senior Citizens Center Program under Title III of the Older Americans Act. This grant, coupled with various "in-kind" funds and $1,413 matching grant from the County, will enable the Agency to initiate an $18,000 Program.

According to Duane Yoder, Project Director, the Program was designed to 1) prepare the ground-work for opening or continuing a Hot Meals program in five communities; 2) open five Senior Citizens Centers throughout the County for recreational and educational activities; and 3) provide planning for long range programs which would affect the problems facing the elderly in Garrett County.

Mr. Yoder added that there are presently three communities, Crellin, Jennings, and Kitzmiller, which have located space for their Centers. Each community will organize a local committee to administer funds and to plan activities.

Each Center is to be furnished to the extent that it can provide a comfortable setting and enough activities are to be organized to keep the Center open for at least two days per week.

Although the Centers can be used for "simply" visiting, such organized activities as crafts classes, games and educational programs are also planned. Other agencies and groups will also be able to use each Center to facilitate better outreach efforts.

Although Community Action has previously sponsored a Hot Meals Program for Senior Citizens, this is the first program which was funded by the State Commission on Aging. Both the Garrett County Commission on Aging and Community Action

Huskies-Rams To Meet Tomorrow

The second basketball game between the Northern High Huskies and the Southern High Rams will be held tomorrow evening, Friday, February 2, at Oakland. The game will get underway at 8 o'clock with a preliminary game beginning at 6:30.

The outcome of the game will have a bearing on the county championship but will not affect competition in the district playoffs as Northern is in class C and Southern in class B. The classes are determined by the number of male students in the senior high divisions.

In the first encounter of the two teams last month at Accident Southern won by a score of 75 to 47.

Alcoholism Program Here Gets Favorable Evaluation

Dr. William Pope, county health officer, and James R. Stanton, program director announced this week that a favorable evalution has been given the Garrett County Alcoholism Services in Oakland.

An evaluation was held January 11-12, with personnel from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, National Council on Alcoholism, and the Division of Alcoholism Control, State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene participating.

The Alcoholism services, a section with the local Health Department, provides treatment and follow-up to alcoholics and their families within the county.

John P. Kleman, N.C.A., stated that the local program "is one of the better" he has seen in the U. S. "The staff is providing services in five areas of Garrett County, and has developed a good referral base with a range of local agencies sending persons for help. The program is receiving good cooperation from local service agencies. Because of its newness, the program is still not widely known, however seminars and training programs have already been offered or are in the planning stages. Care is taken to track clients, thus preventing them from getting lost in the system of care."

"It's my feeling the program is off to a good start," he continued. "Guidelines are observed, staff is strategically placed for maximum coverage. Health Department administration is offering good support and Mr. Stanton is providing excellent leadership."

The main office of the Alcoholism Services is located at 202 S. 4th Street in Oakland, with hours Monday-Friday, 8:30-4:30. Twenty-four hour coverage is maintained by the staff for alcoholics, problem drinkers, and their families. Centers are also open in Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Friendsville, and Crellin. The public is invited to visit the center at any time.

Murray Youth Badly Burned On Beltway

Chain Reaction Mishap Near Washington Causes Explosion

James Murray, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Murray, Oakland was critically burned in a chain reaction accident on the Capitol beltway, I-495, about 7:15 last Friday morning, when his automobile exploded, enveloping him in flames.

He is a patient at Washington hospital center special burn ward, in intensive care, suffering from burns over 58 percent of his body.

The accident occurred when one vehicle, a tractor trailer carrying fertilizer, suddenly changed lanes, striking one vehicle on the side and a second in the rear. One person was killed and eleven were injured, including the Murray youth. The other eight vehicles involved were following too closely and were unable to stop to avoid the original crash.

A news story in the Washington Post carried the following information: The fatality was Dennis Austin Cessna, 44, of Indian Head, enroute to his job at Bolling Air Force base. The truck was driven by Russell A. Taylor, 25, Fruitland. It came to a halt on top of Cessna's car, crushing it. Cessna's car exploded and by the time the flames had been doused 15 minutes later he was burned beyond recognition. The truck was also destroyed by flames.

James Murray, 19, of Oxon Hill, student at Strayer's college in Washington, was in his Chevrolet in front of Cessna. His car caught on fire and blew up. Nearby motorists rescued him, rolling him in the grass to extinguish the flames from his clothes, taking him to Cafritz Memorial hospital.

Murray's third degree burns were from the waist down, and from his elbows across his hands.

Ten others were injured, none seriously. Eight cars and three trucks were involved. One state policeman reported there were six explosions from gas tanks and blown tires.

Robert Neal, of LaPlata, stopped in his truck, told of grabbing a blanket and "went running back and to the first car that I came to which was on fire. There was a young boy. He was running down the road calling for help." He was on fire, all his clothes, shoes and all. "I threw my blanket around the

Six Are Injured In Two-Car Wreck North Of Oakland

Six persons were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a 2-car collision on U. S. Rt. 219 near the County Roads Garage just north of Oakland Tuesday about one p. m.

The DeWitt car was stopped headed north on Route 219 preparing to make a left turn. Fearer following, failed to notice the DeWitt car ahead being stopped and struck it in the rear.

Tfc. G. D. Broadwater investigated and charged Fearer with tailing to reduce speed.

The Fearer car sustained disabling damage and the DeWitt car, functional damage.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me

Where can I buy a Golden Eagle Passport?

The 1973 "Golden Eagle" Passports to outdoor recreation are available at all areas of the National Park System where entry fees are charged, and at all first and second class Post Offices. The Passports cost $10 and provides entry for the holder, and persons accompanying him in a single vehicle to all Federal parks and recreation area. A special "Golden Age" Passport is issued to persons 62 years of age or older at no charge.

When will you be visiting smaller communities on a district tour?

During the Washington Birthday recess in mid-February I will be meeting with citizens in Middletown, Halfway, Clear Spring, Flintstone, Mt. Savage, Grantsville, Oakland, Kitzmiller, Westernport, Lonaconing, Damascus, Glenwood, Sykesville, Finksburg, Taneytown, and Thurmont. Exact times and dates are available from my Washington office and my district offices in Cumberland, Hagerstown, and Simpsonville.

I have read that the manufacture of animal feeds containing DES has been stopped by the Food and Drug Administration, but when will its use be prohibited?

The use of DES, a hormone used to stimulate rapid growth of cattle and poultry, was ordered halted by the FDA earlier last month. The hormone has been implicated in tests possible cause of cancer.

How will cost-of-living increases affect the pension bill you recently introduced in Congress.

Under the proposed legislation the recent social security increase, as well as future cost-of-living increases, would not be taken into consideration in determining eligibilty for a veteran's pension and compensation. As you know, such pensions can now be reduced when monthly increases change a veterans income level.

Do you have a special seat assigned to you in the House of Representatives?

Congressmen were assigned individual seats up until the 63rd Congress, but now any Member may sit where he chooses. Democrats occupy the east side of the House chamber, on the Speaker's right; Republicans sit across the main aisle on the Speaker's left.

Where can I obtain a copy of the recent government study relating to the effects of violence on T. V.?

A copy of "Violence and Media" has been published by the National Business Council for Consumer Affairs. It is available for twenty cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

I recently read about some legislation that would allow Park Rangers to make on-the-spot arrests of individuals in our National Parks. What is it all about?

You are probably referring to legislation introduced in Congress which would allow members of the U. S. Park Police and National Park Service Rangers to make arrests without a warrant for any felony or misdemeanor committed in their presence in a National Park. The measure is pending before the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, but no hearings have been scheduled at this time.

When will people under 65, who are now getting social security disability payments, be eligible for Medicare coverage?

Disabled persons who have been getting social security disability benefits for at least two years will be eligible for Medicare beginning in July.

I understand that astronaut Wally Schirra has been appointed to the National Parks Advisory Board. What does this Board do and how much will Schirra be paid?

The 11-member Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments makes recommendations on programs and proposed additions to the National Park System and the National Registries of National, Historic and Environmental Education Landmarks. Members of the Board serve without compensation other than traveling expenses and a per day allowance when engaged in the discharge of their duties. The Board meets three times annually, twice in Washington and once in a field area of the National Park System.

What is the Environmental Quality Corps?

A bill was introduced in the House last year to establish an Environmental Quality Corps as an independent agency within the executive branch. Under the proposal, Corps volunteers (consisting of 18 to 26-year-olds) would "provide manpower for projects designed to better the environmental quality for all Americans." The bill, H.R. 11537, is currently pending before the Education and Labor Committee.

Last August my doctor said I could not work any more and would have to sell my business. I applied for disability benefits but was turned down. Can you help?

Upon receipt of your letter my office contacted the Bureau of Disability Insurance. As you are now aware, based on additional evidence, your claim for social security disability benefits has been approved. Citizens experiencing similiar difficulty in receiving benefits justly due them may feel free to contact my office for assistance.

Where can our school get information and publicity materials on the Presidential Physical Fitness Awards?

Logbooks, qualifying standards and publicity materials may be obtained by writing: Presidential Sports Awards, P. O. Box 129, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019 or President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, Washington, D. C. 20202.

When are you going to send out another questionnaire?

A ten-question survey, covering key issues facing our Nation, will be included in my next newsletter mailed in mid-February. I hope all 6th District residents will take a few minutes to express their ideas and opinions on the survey, because the answers will aid me in making decisions on legislation coming before the 93rd Congress.

I understand that social security monthly payments will be figured differently for retired men in the future. Could you explain this change?

Beginning this year, a man who reaches age 62 will have his earnings figured over a period one year shorter than under the old law. In 1974 it will be two years shorter, and in 1975 and thereafter, eligibility and benefit amounts will be figured over the same period as for a woman of the same age. Since retirement payments are based on a worker's average earnings this change will eliminate more low-earnings years and result in higher monthly social security checks for men who reach age 62 in the future.

Everyone talks about fuel being in such short supply, but are there any government booklets which tell you how to conserve this precious resource?

Information on saving fuel and reducing heating costs during the winter is available from Consumer Product Information, Washington, D. C., 20407. You might want to request the 25 cent pamphlet entitled "7 Ways to Reduce Fuel Consumption In Household Heating."

I'm a VA pensioner who has just moved, and wonder what office should be notified about my change of address?

Your change of adress should go to the VA regional office where your records are kept and to the post office which serviced your old address.

Truck Is Found

The van which was stolen at the Fitzwater Furniture company east of Mt. Lake Park earlier this month and used by thieves to haul away more than several thousand dollars worth of televisions and stereos from the store, was recovered Sunday in Keyser.

Owned by Edward Fitzwater the van was used by intruders after they entered the furniture store and removed 10 television sets and three stereos.

Keyser City police received a report of an abandoned vehicle and after a check, discovered that the vehicle was the stolen van. None of the missing merchandise was in the van.

A member of the Sheriff's office in Oakland said license plates were stolen in this county on January 19, and the tags were on the van when it was found. Police are continuing an investigation of the theft. It was reported a man and a woman were seen in the van recently.

Mathias Named To Commission

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) has been appointed to the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. He is one of four Senate members.

As a member of the House, Senator Mathias introduced legislation creating the Commission, which is charged with developing a program to commemorate the nation's bicentennial celebration in 1976.

"The bicentennial should not be limited to bellringing and bonfires. It should be a time to explore the past two centuries and reclaim, in all its fullness, all the depth of emotion, the angulsh and the ideals that went into the founding of the nation. As a member of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, I hope to help guide such efforts, so that we may develop a sure sense of where we stand as we face the next two hundred years,' Senator Mathias said.

Earlier this year, Senator Mathias was critical of the lack of progress in planning for the bicentennial year, and he requested a study of the commission's operations by the General Accounting Office.

"The commission has been active in important preparatory work with state groups and others, but the GAO report concludes that it is still too early to tell whether the nation's bicentennial will be a success," the Maryland Republican said.

Air Quality Control to relax the stringent rules governing industries' use of residual oils.

Maryland is the only state which sets standards tough enough to prevent the use of residual oils without the use of dust collectors to remove particulate matter from smoke.

Allowing use of lower-grade residual oils would free more No. 2 grade oil for home use.

However, in this county, only No. 1 and 2 grades are used, and there are no industries here which require large amounts of fuel oils for their manufacturing.

Don Bender, Vice President of the Commission, pointed out that since this was one of the first of such efforts, as many participants as are possible need to be involved in the planning of the Project is to be a success. Mr. Yoder indicated that all interested persons should contact the Community Action Agency. He also said that even with existing funds, "in-kind" conlributions in the form of cash donations, recreational equipment and furnishings are being sought.

The need for a Center space in Friendsville and Oakland was also pointed out. Presently, these are the only two communities which have not located such a space and are unable to go ahead with further plans until such a facility is found.

Uniontown, Pa. He gradnated from Penn State with his B. S. degree, and received his M. D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

He has always been interested in Garrett County, and has spent parts of the last ten summers as a resident at Deep Creek Lake, guests of his present in-laws on Boy Scout Road. It was there he met his wife, the former Marilyn Wallace, and they were married in St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland.

When time permits, Dr. Johnson loves to sail and both water and snow ski.

He says he's looking forward to coming here, and has located a house this week on Broadford Road. He noted that so far everyone here has been very helpful and encouraging, and stated his appreciation for such help.

Dr. Alvarez stated that Dr. Johnson "is a very nice fellow," and that "we're very happy to get him."

The new medical building under construction beside Garrett County Memorial Hospital is progressing as weather permits, and Dr. Alvarez is still hoping for a June or July completion date.

Dr. Alvarez undertook to construct and fully equip the 50 by 80 feet brick building in an effort to attract young physicians to the Oakland area.

Victor T. McCauley, 50, of Hillcrest Heights, whose car was to the left of Cessna's Mercedes, caught fire after it was splashed with gasoline. He battled a fire in the front seat. McCauley was burned on his back, left leg and back of his head. He was listed in satisfactory condition at Cafritz hospital.

The tractor trailer was burned. The driver was released from the hospital after being treated for minor injuries.

A report from Mr. and Mrs. Murray, who are remaining at the boy's bedside, on Wednesday morning indicated some improvement but that he was still critical and in intensive care at the hospital. He will in all probability have to remain hospitalized for five to six months.

Operating While Intoxicated Draws Heavy Court Fine

Operating a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition drew a $100 fine in District Court from Judge Lewis R. Jones Tuesday.

Marcellus Stump, Keyser, W. Va., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition on the Oakland town parking lot last Friday about one p. m.

Stump was entering one of the driveways of the parking lot from a westerly direction and collided with three cars standing in spaces marked off. He actually hit one causing a chain reaction pushing one into the other. There were no apparent injuries.

A car of Alonzo D. Cummings, Gormania, was the first one hit, this in turn was pushed into the car of Mrs. Mary L. Browning, Center Street, Oakland, and this in turn was pushed into the car of Elmer Eugene Fike of Baltimore.

Varying amounts of damage were sustained by the three cars with the Browning car being the worst. The Browning and the Stump cars were both towed away.

Stump had been held in the Garrett County Jail in default of payment of the $500 bond until the trial Tuesday. In addition to the fine, $5 costs were paid.

Officer Harland E. Ream of the Oakland Police investigated the accident.

Tour Of Trees

You are known as a tree addict if you have, on various travels, had your picture snapped while seated on a knobby end of the Wye Oak, spreading your arms around a sequola, and gazing at some virgin hemlocks on the Skyline Drive. But there is consolation in the idea of joining the great in thought: both Washington and Jefferson enjoyed trees. From Thomas came the pecan trees that grew into the tallest trees at Mount Vernon. Thereby, and also because our Allegheny Plateau is so unique in its sylvan characteristics, your author disregards those who sneer at such primitive leanings. For trees have unique stories, just as some people have colorful backgrounds.

Going south we may encounter two great trees, aloof in their independence. In Knott County, Kentucky, at Pippa Passes, you see a sycamore which by deed owns itself. Its ground was donated to it by a group of people. In Athens, Georgia, a farmer reserved, in his will, eight feet of land on each side of a white oak tree, given expressly to that plant "in consideration of the great love I bear this tree and the great desire I have for its protection for all time."

Thomas Edison's home at Fort Myers, Florida, is spacious and conducive to study, but his outdoors experiments for finding a source of synthetic rubber are outstanding. Here we see his banyan tree, the essence of a walking plant, which reaches down to root with several feet of its last root, then stretches out to horizontal growth, giving the effect of pillars. To walk around and through this self-contained grove is to appreciate a wonder so spacious that in its native east India it serves as an apartment house. A tale is told of one ganyan tree sheltering 7000 men belonging to the forces of Alexander the Great.

Everyone knows about sequoias, but it is a fact that no person ever visualizes their grandeur without seeing the real trees. A movie screen may convey the idea of beauty or height, but until you stand beside a specimen in the Giant Forest in Sequoia National Park or in Mariposa Grove as you leave the southern end of Yosemite, no stretch of mind can help you to understand the feeling of a big sky transferred to bark and needles. Two little lamps of sequoia wood gleam darker each year as reminders of this obsequious attitude struck in the beholder as he gazes up, up, to where he can scarcely conceive of a tree growth. Then he must feel further awe at the sight of a cone, tinier than a hemlock's.

Let no one tell you that the Lone Cypress on the Monterey Peninsula is the most remarkable tree in the region, for all along the 17 Mile Drive, at the Cliffs where ocean breakers roll are the Monterey cypress trees, each in a wind-strewn silhouette. The Lone Cypress is distinctive in that it is the westernmost growing tree, you might say, next door to Japan, with the Pacific between them.

The Digger pine of California is a picture of Christmas in summer with only natural decorations. On a high ridge near Salinas stood a sturdy one, with immense cones, at least 5 to 8 inches long, bathed in pitch and glistening in the intense sunlight. It was a most beautiful part of an otherwise common evergreen, and two cones came back to contrast with our Maryland cone collection.

Weather Of Week Is Winter-Like But Month Is Not

Weather during the past week has been more winter-like with some colder temperatures and even a bit of snow. A monthly check up shows that temperatures have averaged near the normal while precipitation, including snow, has fallen far short of the normal.

Other than clear skies last Thursday and again Monday night and late afternoon Tuesday, skies have been cloudy to partly cloudy. Rain last Friday night and Saturday amounted to three quarters of an inch which, incidently, was also the wettest day of the month. Snow started falling Sunday night and continued into Monday depositing about an inch.

The warmest day of the week was last Friday with a 60 degree reading. Only on one day did the mercury stay below freezing and that was Tuesday with a low of 8 degrees and a high of 22. Temperatures remained above freezing from Friday through Sunday, day and night.

Gusty winds of 25 to 35 m.p.h. or more accompanied the snow Sunday night and into Monday.

Temperatures for January averaged about a half degree below normal. Highs averaged 38.8 degrees or almost the normal of 39 degrees. Lows averaged 18.5 degrees as compared to a 19.4 normal. Precipitation for the month was 2.22 inches against a normal of 4.38 inches or a little more than half the normal. Snowfall fell far short of the normal with only 2.8 inches falling which is just about a foot short of the normal of 15.2 inches.

Statistics are based on figures supplied by Logan Weber, local observer for the National Weather Service.

A public celebration is being planned this coming summer.

Gary "Dusty" Stanton spoke to representatives of Maryland colleges and universities and members of the State Department of Education in reference to training teachers in Career Education, at a meeting at the Friendship International Hotel near Baltimore on Tuesday.

Mr. Stanton was one of five representatives from Maryland counties who spoke at the meeting.

Career Education is being implemented in the Garrett County school system by Mr. Stanton and Matthew W. Novak, Jr. and it is planned to be put into effect this coming fall.

During January the group lost 70 pounds and gained 17, with one member reaching her goal.

School Career Club Plans "Heart" Activities

Members of the Health Career club of Southern High school are planning a number of activities in support of the Heart fund campaign.

They are conducting a king and queen contest in the senior high. Each club at Southern is to pick a king and queen candidate and the winners will be selected on February 9, depending upon the amount of votes received. Votes depend upon the money received at a penny a vote. The king and queen will be re-crowned at the last home basketball game on February 27 with the winners being guests at the heart ball in Cumberland.

The club also plans a "slave week," February 12-16. A number of students will be chosen to be slaves, and their services will be sold at the Southern cafeteria 8:30 to 8:45. Slaves will carry books, take up lunch trays and put on coats of persons who have bought their services.

Also planned on Valentine's day is "Red and white day" when persons not in red and white will be compelled to donate to the heart fund.

Heart fund money is also to be collected at each home game. Envelopes are also being sent to homes for donations and there are containers in home rooms.

Woodworking Hobby Keeps Mt. Lake Couple Happy

Complete with canopy bed, rocking chair and Venetian blinds is this doll house display of Mr. and Mrs. John Rembold. Both have spent untold hours cutting and finishing these little items with loving care, for sale or to give to family and friends

by Carol Canan

What are you planning to do with your leisure-filled years after retirement? Sit around and watch the world go by your windows, watch tv, nap a lot?

Or are you planning to keep busy, keep people interested in you keep happy.

If you prefer the latter picture, read on to see how two Mountain Lake people have taken an interest in a new (to them) and engrossing hobby which helps them a little financially, too.

John and Missouri Rembold seem to believe firmly in working and relaxing, together. Both have worked hard all their lives. He as a blacksmith and machinist, she with her gardening, children, and endless household chores.

Now they spend their days in the basement of their home, making and designing doll houses and furniture, and repairing nearly anything that has been made of wood. They also design and make small items, such as picture frames and bird houses.

Mrs. Rembold says her job is running the band saw, while Mr. Rembold runs his wood and metal lathe. The walls of their basement are lined with chunks, hunks and slabs of wood, most of which Mr. Rembold obtains as scrap pieces from lumber mills.

People who know of their hobby often bring them pieces of wood which are unusual or oddly shaped, knowing that John and Zuric can always make use of it.

People from as far away as Baltimore and Annapolis, Burlington and Morgantown, W. Va., have heard of their prowess at repairing or designing items of wood, and come to them to ask for custom-made items or to buy what they have in stock. Carloads of people have driven many miles to see their products and chat with them.

It takes several hours of tedious work to finish even a small chair such as the ones Mrs. Rembold is shown holding.

The idea for their woodworking enterprise came to Mrs. Rembold "just out of the blue," according to her. She said that she had always liked to hammer, saw and drive nails, and one day she got the idea for and made a tiny rocking chair. They use wood scraps for [illegible] furniture and small [illegible] pieces of wood, such as [illegible] sold to doctors for swabs for chest rubs.

As the items proved saleable, their "repertoire in wood" has grown until they can make all the items needed to complete a doll house, with coffee and end tables, beds, stairs, lamps, Venetian-type blinds, deacon benches, dining tables, and on and on.

More complicated and larger items Mr. Rembold has tried include a replica of a spinning wheel and cradles and chairs.

These two also enjoy putting their minds to work to make something better, more useful, more attractive, or all three. Mrs. Rembold evidently believes in the motto that you can do anything you set your mind to, and she proves it. When custom-making a bird feeder recently for a Morgantown couple, she added a second story with openings and perches at each end, for a combination bird hotel-dining room.

Mrs. Rembold is also interested in carving and does such work on their articles, using whatever design pops into her head. Before her doctor told her to stop, she also enjoyed other handwork, especially hooking rugs and crocheting.

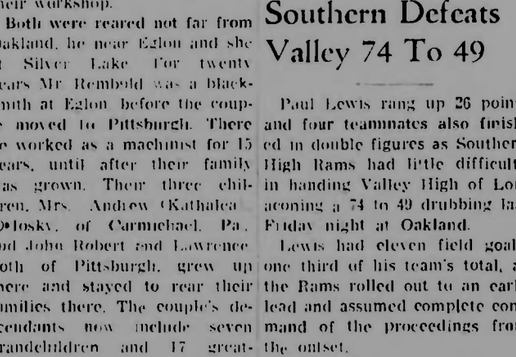
Now being liberated, and loving household, they share household chores, their gardening work, cooking and their free time, which they often spend watching the various television programs. And of course, both are nearly equally at home in their workshop.

Both were reared not far from Oakland, he near Eglon and she at Silver Lake. For twenty years Mr. Rembold was a blacksmith at Eglon before the couple moved to Pittsburgh. There he worked as a machinist for 15 years, until after their family was grown. Their three children, Mrs. Andrew (Kathaleen) Oslosky, of Carmichael, Pa., and John Robert and Lawrence, both of Pittsburgh, grew up there and stayed to rear their families there. The couple's descendants now include seven grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Their move here was well planned, as they bought the property in Mt. Lake some years before retirement, and began acquiring quite a few of the tools they would need to engage in their hobby. Now their equipment includes a jig saw, band saw, planer, spindle shaper, the lathe and hundreds of assorted files, bits, hammers, etc.

They have a few antiques, including an oil lamp that they used when they first started housekeeping in 1915. Each of their cherished items has a meaningful story behind it.

These two gracious and friendly elderly people are living proof what planning for retirement can bring, if a couple will but "work together."



Graceful legs and cushioned seats adorn these chairs, products of Missouri Rembold's boundless imagination and skillful work.

Happy in his work is John Rembold, shown operating his lathe in his workshop basement. He and Mrs. Rembold practice "women's lib" by sharing all chores, from woodworking to housework, since his retirement as a machinist.

LESTER STEYER

Did you ever wonder how we keep our store so clean? Some shoppers have commented that our supermarket is the cleanest that they have ever seen. We like to hear those kind of compliments and now we want you to know who's responsible for doing such a fine job. He is Lester Steyer, our sanitation engineer. We became acquainted with Lester while our store was being constructed. He actually helped build the building. Upon completion of our store in 1964 we hired Lester with the agreement that he would keep the store looking just as it looked when it was constructed. For over eight years now he has never let us down.

Although most of you have never seen Lester at work, we're sure that you're aware of the fine job he is doing. The reason you don't see him is because he has to perform his duties during the night shift. Every night, regardless of the condition of the floor, he scrubs every inch of the 18,000 square feet of shopping area. In addition to that he removes all of the day's garbage and sanitizes the restrooms and breakareas. Periodically he also scrubs the wareroom and carpets. Waxing of the floors is also his chore and is done on a strict time schedule.

Every night there are approximately ten men busy stocking shelves and Lester must coordinate his job with his fellow workers so that in the morning the floor is shining and the shelves are fully stocked. We're proud of the way our cat-eye shift is able to perform this task each night. It's through their hard work that we are able to have a smooth running operation.

Lester realizes the importance of his job and we wanted everybody to know who it is that is directly responsible for making our store the most sanitary market in the tri-state area. It is our wish that if you ever see Lester Steyer that you congratulate him on the fine job that he is doing for our company.

Lester and his wife Opal reside on a farm in the Gorman area where they raise beef cattle. They have two sons and three grandchildren.

Southern Defeats Valley 74 To 49

Paul Lewis rang up 26 points and four teammates also finished in double figures as Southern High Rams had little difficulty in handing Valley High of Lonaconing a 74 to 49 drubbing last Friday night at Oakland.

Lewis had eleven field goals, one third of his team's total, as the Rams rolled out to an early lead and assumed complete command of the proceedings from the onset.

Southern led at the quarters by scores of 20-14, 38-26, and 58-32, and at no time could the Black Knights mount a threatening attack.

Randy DiSimone finished with 12 markers for Southern while Jim Bosley, Denny Skewcris and Tom Panther had 10 points each. The Rams outscored Valley from the field by a 33-22 margin, and the victors converted ten of 17 foul throw attempts compared to a five for six effort by the Black Knights.

Cvetnik also had 4 points and Sharps two for the winners. C. Bosley, Henline and Tressler were non-scoring.

Stan Johnson was high for Valley with 18 points. Joe Langham had 10, Dye 2, Smith 2, Fontz 2, Lewis 8, Andrews 2 and Robertson 5 for the losers.

Paper Accepted

A paper by Oscar R. Harman, assistant professor of agriculture in environmental studies at Garrett County college, McHenry, has been accepted for publication in "Transactions of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers."

The title of Prof. Harman's paper, written in cooperation with Prof. Donald Maurer, University of Delaware, is "Environmental Considerations for Shellfish Production."

The paper tells if experiments conducted in which such environmental factors as salinity, pH, food supply and water velocity are closely controlled in a production system for shellfish, particularly the eastern oyster. The studies showed that when such factors are controlled growth occurs rapidly and during the full year, leading the authors to state that "these production rates give strong evidence that in the near future seafood may come from aquaculture farms in much the same manner as the land animals now do."

Prof Harman has been on the staff of Garrett Community College since it began operation in September, 1971. In addition to his teaching duties, he serves as coordinator of the environmental and reviewable resources technology program at the college.

A native of this county Mr. Harman was graduated from Northern High school and received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from West Virginia university, Morgantown. LOVE SEAT RECLINERS Seats Two BIG People Comfortably!

Shown in the picture above are two big bullshooters discussing the quality features of this chair including the sturdy one inch oak construction, the 100% Herculon cover (which is stain resistant, long-wearing and colorfast), the choice of Avocado or Gold covers, the unique comfort features and the practical aspects of this new recliner.

Mr. James Stephens (right) was so pleased with this comfortable recliner that he insisted that Mr. Bob Shaffer (left) sell it to him for a mere $239.95. Mr. Shaffer reluctantly agreed, but before any money changed hands both men had fallen asleep.

So we still have these unique recliners disp'ayed in our second floor Furniture Department. And, if you hurry in before these men awaken, you too can buy one for $239.95.

Students, Faculties Offered Half Price Skiing At Wisp

Garrett County high school and elementary students and faculty will have a chance to ski at half-price on Wednesday evenings at Wisp, according to William Cook, manager.

After a trial last Thursday evening, when approximately 150 students turned out, it was decided to continue Wednesday night skiing through February if interest remains high. Anyone other than students will pay regular prices, according to Mr. Cook.

Beginning next Wednesday, February 7, fees and equipments rentals will be one-half price for students and faculty.

Night skiing is available also on Friday evenings, at regular prices for everyone.

This week, the slopes have been in very good condition, according to Mr. Cook, who said that the snowmaking machines have been at work to supplement the three inches of natural base. At present, skiing is confined to areas where the snowmaking machines have been at work.

U. N. Refuses To Combat Terrorism

Once again the United Nations has refused to act to reduce violence in the world, and this time not by a veto of the Soviet Government, but by a vote of 74-34, with 16 abstentions and five absent, in the General Assembly's Legal Committee. The committee comprises the entire membership of the U. N.

It put aside a proposal that would enable the U. N. to take effective action against terrorism — air hi-jackings and massacres such those at Tel Aviv by Japanese terrorists and in Germany at the Olympic games by Arab extremists.

As Mr. Marx Lewis, Chairman of the Council Against Communist Aggression remarked, "That the communists should reject even a relatively innocuous resolution to combat the use of terrorism is understandable. They have used terror as an instrument of policy throughout their history. The communist rulers find assassination, kidnapping, bombing, and destruction necessary in countries they now seek to conquer.

"But while their position and the position of their allies in defeating the resolutions is understandable, what is inconceivable is that the U. N., by a vote of about two to one, supports the Communist position."

Among the countries which stood with the United States on this issue were Britain, Canada, Costa Rica, Australia and Belgium. They, and others who sided with them, said they would now bypass the U. N. in their efforts to deal with terrorism as a matter they consider of great international concern.

Meanwhile, the United Nations must steadily lose credibility and acceptance as it bows to the relentless pressures of the Communist powers and the emerging nations allied with them. By their failure to act, the members of the U. N. are themselves violating both the spirit and intent of the United Nations Charter. —U. S. Press Association Inc.

Summons To Greatness

Last week we were handed a book, "Summons to Greatness," by Ronald Rex Rarick, of Mt. Lake Park. It is a collection of inspirational thought and practical ideas from the messages and addresses of Richard Nixon, thirty-seventh president of the United States. It was published by friends of the president.

From week to week this column will carry portions of the statements that appear in the book.

Here is one as he took the oath of office:

"I have taken an oath today in the presence of God and my countrymen to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. To that Oath I now add this sacred commitment: I shall consecrate my office, my energies and all the wisdom I can summon to the cause of peace among nations.

"I believe we must take risks for peace—but calculated risks, not foolish risks. We shall not trade our defenses for a disarming smile or charming words.

"Peace we seek is not merely the absence of war, but the building of an open world—a world of open borders, open hearts, and open minds, where people with different cultures and different systems of government can live side by side and draw strength from their diversity. A world where all men can devote their energies to the works of peace rather than to the weapons of war.

"We cannot expect to make everyone our friend, but we can try to make no one our enemy.

"In the vision of a peace built on partnership, strength and willingness to negotiate is the unifying theme.

"We are not involved in the world because we have commitments; we have commitments because we are involved. Our interests must shape our commitments rather than the other way around.

"The adversaries in the world are not in conflict because they are armed. They are armed because they are in conflict, and have not yet learned peaceful ways to resolve their conflicting national interests.

"Those who would be our adversaries, we invite to a peaceful competition—not in conquering territory or extending dominion, but in enriching the life of man."

Rescue Squad Fund Drive By Jaycees Set For February

February has been designated fund raising month for the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, according to Brad Stewart, chairman of the drive sponsored by the Oakland Jaycees.

A $10,000 goal has been set, to equip the Cadillac ambulance the county commissioners have bought, and to get the Rescue Squad functioning on a donation, rather than a subscription, basis.

Currently, there are about 40 persons attending an Emergency Medical Technician-Ambulance training school, who will man the rescue squad. It is hoped that the squad will begin operations on June 1.

In order to reach their goal, the Jaycees fund raising committee composed of Brad Stewart, chairman, Bernie Zlomek, Jerry Cannon, Bill Bittinger and Brooks Hamilton, have sent letters to all area businesses requesting donations.

They have also sent letters to all clubs and county organizations asking them to have a club representative present at a special meeting with the Board of Directors of the rescue squad, so they may be able to explain the squad and its needs to club members.

They also plan to send letters to national business concerns which have outlets here, asking for contributions.

In addition, they have sent a letter to the county commissioners asking that thermometer be erected on the courthouse lawn, showing progress toward the $10,000 goal.

Mr. Stewart noted that individual contributions are welcome at any time.

Directors Elected

Board members of the squad, elected two weeks ago, include Bernie Zlomek, president; Robert B. Sincell, vice president, Sara Garner, secretary, Rex Teagarden, treasurer, and Roy Hinkle, Jr., financial secretary.

On Saturday, 26 members of the squad from Southern Garrett county and a number of Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad members attended a training session at the Hagerstown Community Rescue Service, Inc. Hagerstown has a completely volunteer, 76-man crew who operate their squad solely through donations.

Winners Named In Ski Competition

Gary Rheault, Morgantiwn, W. Va., won a gold medal in the NASTAR ski competition held at Alpine Lake on January 21. Rheault entered the ski race with a handicap of six. Winning the silver medal was Reggie Messenger with a handicap of 39 and Jack Riley, who also had a handicap of 39, was awarded the bronze medal. Both Messenger and Riley are residents of Oakland.

John Foster, ski instructor and NASTAR pacesetter at the Terra Alta resort, announces that NASTAR racing is held every Thursday and Sunday at Alpine Lake.

The NASTAR program is designed for recreational skiers of all ages. The competition is based on the handicap theory, depending on the age of the participant.

Mt. Savage Nips Huskies 60 To 58

Northern High Huskies lost a close one Tuesday night at Mt. Savage 60 to 58.

Mike King and Jay Walters scored 23 and 20 points to lead the Mt. Savage attack, gaining revenge for an earlier setback at the hands of Northern High school.

Northern won the first game 57 to 50. The Indians, up by nine points 52 to 43, heading into the final chapter, just barely managed to hold on over the final eight minutes after Walters and Bridges fouled out of the contest with five personal fouls.

The game was won at the foul line where the Indians converted 12 of 27 attempts, compared to an eight for 16 performance by Northern. The Huskies held a 25-21 edge from the field.

Mt. Savage led after the first period 15 to 10, and at halftime 32-26. Their widest margin was the nine-point lead after the third quarter, when the Huskies made a run for the victory.

Frazee emerged high point producer for Northern with 22 points, with Graves finishing with ten. Layman had 6, Slagle 2, Russell 6, Humberson 4 and Snyder 8 for the Huskies.

Keith Abucevicz had 10 for Mt. Savage, Bridges 5, M. Abucevicz 2 to complete the scoring for Mt. Savage.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Dollars and Sense

The financial responsibilities of the Congress—appropriations and taxation—are probably the greatest powers delegated to the legislative branch in our Constitution. And right now, these functions are sorely in need of an overhaul and reforms.

A very basic fact has become clear in recent years. We just cannot continually allow federal expenditures to exceed revenues without causing serious inflationary problems.

Or, to put it another way, the U.S. Treasury is not a bottomless pit, and our limit has just about been reached.

I think one of the highest priorities of the 93rd Congress must be to develop a more efficient way of handling the constitutional responsibility of dealing with the appropriations process, and I am ready to offer a five-point plan that would go a long way to improve the present system.

The first thing I have proposed is to make the fiscal year, on which we base our annual budget, coincide with the calendar year instead of starting on July 1st.

This would enable Congress to work on appropriations bills for a year in advance instead of rushing to get the job done in six months after the President submits his budget requests.

As it is now, Congress rarely completes the budget by July 1, anyway, and agencies are kept in suspense about their new budgets while stopgap funds are provided to keep them from running out of money.

My second proposal is to require Congress to consider a total budget figure for the coming year. This could be done by debating the amount of the President's request as the first order of business each year, and then deciding to accept that figure or to set a spending ceiling at some other amount—either higher or lower.

Once this is done, Congress would have something to use as a guideline while acting on separate departmental appropriations. Thus, individual programs would no longer be considered without some awareness of their impact on the total federal budget.

A third proposal, which is also related to the total budget concept, is to use offsetting percentages in various budget categories.

For instance, if the total appropriation for health is given a 5 per cent increase, then there should not be any increase of more than 5 per cent for one health program unless there is a corresponding decrease for some other program.

This would bring about a genuine set of priorities, and it would require hard choices of cutting back in one area in order to support an increase somewhere else.

My fourth point is to require each spending bill introduced in the Senate or House of Representatives to include a calculation of its cost per taxpayer. In this case, an idea that looks desirable at first glance may take on a very different appearance when the cost factor is considered, too.

A fifth proposal, and one that really should have been carried out long ago, is to establish oversight subcommittees within each standing committee of the House and Senate.

Here is where programs considered by each committee would be examined for costs and effectiveness on a regular basis.

To illustrate this need, just consider that the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance has, in 10 years, increased from about 300 programs costing $3 billion to nearly 1,200 programs costing $43 billion today.

We in Congress, as well as the executive branch, have to show the American people that we are spending their tax funds wisely—and we can only do that by making positive decisions about federal spending. We must either limit our expenditures or face an inevitable increase in taxes to pay for new and expanded programs.

Total value of the coupons increased in the two-month period from $65,915 to $70,751.

Working With Nature

For years, the Eastern Seaboard of the U. S. was famed for its oysters on the half-shell and other seafoods. Gradually oysters grew less plentiful, and gloomy predictions were made that they were headed for extinction. Pollution and population, it seemed, were going to wipe them out. But today the oyster industry is coming back stronger than ever before in the form of "aquafarms" —notably in the Long Island, New York area.

One of the most successful aquafarming operations is conducted on the grounds of a large power company. The warm water from its generating plant is discharged into a 4.5 acre bay. Some 19 million oysters are always in the early stages of growth in the clear shallow water. According to one authority, "The discharge guarantees that the temperature will never fall below 40 degrees, the point at which oysters stop growing. Inside the company's laboratories, the oysters are spawned, and the weak and slow-growing ones are screened out ....." Using the latest scientific growing techniques, the oyster farmers have cut the oyster's natural mortality rate of 99.99 percent to virtually zero. The oyster industry is now raising larger, tastier oysters that are being served on tables from Maine to California.

The interesting part of the rebirth of the oyster industry is that it is being accomplished with a by-product from electric generating plants — warm water — that has been roundly condemned by the environmentalists as "thermal pollution." The comeback of the oyster is only one small chapter in the story of how man and his works can and must learn to live in harmony with life-supporting resources of our planet. —Industrial News Review.

Testing The Needs

There's a lot of Insurance written to satisfy the needs of others. Lending institutions require insurance to protect their interest in mortgages and installment loans. The State requires insurance to protect the interests of employees against accidental injury.

But, what about YOUR interests for your family property or business operations — a program expressly designed to satisfy your needs.

The best test we know is two fold:

1. Determine the kinds of loss to which you are exposed.
2. Protect against those losses which you could not reasonably pay out of your own resources.

We've been in the risk management business a long time; assisting people to identify those hazards which they can control and to economically insure against the risks that are beyond their control. If this is the kind of insurance service that appeals to you, won't you give us a call.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

by Robert G. Jennings, Pastor of Deep Creek Baptist Church

Peace In The Midst Of Crisis

The universal cry of the human heart in these days in which we are living is for peace. Not merely an armistice which is but a breeding spell for the next battle but an abiding and lasting peace. When the wealth of the nation shall not be spent in building armaments but be used for the happiness and enjoyment of mankind. This abiding peace is the dream of the nations today. Some think it will come in one way, others are fighting to get it in another way. Yet the world nations still dream of peace. In a recent survey taken in our nation among 1800 people of America, which according to professional people is a true survey of all America the thing that was most wanted was peace.

While men, wise men, great men are at a loss to know what the outcome will be of the present strife There is only one answer given in all the world over and that answer is given by God in His precious and infallible Word.

It is not my purpose to discuss the problems of diplomacy among the nations nor to enter into the national and international method employed to secure a man-made peace. This is the business of those who are ordained of God to govern and rule during the absence of the final governor and ruler of the world, the Lord Jesus Christ. But as a minister of God, I would like to share with you some pictures from the Word of God about how peace is available.

In Isaiah 26:3-4, we read these words "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee, because he trusteth in Thee. Trust ye in the Lord forever for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength." And in Romans 5:1, the great Apostle Paul wrote "Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Just a few weeks ago, we've almost all been reading the gospel of Luke 2:13-14 where we read, "And suddenly there was with the angels a multitude of Heavenly hosts praising God and saying 'Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will towards men'". Yet, some nineteen hundred years have passed since the angel hurled those words forth, and from that day until this there has been no real peace, but rather war and hatred, bloodshed, hell and destruction with very few brief intermissions, this old world has been soaked with the blood of humanity.

Were the angels mistaken when they chanted "Peace on earth, good will to men"? On the surface it would appear that they were for the coming of the Prince of Peace has not yet brought peace among the nations and good will among all men.

In the gospel of Matthew 24:4-12, the Lord Jesus gives a picture of what the coming age will be like which would be ushered in at the close of His death on the cross. According to our Lord's words, wickedness and war shall increase until they reach their climax at the end of the age. It is not a picture of peace and good will among men in any sense of the word.

So as we ask the question again, "Were the angels mistaken when they hailed the birth of Jesus with peace on earth and good will to men?" The answer lies in the direct interpretation of prophecy and the recognition of God's dispensational dealings. The angels did announce peace on earth at the coming of the Prince of Peace. Man, however, did not accept the Prince of Peace, but instead, misunderstood His mission and put Him to death on the cross, and as a result the Prince of Peace was rejected and the peace which was foretold by the prophets and announced by the angels was postponed until a time when the world would acknowledge Him. The peace which the angel offered was conditioned upon man's accepting the Prince of Peace.

No, the angels were not mistaken. They announced the birth of a Prince of Peace and promised peace on earth if He would be accepted. There can be no peace without the Lord Jesus Christ: Where He is, there is peace. Where He is not, there can be no peace. It is a remarkable fact that in the 33 years Jesus was here on earth, history does not record one battle among the nations. While the Prince of Peace was here there was peace. Before He came there was incessant war, and since His departure there has been war somewhere in the world Only the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ can bring peace.

In the New Testament in II Timothy 3:1-5, Paul says, "This know also that in the last days perilous times shall come for men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, truce-breakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God, having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof." And then in the Old Testament in Micah 4:1-4, it gives to us in God prophecy about the age coming and the golden age of peace will be here. But this age of peace cannot come, however, until God's own time, until His program has run its course and all of His prophecies have been fulfilled. Any peace contrary to the fore-ordained program of God is doomed to failure. Any lasting peace without the Prince of Peace is a product of man's wishful thinking and idle dreams. Nevertheless, that age is coming in due time, when the kingdom of this earth shall become the kingdom of our Lord and of our Christ.

But yet, in the very midst of the day and age in which we live, it's possible for you and I individually to have peace in the midst of a world that is at war. It can be had, perfect peace by letting the Prince of Peace come into your heart. "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee because he trusteth in Thee," Isaiah 26:3.

As the war clouds loom and the thunderous cannons boom and men's hearts are fading them, we can have peace. The peace that comes when we accept the Prince of Peace as our Savior. Then we can have peace because we know that our sins are forgiven and no matter what happens we are saved for eternity. We can have peace because we know that all that is happening is according to a plan and a purpose and that God is still on the throne. And we know that He is making the wrath of men even to praise Him and He is setting the stage for the coming of the Prince of Peace. If you know Him, then you have peace because you know that soon He will come back again to bring peace to this troubled world. Oh may God haste the day He shall come and will not tarry.

Deadline Nears For Farm Feed Grain Base Applications

A feed grain base may be established under the 1973 Feed Grain Set-Aside Program for farms which did not plant feed grains in 1959 and or 1960 that meet eligibility requirements, J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee, announced

Interested producers should contact the local ASCS Office not later than Thursday February 15, to file an application.

To be eligible for a new feed grain base, the operator must expect to obtain more than 50 percent of his current year income from farming, exclusive of estimated return from the production of the requested feed grain base; must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains; the land must be suitable for the production of feed grains; and neither the owner nor the operator shall own or operate another farm with a current year feed grain base.

Producers on farms for which a new farm base is established may qualify for program payments and price support loans. They must enroll in the program and set aside the agreed percentage of the established base to be eligible for benefits, and also maintain the conserving base established for the farm. If less than 90 percent of the established base is planted to feed grains, the base will be reduced or lost entirely, Mr. Margroff said.

This picture of Carla makes me think of an old proverb my mother used to quote: "Precious things come in small packages."

Go ahead, mark me down for a doting dad. I'm quick to admit that my little girl is precious to me. With her loving arms about my neck I feel richer than a king. I walk into a room and see her eyes light up — so who wants to be president? As she snuggles down among the blankets, I kiss her and tell myself that I'll give her the best, now and always.

That's why I take her to church every Sunday. I want God to be a part of Carla's life from the very first. I know that an understanding of God and His love will ensure my daughter's well-being far beyond any material gift I could give her.

God's goodness is yours for the taking. Enrich your life. Go to your church, and take your family with you.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

HARD WORDS

Lesson for January 28, 1973

Background Scripture: Ezekiel 18.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 139:1-12.

Which is harder to say?
(a) Antidisestablishmentarianism, or
(b) I'm sorry?

I cannot answer for anyone else but myself, but I rather believe that "b" would win "hands down." It must be difficult to say for there are many who say it rarely and some who say it never at all!

Rev. Althouse

Why are these two simple words so hard to say?

"Unfair! Unfair!"

For many people it is a matter of pride. To say, "I'm sorry," indicates that we regret something we have done or not done and this means we have made a mistake, erred, or sinned. For those who are puffed up with false pride, an admission of error or sin is like a pit—it deflates us in our own eyes as well as the eyes of others.

The problem is that we have pretended that we are something we are not and the shattering of that pretense is a devastating experience. The more we have leaned on that pretense, the harder we fall when it is shattered.

Often we protect ourselves by turning a deaf ear to the truth. If we ignore it, we think, perhaps it will go away. This is the way the people of Judah had responded to the warnings of Jeremiah. They refused to acknowledge the truth of his prophetic messages in which their sins were roundly condemned.

In time, however, they could ignore the situation no longer: their nation was destroyed as the prophet had warned. Now, later, the people were still resisting judgement. No longer able to ignore it, they now turned to the old tactic of trying to blame someone else. Yes, we have been punished, they admitted, but it was our fathers who sinned! They dug up the old proverb: "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge" (Ezekiel 18:2).

The soul that sins . . .

It is typical of human nature to blame someone else for our misfortunes. But God is not deceived, though others and even ourselves are. "Behold," says God through Ezekiel, "all souls are mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sins shall die" (18:4). The meaning should be clear: God is not deceived, he knows who has sinned. If we are innocent, we need not worry about punishment. Only the guilty soul will be condemned.

The best way to deceive others, probably, is to first deceive ourselves. Thus it is that, like the people of Judah, we refuse to acknowledge the evidence and continue to protest our innocence long after it should have been obvious that we need to examine our own hearts and bring ourselves to say those two hard, hard words: "I'm sorry."

KEY WORD IN DENTISTRY
"PREVENTION"
No longer is the old saying, "Brush your teeth after every meal and see your dentist twice a year" the ruling factor in dental health. Now the new concept is prevention and dentists start by motivating their patients to learn how to control plague. At the beginning there may be frequent visits until the dentist has thoroughly instructed the patient in the technique. Then, a visit every four months is encouraged.
Not too long ago, lots of cavities, chronic gum problems and other dental ills were accepted as an everyday part of living. But now, prevention is helping to change all this.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Alternatives to Seniority

Congressional reform is a phrase that has been on everyone's hps since the 93rd Congress convened. Some of the proposals will take time to be considered by the Senate and the House of Representatives as a whole, but the Republican members of the Senate have already been moving on their own.

To explain what has been happening, it might help to describe the first few days of activity when a new Congress convenes.

After the swearing in of new members and re-elected members, the major parties hold separate caucuses to organize themselves. This process includes the election of party leaders making assignments to committees, choosing committee and subcommittee leaders and deciding the rules by which the party will carry out its own affairs.

The seniority system offers a case in point. In brief this unwritten rule says the chairmen and ranking members of committees will be determined solely on the basis of the length of time they have served on that committee. In fact, seniority is the fundamental way of doing just about everything on Capitol Hill, from the location of one's office, to the choice of committee assignments, to the selection of a desk on the floor of the Senate.

Seniority is a fair enough way to decide some of these things, but not all of them, and especially not the most important questions of leadership and committee assignments.

I have been actively working to bring about reforms in the seniority system—and in other areas, as well—since my election to the House of Representatives and then to the Senate.

And as a Republican, I am pleased to say that our party has been moving forward at the head of the congressional reform movement.

Two years ago, at the outset of the 92nd Congress, the Senate Republican caucus brought about a major redistribution of power within the party that enabled newer members to serve in positions previously reserved for those of high seniority.

This year, there has again been activity in the Senate Republican caucus to modify the seniority system through a proposal by Senator Baker of Tennessee.

The rule we adopted, which was a substitute for the widely-discussed Tatt Packwood amendments allows the members of each committee to elect the ranking member of that committee. The vote by the committee members is subject to ratification by the full Republican caucus and the votes in both cases will be recorded and published.

This proposal, which I support, is probably the most people save effort yet to make the members of Congress aware of the responsibility of leadership positions and accountable to their fellow members.

This rule has, in fact, been praised by Common Cause, which called it "a major step that provides the most flexibility and accountability of any caucus in the House and Senate so far."

The Baker rule will apply only to the leadership positions that become vacant as of this Congress, and it will apply only to Republican members of the Senate.

But I think the strong support in the caucus—the vote was 31 to 5—indicates the kind of support that could be generated for other changes of this type on Capitol Hill.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Reading of the death of Sara Roberta Getty brought back many fond memories of my early days in Garrett County.

In the years of 1910-11, I was teaching the Mars Hill School. Mrs. Getty was then living in Grantsville. I had become acquainted with her through the poems which she was writing.

Sometime during that winter we held one of the customary school entertainments, consisting of songs, instrumental music and readings. People came in such numbers that there was not even "standing room".

I asked Mrs. Getty to write a poem which I could read. She obliged by writing "The Mars Hill School" which she dedicated to me. It was later included in one of her books of poems.

The original hand-written copy of the poem was given many years later to Dennis Rasche who was then editor of The Glades Star. He had it framed and placed in the possession of The Garrett County Historical Society. I assume it is still there.

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of Clarence L. Taylor, who died February 4, 1972.

If anything seemed unreal
It was you lying still—motionless
With no funny jokes to tell
Or faces to make.
The preacher talked, but Could never sum you up—in words
And neither could I.
While others fix you on Their minds, in your coffin while they cried
I remembered you the way
You were happy and gentle before you died.

Sadly Missed By Son

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

Let the Sun Shine In

It is often said that sunshine is the best cure for most ills. This is equally true for political and social ills. With this theory in mind, I introduced legislation that would, if enacted into law, let sunshine into the Houses of Congress. The bill, S. 397, requires members of Congress to make annual public disclosure of their finances.

The notion that financial disclosure can lessen public distrust and improve the credibility of the political process is at least as old as the Republic. While he was President, Thomas Jefferson declared that "when a man assumes a public trust he should consider himself a public property." Support for this concept was later voiced by Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson and reaffirmed by Presidents Eisenhower and Johnson. A 1951 senatorial committee chaired by Senator Paul A. Douglas of Illinois regarded financial disclosure as the single most important piece of legislation that the Congress could enact to lessen the appearance of conflict of interest by public officials.

Twenty-one years later, the 1972 elections are widely interpreted as a protest against the so-called "old politics." Examination of public opinion polls provides additional evidence that Americans feel public officials are not to be trusted. A 1967 Gallup Poll indicated that six out of 10 Americans believed shady conduct among Congressmen is fairly common. A Harris survey during the same period noted that over half of the Nation's population felt that at least some Congressmen were receiving money, personally, for voting a certain way. Another Harris Poll published in February, 1972 revealed that during the period 1965 to 1971, the percentage of the public which gave Congress a positive rating, declined from 64 to 26 per cent.

These polls make it clear that the American people are fast losing confidence in the ability of their elected leaders to govern properly. It is clear that the disillusionment with the established order is not, as is often contended, limited to the young. The discontent pervades all segments of our society and is, in my view, the most serious problem facing the nation today.

For the most part, this attitude of distrust is without foundation. The overwhelming number of those in Congress are honest and hardworking. Unfortunately, the actions of a few untaithful servants over the years have tainted the reputations of many who have served the public well. But the fairness of this public indictment is not the issue. Our representative system of government is based upon and gets strength from the consent of the governed. Without trust, the system cannot work. Our challenge is to restore confidence in the electorate.

Congress can and should be more open and candid in its legislative activities. Congressmen can provide public access to all congressional meetings. Senator Lawton Chiles of Florida and I have introduced legislation that would accomplish this goal. But the first step toward candor must be a personal one. I believe my disclosure legislation, which requires all members of Congress to file with the Comptroller General of the United States the amount and source of all income, gifts whose value exceeds $100 and all assets, debts and financial transactions with a value of more than $5,000, meets that requirement. I hope the Congress will meet its responsibility to the people and pass this or a similar bill and without extended debate.

No One Injured In Three Mishaps

Three motor accidents occurred last week in which there were no apparent injuries in different parts of the county. One was a hit-and-run.

curred on the Glendale road curred on the Glendale road near the Zeddock Miller road last Tuesday evening. Rose Marie Oliverio, Swanton, was traveling east on the Glendale road when an unidentified vehicle, traveling west, crossed the center of the roadway and sideswiped her car. The unidentified vehicle continued on without stopping. Trooper Dale K. Williams investigated the mishap.

One accident occurred on U. S. Route 40 near the Dorsey Hotel road in Grantsville about one o'clock the morning of January 22. Lucky Alan Bowersock, Louisville, Ohio, was traveling east on Route 40 when a large dog ran into his path. In attemping to avoid hitting the dog, Bowersock lost control of the car, crossed the center of the road and hit the parked car of Timothy Xavier Fitzpatrick, Baltimore. Trooper David A. Miller made no charges. The Bowersock car sustained disabling front end damage.

A minor mishap occurred on Old 219 near Weber's Greenhouse last Monday afternoon. Nancy J. Durst, Accident, was northbound when a vehicle operated by Harold Sweeney, Mellenry, pulled into her path from a private drive. Nancy Durst applied her brakes, skidded off the right side of the road and struck an embankment. No charges were made by Tfc G. D. Broadwater.

Budget Cut To Delay Bloomington Dam Completion

The Bloomington dam project is one of the 1st area projects to feel the bite of President Nixon's budget cuts for the 1974 fiscal year.

The $98 million project, orginally scheduled for completion in November 1978, has seen the date moved back a full year by the President's cuts in the budget for water projects by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Maryland, which received $20 million out of the Army Corps budget last year, has seen its budget sliced to $13.9 with the Bloomington project receiving $13.6 after a request for $20 million.

The project, designed to provide water quality control, reduction of flood damage, water supply and recreation, began construction in 1971. Awarded funds are expected to be sufficient to continue going on construction already in progress, but at least one contract originally projected to be put up for bids this spring has been deferred until August, 1974 by the cutback.

Three contracts have been awarded on the project already with work almost completed on two and scheduled to begin on the third in March.

For one phase of the project the Western Maryland railway tracks are being relocated on the Maryland side of the Potomac river. Two contracts were awarded for this project, one for 6.4 miles, cost $13,731,000. 70 percent complete; the second is for five miles, cost $9,791,941.60 percent complete.

A third contract has been awarded for $6,206,827, with actual work expected to begin in March for the first actual work on the dam itself.

A fourth contract for unit three on relocation of the railway was projected to be awarded this spring but the work has been deferred to August, 1974. This is for the relocation and would cost approximately $4 million.

A California news reporter, jailed for contempt of a local court, was released by order of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Douglas.

The host five meanwhile had 35 field goals and six of 13 foul attempts.

Tom Bosley and Rich Giddens each had 14 points with Charles Shahan adding 12 and Rick Shoemaker 11. Hoag had 7 and Martin 2. LePore and Merulli shared 44 points for Beaver county while Stiffler had 17, Ricker 6 and Clark 9.

This and That . . .

At least two youth organizations have anniversaries this month. One is the 62nd anniversary of the birth of boy scouting in America, which has certainly paid off in producing or helping to produce millions of men of excellent character and training.

Another is the anniversary of Future Farmers of America, which has helped to keep America the most productive agricultural system in the world.

All citizens should be thankful for such organizations.

A Real Thank You

Many candidates have felt this way but few have expressed it in such a way. Following an election a candidate placed the following advertisement in the newspaper. "I want to thank the 300 voters of this precinct who endorsed me for office. A special thanks to the 600 friends who promised to vote for me. Thanks also to the 400 who assured me that they did vote for me. And finally a real vote of thanks to the 92 who actually cast a ballot for me in the election." Real unique, we think.

A Real Helper

A garage mechanic in a tiny New Hampshire village came up with a unique method of keeping customers out of his hair while he worked on their cars. Prominently displayed in the garage among the list of repair charges was "Hourly rate, $6. If you watch, $10. If you help, $15."

Fast Mail Service

An indignant citizen mailed 75 letters from Philadelphia to Washington addresses. Then he carried a second set of letters between the two cities by his own "pony express" service of six horses. Most of the letters carried by pony express were delivered first to the surprise of nobody. There may be a greater future for the horse than first realized. Unless the postal service gets its mess untangled—and real soon.

TWO EXCHANGE STUDENTS HERE—The area now has two exchange students living here. On the left is Luz Aurora Saavedra, of La Paz, Bolivia, and on the right is Cristina Nagueria Kozlowski, of Rio de Janeiro, Petropolis, Brazil. Luz is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Fischetti, 12th street, Oakland, and Cristina is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Arnold, in Deer Park.

Luz is here as a Rotary club student exchange. Both families have daughters who will be their constant companions, Lenora Fischetti and Pam Arnold. Neither one had ever seen snow before coming to the Oakland area and both seemed to love it.

Federal Aid Cuts Could Chop Funds For Local Schools

Garrett County schools could stand to lose between $250,000 and $300,000 in federal aid to education funds if President Nixon's recently announced budget goes through Congress intact.

These figures are estimates from county superintendent of Schools Dr. William Buser, who noted that NDEA Title III funds and ESEA Title II funds will be cut.

National Defense Education Act Title III funds buy instructional equipment, such as movie projectors, science materials and films for the schools.

Elementary-Secondary Education Act Title II fund cuts could whittle spending on library books and materials.

Dr. Buser noted that these two funds would bear the brunt of federal pruning, but that some others could possibly be eliminated.

He is reasonably sure the county will lose $186,000 of Title III funds this year, the last of three years of project funding for the Resource Center, Camp Hickory and the Resource teacher.

Appalachian Funds Cut $28 Million

The Appalachian Regional Development program has been allocated $305.5 million in the federal budget for fiscal 1974, a cut of more than $28 million from fiscal 1973.

Largest cut came in funds for mine area restoration which dropped from $21.2 million last year to $2 million in fiscal year 1974.

The program is for 13 states including all of West Virginia and parts of Kentucky, Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Tennessee.

Cuts also were made in demonstration health projects from $49.3 million to $46 million; vocational education facilities, $26 million to $25 million; supplements in federal grant-in-aid programs, $43.5 million to $34 million; research and local development district programs, $11.9 million to $8.5 million; and housing programs, $4.5 million to $2.3 million.

The Appalachian highway system, however, got a hoost from $170.6 million to $189 million. That program is funded through contract authority available in the fiscal year preceding the year of authority.

Wilson Introduces Bill To Legalize Pin Ball, Tip Board Operations

An effort to legalize pinball machine and tip board operations for private clubs in Garrett and Allegany counties is being made by Senator William A. Wilson, Republican senator for the two counties.

Sen. Wilson has introduced SB 481 to accomplish the legalization, which he explained would be permitted only during social events conducted by the clubs. The clubs also would have to be the sole benefactors of the moneys derived with no individuals being allowed to profit by the operations.

Sen. Wilson said bingo and raffles are already permitted and he feels tip boards and pinball machines are in a similar category.

Another bill he has introduced, SB 504, would have the state assume the responsibility from Garrett County for licensing amusement machines of coin or token variety. He said the county has been burdened by the responsibility and has asked him to attempt to have the state take over the program.

Sen. Wilson is hoping to rectify another problem through SB 447, which would require the Board of Public Works to purchase property in fee simple only and to buy all mineral rights as well.

The Legislator said that present policy when the BPW buys land is to purchase only the land and not the mineral rights. Anyone, he stated, can come along and claim the mineral rights.

He said a particular problem in this respect has developed with the state's open space program, whereby the state buys up land for recreation purposes but has no mineral rights.

Six more Wilson bills to streamline Register of Wills operations have been introduced.

SB 465 provides that all papers relative to descendants' estates must be filed in one place, and SB 466 provides that the power of representatives of estates is conditional on filing an inventory.

Four other descendants' estates' measures he has introduced are SB 478 transferring the duty of publication of notices from the personal representative to the register; SB 497 requiring names and address of interested persons to be stated in the petition for probate; SB 489 deleting the requirements of filing a certificate of notice to interested persons when filing the inventory; and SB 481 to transfer the duty of giving notice from the register and to change the time limit.

Wilson Bill Seeks Liquor Law Change

Senator William A. Wilson from the Allegany-Garrett area, on Monday night introduced a bill to amend local liquor laws so that liquor license holders would be able to conduct raffles, bingo and any other legal state gambling activities on their premises.

Senator Wilson said the bill was a followup to SB 464 which he introduced earlier to permit tip-boards and pinball machines in the two counties.

He was advised by Donald W. Mason, State's attorney for Allegany county, that the liquor laws now prohibit tip-boards and pinballs.

Distilled Spirits Revenue Distributed

Checks totaling $1,589,382.50 were mailed to Baltimore city and the 23 counties of the state as their share of the distilled spirits tax collection for October, November and December of 1972, it was announced by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller. The amount was 5.95 percent greater than for the same period last year.

Garrett County received $4,299 from 8,598 gallons delivered during the period, for an increase of 9.64 percent over the period a year ago. The amount for the half year period was $8,691.50, for 17,389 gallons delivered, an increase of 5.88 percent increase over the same period a year ago.

Decreases were noted in five counties and Baltimore city.

125 Attend Heart Educational Dinner

Approximately 125 people attended the Heart Care educational dinner last Thursday evening at Southern High school in Oakland.

Sponsored by the Oakland Rotary club the dinner featured Dr. Peter B. Halmos, director of the coronary care unit of Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

"Take Care of Yourself," was the main theme of his talk. More specifically he suggested that each one keep his weight normal, eat foods low in saturated fat and cholesterol, exercise regularly and moderately, refrain from smoking cigarets and have regular check-ups.

He said heart attacks were the No. 1 killer, causing 660,000 deaths in the United States annually. He listed some warning signs of impending heart attacks or strokes.

The dinner was the beginning point of the Heart association drive for funds in this area.

Brian Beachy Transplant Fund Reaches $16,000

Approximately $500 is still out in pledges for the Brian Beachy kidney transplant fund, according to Dick Stanton, acting treasurer for the account.

Some $3,209 in pledges had been made Sunday, January 29 through the Oakland Rotary radiothon held that day.

Total collected so far for Brian's transplant fund is over $16,000, according to Mr. Stanton.

Brian's condition at present seems "stable." His parents remain in an apartment near the Richmond Medical Center where he is hospitalized.

Murray Boy Still Serious From 3rd Degree Burns

Nineteen-year-old Jim Murray, who was burned over 58 percent of his body January 26 in a collision on the Washington beltway remains in serious condition, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Murray.

The youth remains in the intensive care ward at the Washington hospital special burn ward. He is not allowed to have visitors, except his parents and roommate, or flowers because of the danger of contamination. Cards, however, are allowed.

His vital signs, including temperature and body functions, are nearly normal now. He may have to remain in the hospital for as long as six months, according to his father.

His car had exploded on the beltway after being struck by a tractor trailer carrying fertilizer. One man, driver of the first car hit by the truck, was killed.

Enrollment Is Up At G. C. College

Another 200 or more students are expected to enroll in the Adult Education, non-credit courses, which will begin early in March.

The U. S. combat dead in Vietnam is placed at 45,933 while noncombat deaths totaled 10,298.

Malone and James Battinger, guidance counselors from the two schools.

Both contestants were asked to fill out an additional questionnaire and return it immediately to General Mills, Inc., in Minneapolis, Minn.

To be eligible for one of the awards the winner must be certified as to character and reputation by the school principal. Some 665,000 were enrolled in this year's search, the first in which boys were eligible to participate.

Maintenance Of Stone Arch Bridge Up For Discussion

Maintenance of the old Casselman stone arch bridge at Grantsville came under discussion on Monday, February 5, before the County Commissioners.

Attending were Delegate De-Corsey Bolden, Louis Phipps, Fred Eskew and Frank McCrobie, of the Department of Natural Resources; and Marshall Rickert, county planner.

It was pointed out that in order to be able to maintain the structure and do the necessary repairs, which were quite costly, it was felt the site could be turned over to the Department of Natural Resources as it already maintains the park site adjoining the bridge.

The commissioners said further information was needed before a final decision is made.

The Commissioners also discussed with the group the possible acquisition of land by the Department in the Fairview section of the Savage River state

School Agency Favors Plus 4 Million For Construction

Recommendation Must Be Approved By State Board Of Public Works

The State of Maryland Public School Construction Committee last Friday recommended a $4,656,000 allocation to be submitted to the Board of Public Works it was announced by Dr. William Buser County Superintendent of Schools. The Maryland State Board of Public Works will review all requests which will be subject to the approval of the State Legislature, he added. This request has the support of the Garrett County Board of Education and the support of the County Commissioners with the Board of Public Works.

Projects included in the recommended allocation were estimated funds of $374,000 to complete the Friendsville Elementary School; $210,000 for relocatable classrooms at Southern, Northern, and Dennett Road; $711,000 to complete construction of the Broadford Elementary School; $3,268,000 to construct the new Southern Middle School; and $93,000 to begin planning the new Northern Middle School. Funds are included in fiscal year 1973 to begin planning for building improvement at the Grantsville Elementary School.

Currently, the Board of Education is working for the purchase of the Frost Park property in Friendsville for the elementary school. Plans currently include submitting the schematic designs for the Broadford Elementary School and the Southern Middle School to the Board of Education at the regular monthly meeting today, February 8. With their suggestions and approval, the schematic designs will be submitted later in the month to the State Public School Construction Committee for their approval. These approvals will lead to the completion of design development documents during the months of March and April. Barring any unforeseen obstacles, these schools should be ready for bidding by June or July of this year, Dr. Buser concluded.

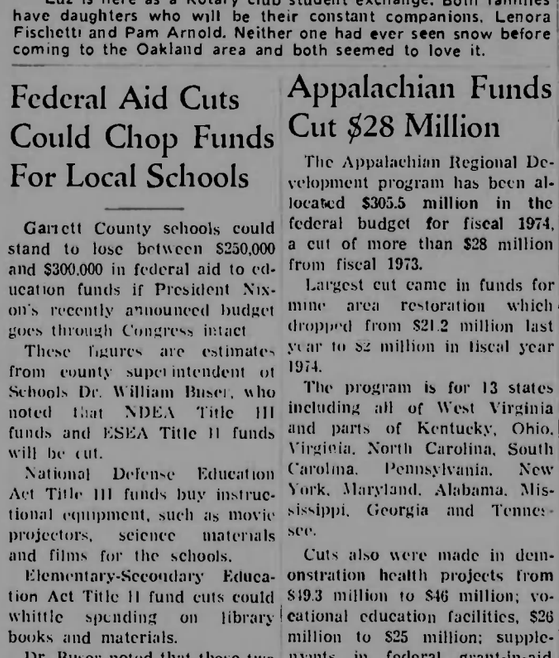
A Frostburg Man Is Charged In Marijuana Case

A Frostburg man had been held in the Garrett County Jail on charges of possession and distribution of marijuana at a northern Garrett County inn. He has since been released on posting bond.

Edward Wayne Kasecamp, 23, Main Street, Frostburg has been apprehended by a statement of charges made by a Trooper of the Maryland State Police.

The trooper saw Kasecamp standing at the door of the Stonehedge Inn smoking a cigarette which the trooper immediately recognized by its odor as marijuana. He was offering others a puff of the cigarette and then offered the trooper a puff, apparently not knowing him to be one. The incident occurred January 27.

No trial date is yet noted. Charges were filed in District Court.



LACK OF NATURAL SNOW has not kept skiers from flocking to Wisp. Increased snowmaking capacity has meant the difference between a "bust" or "boom" year.

Wisp Fools Mother Nature with New Snowmaker

by Robert B. Sincell

An awkward-looking machine resembling a concrete mixer has helped make the difference between brown and white on the slopes and red and black on Wisp Ski Area ledgers during the past two seasons.

The machine, a Hedco snow maker, has made Wisp Ski area the only slope in the east which has had reasonably consistent "excellent" skiing this winter, when all others were reporting good to poor conditions.

Only last week, KDKA television in Pittsburgh was listing the ski areas and snow conditions like a broken record, repeating poor at all areas until the announcer came to "excellent at Wisp Ski area, Oakland, Maryland, wherever that is."

Whether they now know where Oakland is or not, word will soon get around as skiers flock to the place they can get a good run.

Naturally this means that while skiers are enjoying the white snow, they will be leaving green stuff all over the Deep Creek Lake and mid-Garrett county area, which is good news for everyone.

The astounding facet of this machine is that the quality of snow has proved superior to natural snow. Mother Nature's snow tends to form slush when exposed to sun for any length of time. The machine snow, on the other hand, turns to a granular ice, forming what skiers refer to as "corn" snow, excellent for fast maneuvering.

The mechanical snow maker puts to shame old, individual nozzle-type snow guns. It uses the Venturi principle that expanding liquids give off heat. The liquid then crystalizes to form a pellet of ice.

Snowmaking at Wisp has been going on around the clock when temperatures go below freezing and the humidity is relatively low. Water pressure is maintained at a minimum of 200 pounds per square inch to feed the machine, and in a day's time over one million gallons of water are changed into snow on Wisp slopes. The water is pumped from three ponds on the old Hood farm in the Wisp vicinity.

The machine uses a propeller to create a blast of air, making use of the natural cold air to absorb heat from water. A refrigerating unit freezes a small amount of water and uses this as a catalyst to freeze the rest.

The snow blower makes snow so fast that a person standing in front of the nozzle could be literally buried within a short time.

However, for now, use of the snowmaker is confined to the Poma lift area and chair lift areas until special hydrants can be obtained for adjoining trails.

Skeptics have felt that it was impossible to make enough machine snow to justify the huge investment, but Mr. Heise is proving otherwise, and smiling through it all. The machine is relatively expensive but because of its enormous production, it has meant the difference between good skiing and no skiing, which makes an obvious difference to the cash register.

Both this year and last year, the absence of natural snow has been pronounced, which has caused other slopes to fall into receivership. Mr. Heise feels the new machine, and hopefully another of the same caliber,

CONCRETE? . . . NO, SNOW!—Wisp new Hedco snowmaker has more than doubled previous snowmaking capacity, enabling Wisp to have "excellent" ski conditions when other area slopes report "poor" to "good".

Summons To Greatness

"Summons to Greatness" is a collection of inspirational thought and practical ideas from the messages and addresses of Richard M. Nixon, president of the United States.

Here is another one of his messages:

"The challenge to our wisdom is to support the Asian countries' efforts to defend and develop themselves, without attempting to take from them the responsibilities which should be theirs. For if domination by the aggressor can destroy the freedom of a nation, too much dependence on a protector can eventually erode its dignity.

"Any nation can be our friend without being any other nation's enemy. I have taken this action (decision to go to Peking) because of my profound conviction that all nations will gain from a reduction of tensions and a better relationship between the United States and the Peoples Republic of China.

"It is in this spirit that I will undertake what I deeply hope will become a journey for peace — peace not just for our generation but for future generations on this earth we share together.

"Peace does not come through wishing for it. There is no substitute for days end even years of patient prolonged diplomacy.

"We want to be remembered, not as the generation that suffered in war, but as the generation that was tempered in its fire for a great purpose to make the kind of peace that the next generation will be able to keep.

"Let us see that the path we are traveling is wide, with room in it for all of us, and that its direction is toward a better Nation in a more peaceful world.

"Let us take as our goal: Where peace is unknown, make it welcome; where peace is fragile, make it strong; where peace is temporary, make it permanent.

"Together, as people of the Old World and of the New World, we must find ways of living in the real world."

County Makes News With Deer Park Water

Garrett county still makes the news in many ways, not the least of which these days is from publicity about Deer Park "boiling spring" water. Latest publicity appeared January 28 in the Beacon Journal of Akron, Ohio in a story "Clear Water Become Part of Grocery Bill." by Scott Bosley, a staff writer for the newspaper.

The story carries pictures of the modern building plant of the Nestle company, the enclosed spring from which the water originates, the small plant along the B. and O. railroad where water was bottled for the B. and O. diners, and a photo of Carl Mayle, whose grandfather owned the land where the spring is located.

The bottled water now appears in many stores throughout the country, and advertisers urge shoppers to try it for making coffee, tea, orange juice and any number of mixtures. Originally it was also used at the Deer Park hotel.

The story was brought to the attention of the editor by Lois Savage, who said her late brother, Elwood Miller and Gail Shaffer started working at the Deer Park hotel years ago, keeping up their know how as a chef and eventually moving to some large social clubs. The latter is now in Chesapeake, Ohio, working for an exclusive club in Huntington, W. Va.

Tips on Saving Money by Conserving Energy

You can do something to help conserve our nation's vital energy sources; and you'll save money at the same time. With demand for fuels beginning to outstrip supply in some areas, simple conservation of electricity, heating oil and gasoline will not only help you cut costs, but can assist in halting the drain on our energy supply.

Make sure your furnace is working efficiently. Have it cleaned periodically, lower the thermostat before going to bed, and maintain proper humidity. This not only saves you money, but helps conserve fuel.

Better home insulation has been cited as vital to fuel conservation. An investment in storm windows will pay off in the long run, and weatherstripping and caulking around doors and windows can drastically reduce fuel bills.

Good driving habits can markedly decrease gasoline consumption, according to the Amoco Oil Company. Avoid jackrabbit starts, drive at moderate speeds, and keep your car well-tuned. Properly inflated tires, believe it or not, can also help conserve gasoline.

You'll be surprised at the kilowatts you can save simply by turning off lights and appliances when not in use. Concerted home electrical conservation can cut monthly utilities bills 20% and more.

If we start conserving energy today, there will be enough for everyone tomorrow.

Spring To Be Late As Usual, Says Mr. Groundhog

Spring's going to be late again arriving in Garrett County, according to the mountaintop's seasonal calendar, and because Mr. Groundhog said so.

The whistlepig-weather prophet is probably snuggled asleep in his burrow after darting out last Friday long enough to predict six more weeks of winter.

Sunny skies in the afternoon allowed him to have a clear look at his squat shadow, and after only a quick look around, he decided not to let temporary sunshine tempt him for a stroll.

His predictions evidently began coming true that same afternoon, when sunny skies were covered over by heavy clouds. A thunder storm, complete with lightning, blew into the area later in the day, and by Saturday morning a mild snowstorm had taken over for the day.

More sunshine on Sunday coaxed away most traces of snow, but we can be reasonably sure old man winter will reign on the mountain for six more long weeks, at least. And maybe it's just as well we can't know what he has in store . . .

forest. The commissioners expressed their disapproval due to the large amount of land already owned by the state plus the fact it would be taken off the tax books with no revenue to be realized.

Sites for mine reclamation also were discussed.

Mr. Gigliotti, area manpower coordinator, informed the Commissioners of some cut-backs in programs such as "Mainstream," P.E.P., and WABS. He indicated that various agencies would be reorganized and managed differently and that a possible reduction in funds would amount from 10 to 25 percent.

Mrs. Mary Jones and Eric Ammann, of the Library board presented its budget and explained a proposal to establish a library facility at Accident. A slight increase was noted in the budget and Commissioner Hamilton explained that this was one category where revenue sharing monies could be legally used. Commissioners said they felt the services of the library system in the county were very important and have been extensively used by many people.

Too Much Pay

Congressmen H. R. Gross of Iowa and Morris K. Udall of Arizona are to be congratulated for their investigation (through the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee) of high salaries paid to officials employed by the U. S. Postal Service.

According to initial findings by the House Committee, salaries paid to Postal Service bosses today are double or more than previously paid to those running the Post Office Department. One witness, Mr. Edward Day, former postmaster general during the Kennedy administration, has testified that when he was running things there were only ten persons making over $20,000 a year. Today, he said, there are more than 1,000 Postal Service executives whose salaries exceed that figure.

Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen gets $60,000 a year, the same as members of the Nixon Cabinet. But, in addition Mr. Klassen has several assistants; one is paid $52,500; three are paid $50,000; one receives $46,000 and five regional postmasters are paid $45,000 each. In turn, the regional postmasters also have wellpaid assistants who draw between $35,000 to $45,000 a year.

If the Postal Service produced a profit, such salaries might be understandable. Needless to point out, however, is the fact that the Postal Service is currently operated at a huge deficit, and that these millions of dollars are extracted from your pocketbook through Federal taxes.

From a business-like point of view, would it not be advisable to cut the inflated salaries back to their former level of $20,000, with the proviso that when the Postal Service ceases to lose money, then the pay would be raised? After all, the lessons of history show that a man works best when he has some incentive.

If you agree with this idea, clip out this editorial and mail it to our Congressman.

Is This What We Want?

One of the matters scheduled to come before several State legislatures this year is whether the so-called "Equal Rights Amendment" to the Constitution of the United States shall be ratified. In the first rush of enthusiasm for the idea of "equal rights for women," twenty States have already done so.

However, many people—especially women—are having second thoughts on the matter, and some States have refused to ratify the measure; among them Connecticut, Michigan and Oklahoma.

Legal scholars have pointed out that the consequences of the Amendment, should it be ratified, are rather extreme. For example:

—All existing State laws relative to working hours, (usually less for women) working conditions, divorce, support, etc. would be wiped out;

—Women would be forced to register for any draft at the age of 18, required to serve in all kinds of military units including combat duty. Rights of privacy due to sex cannot be respected.

—Seduction laws, statutory rape laws, laws prohibiting obscene language in the presence of women, all prostitution laws, etc., will be invalidated.

—There can be no differences under the law in roles for men and women within the family on the basis of their sex; women may become obligated for furnishing one-half of the family support.

—All men's clubs and lodges will be required to admit women, and all women's clubs will be required to admit men.

—and many more. In fact, one legal professor, Thomas I. Emerson of Yale, used 114 pages in the Yale Law Journal to set forth some of the implications of the proposed amendment. And Prof. Emerson pointed out that the requirements are absolute; the wording of the amendment allows for no exceptons.

Before any more States ratify the Equal Rights Amendment, it might be well to pause and ask: "Is this what we want?"

General Lewis W. Walt, whose U.S. Senate Task Force has just completed a world-wide investigation of the illicit drug traffic, uncovered facts concerning Communist involvement and the titanic task faced by America in coping with a frightening spread of drug addiction within this nation. In four previous columns we have dipped into his official report to the U.S. Senate Sub-committee on Internal Security to document sources of the traffic in the "death drug" heroin—opium poppy areas in Southwestern and Southeastern Asia. In this column we want to list briefly his personal recommendations to the Senate and President Nixon.

1. "We have to try to dry up the sources through bilateral and international programs designed to discourage the production of cocaine, hashish, marijuana, and illicit opium. . . . As a first step in this direction, it is essential that the U. N. International Narcotics Control Board be armed with an accurate opium map of the world. To achieve this objective, I propose that we seek an international agreement to accept reconnaissance satellite photography of all opium-growing areas, by a specially equipped reconnaissance satellite, operating under the aegis of the Board.

2. "We can reinforce world intelligence capabilities by using the technology developed by the U. N. Narcotics Laboratory in Geneva to plot the geographic origin of all opium seizures.

3. "In seeking to dry up the sources of illicit opium, I consider it mandatory that we work for effective international action to deal with the situation in Northeast Burma. This area constitutes the heartland of the Southeast Asia drug problem. (This) situation calls for U. S. intervention to put an end to opium production and heroin refining and trafficking" in the Burma-centered "Golden Triangle."

4. The United States should increase her share of the budget of INTERPOL, international clearing house for criminal intelligence, so it can expand its usefulness in the international war on illicit drug traffic.

5. Improvement in U. S. interception capabilities at ports, airports, and border crossings. "Perhaps the most impressive new 'technological' development in this area is the heroin-sniffing dog. At the moment we have only two in the U. S."

6. Coordination is needed between the various government agencies concerned with narcotics control.

7. Expand and bolster the U. S. Custom Service which is by far the most seriously undermanned and under utilized of all the agencies involved.

8. Laws in the area of narcotics must be strengthened. "My first recommendation is there should be no bail for traffickers guilty of class 'A' felonies, involving 16 ounces or more of narcotics. My second recommendation is that we return to mandatory minimum sentences for grade 'A' offenders.

9. We should devote somewhat more money than we are now devoting to basic research of drugs. (In this recommendation, General Walt expressed the opinion that the more scientific knowledge developed in marijuana research the more dangerous the substance appears.)

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Several Arrests Recently

John Rolls, who disappeared from this area after being charged with several counts of larceny after trust, and bad checks, was picked up in Las Vegas, Nevada recently and has waived extradition to this county.

He is being lodged in the Las Vegas jail until someone from the county Sheriff's department can pick him up and return him to face charges here.

Arrests made by the sheriff department here during the week include a 17-year-old female juvenile from Oakland who was picked up for being away from home without parents' consent. After three days in jail, she has been released into the custody of her parents pending further action.

Early this morning, Joe McCroskey, Deer Park, was picked up and lodged in the county jail on an assault and battery charge brought by Nancy Upole. Mr. McCroskey was to have a bond hearing this morning in district court.

On February 4, Norman Lewis, Swallow Falls, reported a breaking and entering of a Mitchell cabin in that area. Sheriff's department members have investigated but it cannot be determined if anything is missing until the owner has checked his property.

George L. and Nancy C. Evans, Kitzmiller, had been charged with passing five worthless checks. One check passed at the H-P Store, Oakland, on December 15 was in the amount of $82.14, three at Foodland, one for $30, and one for $40 on December 29 and another was for $30 the day before. Wants Income Tax Forms Filled Out Very Carefully

Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber of Oakland, urged all citizens of Oakland to carefully complete portions of their 1972 Federal Income Tax Forms dealing with the recently instituted federal revenue sharing program. Under the program, state and local governments are given a share of U. S. individual income tax.

Geographical information taken from these forms will be used to provide annual population and income data that will be employed in the allocation formula used to complete entitlements for all eligible governments. Oakland has received $45,717.00.

The sections of the income tax forms involved are lines 26 and 27 of the Short Form 1040A and lines 33 and 34 of the longer Form 1040.

It is extremely important that accurate information be furnished so that each eligible jurisdiction receives its fair share of the entitlement money, Mr. Swartzentruber noted. If taxpayers fail to list the correct information, it may result that their true jurisdiction loses funds while some other locality may receive an increase. In addition, there is a penalty for taxpayers who fail to provide the information without reasonable cause, he concluded.

The high temperature for the week was last Friday's 61 degrees. The highs averaged 47 degrees or 7 degrees above normal. The lowest mercury reading was 25 degrees Monday morning. Lows averaged 19 degrees above normal. So the weather is still mild for this time of the year with an overall 8 degrees above normal.

Tour Of Trees

Following through treeless country which so alarmed the Eastern pioneers heading west, we are interested in the remains, about five feet of it, of the old Council Oak at Council Grove, Kansas. Under this tree, in 1828, the Osage Indians made a treaty with the U. S. Commissioners, giving the right-of-way forever through their land for the Santa Fe Trail. A million dollar trade was possible because of this agreement. Since Council Grove was the last supply station for wagon trains on their way west from Missouri, there remain relics of busier days in the old buildings, such as Tom Hill's store. At this last outfitting stop before the Plains, on the old campground site, stands a memorial statue honoring the pioneer mothers of covered wagon days. The Madonna of the Trail stands protectively by her youngster, taking a step forward in a brave gesture to the unknown hazards ahead.

A treaty under a tree recalls the story of William Penn, the Quaker founder of Pennsylvania, who is said to have signed a land treaty with Delaware Indians under the Treaty Elm at Kensington on June 23, 1683. A monument marks the spot beside the river, with the scene commemorated in a tableau at the state museum at Harrisburg. Whether it is fiction or not, the thought surrounding this treaty contains remarkable words, that the Indians and the colonists would "live in love as long as the sun gave light."

Connecticut once had its charter hidden in an oak tree, for to preserve it there would protect it from the power of the English governor of New England. Indians had revered this plant because its leaves indicated corn planting time, so it was spared for an heroic action, but since 1856 has been made into other objects, for a storm destroyed its life. The city bells of Hartford rang to mourn its passing because its life had been so intertwined with state history.

"Honey in the Rock," a drama portraying the founding of West Virginia, comes alive at the state park at Beckley, where the summertime visitor notices another attraction in the form of a medium height tree displaying white spikes in clusters, tiny bells shining out from slender green-bronze leaves. Enchanting as it is, the sourwood or sorrell-tree is marvelous also in being the world's only representative of its genus, Oxydendrum. Many hunters, we are told, chew its young shoots for the acrid taste. The old song goes, "I got a gal on Sourwood Mountain." She is a fortunate miss, indeed, to have a mountainside covered with these trees in view.

A native of China, the allanthus, has adapted itself to the eastern United States, so the traveler of the Skyline Drive is able to spy it many times by the roadside. Its bark has slight furrows similar to a sassafras. Its rapid growth enables it to gain 8 or 10 feet in height per season. Alternate leaves on the stem, with greenish flowers of spring, both male and female on each tree, give it a lively appearance. They leave a happy impression of this Tree-of-heaven only surpassed by the orange and red wings which shelter its seeds in the fall.

As visitors come and go, we hope they see the Wye Oak in Talbot County, for it is not only the pride of Maryland, but of America, being the largest white oak known, with several very large neighbors. The old oak stands bolstered by cables in its highest branches, with a crown of 165 feet in span. Tree surgery certainly has preserved it, but any plant which has stood before the colonies were established deserves admiration for its age.

Touching the ancient knees beside its trunk and viewing its immense shaded area make a Marylander doubly proud that a park in its honor will protect this oak for the specimen that it is.

On our western shore at St. John's College stands the remnant of another tree of treaty, the Liberty Tree, under which the Susquehannock Indians and white settlers made an agreement in 1652. The site of this occasion is now marked by a bronze tablet, which states that in 1824 Lafayette held a reception under the then prosperous tree.

Hemlocks in Virginia and Maryland find homes in high cool places; their lacy limbs do best in dampness and mountains. One region of the Skyline Drive has hemlocks that are over 500 years old, true virgin forests. But we have a crown in hemlocks, for New Germany's grove, also of virgin timber, is accessible to walkers, not hemmed off by highway. Spend any time of any season treading lightly under them, and think of the pageant they have seen—settlers walking to the mill or riding there to have grain ground, a pavilion built for dancing under these monarchs, and animals scampering beneath. This dignified portion of a tour of trees is just out of Evangeline's story: "This is the forest primeval. The murmuring pines and the hemlocks, bearded in moss, and in garments green, indistinct in the twilight, stand like Druids of eld, with voices sad and prophetic."

Adults At 18 Bills Backed By Mandel

Two bills to make Maryland youths legally adults at age 18 drew support from Gov. Marvin Mandel and a crowd of youngsters, but received no opposition at all yesterday at a hearing before the House Judiciary committee.

The bill apparently will have a good chance to come to the house floor with a favorable recommendation.

The governor endorsed in all respects the lowering of the age of majority in Maryland.

Gary Ford, member of the governor's youth advisory commission, told the committee that the bills were needed especially by the majority of Maryland young people who do not go to college when they graduate from high school. "They have to act as adults without adult privileges," he said.

Efforts to lower the age of majority from 21 to 18 have not fared well in the past.

Ten Accidents Are Injury-Free

Ten accidents occurred in the county within the past ten days which involved no apparent injuries and only moderate to light vehicle damage.

Carolyn Sue Brenneman, Deer Park, was stopped on Old 219 and waiting to enter State Rt. 135 last Saturday about noon. Thomas H. Davis in a pick up truck traveling east on Route 135 made a left hand turn into Old 219 and struck the Brenneman car. Tfc. Robert E. Friend charged Davis with making an improper left hand turn.

William C. McRobie, Oak Street, Oakland, was headed north on U. S. Route 219 last Friday about 4 p. m. He pulled onto the right shoulder and from there he attempted to make a left hand turn across Route 219 John W. Holman, Bradley Lane, Oakland also going north, at an apparent speed too great for conditions, was unable to stop to avoid a collision and hit the McRobie car. Tfc. Rosald S. Lewis charged McRobie with making an improper left turn and Holman with operating at a speed too great for conditions.

Mary Jane MacKley, Piedmont, W. Va., was traveling east on Route 135 on the top of Backbone Mountain about 1 o'clock last Friday morning. She stated she suddenly came upon a slow-moving truck which, due to fog, could not be seen. She could not get stopped because of the icy road and struck the unidentified truck in the rear. The truck continued on east. Trooper R. C. Georg, made no charges.

Cindy Lou Peck, Oakland, and William L. Welch, Oak Street, Oakland, were traveling north on U. S. Route 219 near Foster road last Tuesday about 10:30 in the evening. Joseph P. Harmon, Terra Alta, W. Va., traveling south on Route 219, crossed the center of the road and sideswiped the other two cars and continued on without stopping. Trooper Dale K Williams charged Harman on two counts: failing to keep to the right side of the road and failing to stop after a vehicle damage accident.

A station wagon of the Van-Meter ambulance service, Maysville, W. Va., and a car of Violet Susan Martin, Kingwood, W. Va. were parked eastbound on the shoulder of State Route 39 at the Hutton Esso Station last Tuesday afternoon. A heavy duty truck driven by Larry O. Lantz, Friendsville, was in the process of making a right turn into the service station, lost control, and hit the Martin car which in turn was pushed into the station wagon. Tpr. Williams charged Lantz with reckless or negligent driving.

Mary Suzanne Phelan, Cincinnati, Ohio, was traveling east on the Glendale road just west of the State Park road last Wednesday. Gail K. Hixon, RD 1, Oakland, traveling west on the same road noticed the Phelan car approaching from the bridge, applied his brakes but collided with it. He was charged with not giving a motor vehicle passing in the opposite direction sufficient space to pass by Tfc. Carl D. Skidmore.

Carlton J. Callis, Jr., Mt. Lake Park, was traveling east on Oak Street and made a right turn into Eighth Street, last Monday afternoon. Dennis A. Gibson, Star Route, Oakland, following Callis in a light duty truck, ran into the rear of the Callis car as he was entering Eighth Street to go south. Tfc. Lewis charged Gibson with operating at too great a speed for conditions.

Ray R. Gnegy, RD 2 Oaklkand, was backing from a parking slot in the Foodland parking lot last Tuesday at noon. Gnegy failed to see the vehicle of Bernice E. Sanders, Mt. Lake Park, parked, unattended directly to the rear of him, and a collision resulted. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Gnegy with operating a motor vehicle in violation of restrictions on drivers license.

Robert H. Stemple, Oakland lost control of his small truck on the Glendale road near the State Park road when a tie rod broke last Tuesday about 1 a. m. The truck went off the road and hit some guard rails. No charges were made by Tfc. Robert E. Friend

Enrique Daumalder, Metuchen, N. J., was traveling south on State Route 560 last Monday morning. He failed to notice the car of Bradley E. Rush, RD 3, Deer Park, approaching him from the opposite direction and started to pass another vehicle. Rush swerved to the right but the two cars collided. Rush then struck an embankment on the right shoulder. Trooper Friend charged Daumalder with passing another vehicle on a solid line.

WASHINGTON REPORT
BEALL JR.

Emergency Health Care

As a member of the Health Subcommittee of the Senate, I have had the opportunity to work on legislation that is of vital interest to all Americans.

A great deal of this attention is quite properly focused on breaking new ground in health and medicine. For example, tremendous commitments are being made for the prevention and cure of heart disease and cancer. And Maryland is playing a key role in these efforts through the work being done at Ft. Detrick and the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda.

There also is a growing movement to provide comprehensive medical care through health maintenance organizations, and also to formulate some kind of national standards on health insurance. These will be two of the major issues for the Health Subcommittee to consider during the 93rd Congress.

The National Catastrophic Illness Protection Act, which I have introduced in the past week, is in this category of legislation. My bill would enable citizens to buy, at a very reasonable cost, additional insurance to protect against the staggering expenses of a serious accident or prolonged illness.

These so-called catastrophic illnesses are relatively scarce, so a national insurance pool could be formed at a small cost to everyone, and it would have to be used only by the few unfortunate families who otherwise would face financial disaster along with personal hardships.

What has also been of great concern to me is the matter of making our present health system work better.

Emergency care is one aspect of health care where we already have the know-how and resources for dramatic gains, but the services are not being delivered to the American people.

The tragedy here is that the present situation, which has been called the hidden crisis in American health care, in general need not be.

The military has shown us—in World War II, Korea, and more recently in Vietnam—that trauma deaths are not unfortunate occurrences that are inevitable. Through speed and proper medical attention, the death rate for combat casualties in Vietnam fell to nearly zero.

I believe that the same could—and should—be true for accident victims here at home, and I have sponsored legislation to encourage states and communities to establish modern, well-equipped emergency medical systems. All of the ingredients are on hand; it is just a matter of getting them into use.

Maryland is fortunate to already have some of the best medical facilities in the United States for emergency care.

A highly-sophisticated trauma center is located at University Hospital in Baltimore, a pediatrics trauma unit is at Johns Hopkins Hospital, and there are special facilities for burns and neonatal intensive care at Baltimore City Hospitals.

All of these hospitals can be reached by the State Police Med-Evac helicopters, and they are now being linked with other hospitals and ambulances in the Baltimore region through a $1.25 million federal demonstration grant for communications system.

But in Maryland's case, this should be expanded into a statewide system, and it eventually will. On the national level, other states and communities should be encouraged to establish similar systems.

The Health Subcommittee has been conducting hearings on this important legislation, so we can look forward to early action this year by the Senate.

Frostburg Fire Victims Receive Over $16,000

The four families who lost all their possessions in a fire at Frostburg on January 13, ended up with $16,000, thanks to listeners of WFRB radio of a broadcast plea for relief funds.

The radio station organized a radiothon to raise money. The amount at sign off time the first day brought pledges of $11,570. The contributions were increased until more than $16,000 had been received and the cash was presented to the fire loss victims in ceremonies at Frostburg National Bank on January 22. Donations were received from a radius of 200 miles.

A human interest story about the radiothon and its results was carried in the Baltimore Evening Sun of January 18. The story also was carried in The Republican and in Cumberland newspapers.

Named To Dean's List

Three students from this county were among the 119 students of Allegany Community college who achieved academic recognition and inclusion on the Dean's list and Honors list for the fall semester of the 1972-73 academic year.

On the dean's list were Dianna S. Brenneman, Bloomington; and John W. Sanders, Oakland. They had a semester point average of 3.44 or higher for course work totaling five or more semester hours.

Students not meeting all of the conditions of the dean's list but who still maintained a high degree of academic excellence were placed on the Honors list. These students included Kenneth L. Martin, Oakland.

Byron Recommends Forcign Aid Cuts

Rep. Goodloe Byron recommended last Friday "sharp cuts" in the $3.8 billion foreign aid budget submitted to Congress earlier in the week.

"I cannot support an increase in foreign aid, especially at a time when we are trying to balance the budget, hold down on inflation and prevent a tax increase," he said.

"Here is a golden opportunity to slash an excessive spending program and to transfer foreign assistance monies to badly needed domestic programs which have been terminated in the name of fiscal responsibility.

Owls Club Notes 47th Anniversary

The Owls club of Oakland will be forty-seven years old as of Friday, February 16, and one of the charter members, Harold Harned, reveals that "we still enjoy playing 500, enjoy our guests, our refreshments furnished by our wonderful wives and cooks. We play for fun, to win, to be sure, but nobody plays for prizes nor seems to get provoked when a bid is not made. We have no rules, no hard and fast regulations, just enjoy the friendship and fellowship of playing cards for enjoyment."

The club was organized a Thursday evening in February of 1926, at the Harned home on Green street in Oakland. Two charter members still belong, Townshend Naylor and Mr. Harned.

Charter members also included Grover Stemple, Paul B. Naylor, Ernest Shirer, Frank Rathbun, Carlton McComas, Harold Dawson, Harry White, Neil Fraley, Lawrence Fraley, Paul McIntire, Ralph Weber, Julius Littman, Max Jarboe and Fred Peddicord.

Through the years many others have belonged: Cecil Smith, Herbert Leighton, Foster Bittle, Pete Smith, Bowen Hardesty, Howard Riggs.

Today's members also include besides Naylor and Harned; Harry Stemple, Wade Meese, Logan Weber, Reaford Purbaugh, Willard Elliott, Tom Graser, Charles Briner, Lewis Jones, Ralph Cross and William Naylor.

Trout Stocking About As Normal

Hurricane Agnes dealt Maryland's trout program a severe blow last June. Floods which accompanied the storm inundated the Albert Powell Fish Hatchery near Hagerstown and about 50,000 trout intended for a large part of this year's stocking program were lost.

Despite this lost ground, the Department of Natural Resources announced that near normal numbers of trout will be available for stocking throughout the State, beginning early in March.

The fish lost at Powell during the Agnes rampage included both adult and fingerling trout.

As soon as the flood damage was repaired, DNR's Fisheries Administration obtained 35,000 fingerling trout last summer from a Federal hatchery in Tennessee.

These trout now are approaching stocking size—normally about 9 inches—and some of them will be in this spring's stocking program. Normal production at the Powell Hatchery is 85,000 fish annually, including brook trout, browns and rainbows.

During 1972, the Fisheries Administration stocked approximately 198,000 adult fish in the State's trout streams and public fishing ponds and an additional 225,000 fingerlings in large impoundments such as Deep Creek Lake and Savage Reservoir and in cold water ponds in Western Maryland. It also provides several sources with fingerlings in cooperative rearing efforts. Some clubs rear these fingerlings and stock them as adults in streams of their choice.

Fish from several sources will enable the Fisheries Administration to stock approximately 190,000 adult fish in 1973 and about the same number of fingerlings as in 1972—or 225,000. This will make the program only about 8,000 fish off schedule as compared with last year, despite the blow from Agnes.

In addition to the fish produced at the Powell Hatchery, there are about 25,000 brown trout reared annually at Cushwa, a rented station near Clear Springs in Washington County. Another 25,000 rainbows are reared at the Bear Creek station near Accident.

Black Lung Benefits Show Higher Percent

Checks delivered early in February to the 257 miners and widows receiving black lung benefits in the Garrett County area will be about 51 percent higher than last month, said James E. Robertson, Social Security Manager in Cumberland.

The recent executive order raising Federal employees pay results in an increase in black lung amounts.

The monthly benefit for a disabled coal miner, or his widow will now be $169.80 up from $161.50. The maximum benefit payable when there are three dependents (a miner with a wife, and two young children, for example) will amount to $339.50—an increase of $17.60. A miner or widow with one dependent will get $254.70, and a miner or widow with two dependents will get $297.10.

According to Mr. Robertson more than $53,000.00 is being paid each month to these miners and widows at the present time.

For information about black lung benefits, a representative of the office is at the National Guard Armory in Oakland on the Tuesday and Friday of each week

Lakers Drop 3rd Game In A Row

The Garrett Community College Lakers suffered their third straight setback Saturday night at the hands of the University of Maryland Baltimore campus Lakers 88 to 72 at McHenry.

The Lakers seeing their record dip to 6-9 stayed with the Baltimore cagers in the early action but were outgunned in the final 20 minutes.

Trailing 38 to 30 at the half Garrett came out and scored the first six points of the second half before UMBC got rolling again. That is the last time it was close.

UMBC featured a well balanced attack in placing four players in double figures. Mac McGlucklin paced the visitors with 19 points while Al Raines had 17. Rich Joseph and Jeff Proffitt had 12 each.

Garrett's 6-8 center Rich Giddens took game honors with 23 points and Charles Shahan added 16 Bosley had 10, Shoemaker 2 Hoag 8 Martin 1 Ravenscroft 2 Gibson 4 and Rinker 6 to complete the scoring. Giddens also had 15 rebounds and Gibson 13.

The Lakers having their third straight sub par shooting game, hit on only 27 of 68 shots for 41 percent, while UMBC had 37 shots from the floor. Garrett was 18 for 28 at the foul line while the visitors hit 14 of 21.

It's None of Our Business

No matter which company writes your fire insurance, premiums are based on rates established by the Maryland Insurance Services Office (formerly known as the Maryland Fire Underwriters Rating Bureau).

Each business property beyond a nominal size has at one time or another been individually rated in accordance with the construction and occupancy hazards which existed on the day of inspection. But, since re-inspections are seldom made without request, rates often continue as orginally determined despite favorable changes in the rating factors.

Without authority for an analysis of the charges and credits which make up your rate schedule, it's none of our business. However, should you be interested in this kind of insurance service, we'll make it our business — promptly and free of obligation. Just call our Oakland office. — 334-9424.

Beehive

Tier upon tier, window by window, modern apartment and office buildings are like human beehives. The people who live and work in them are often as busy as bees, too. Each day rushes by, each hour is filled, and when morning comes, it starts all over again.

Monotonous? Well, sometimes it is both monotonous and discouraging to live and work in a beehive. It seems as if you're just a drone, as if individuality has flown out the window. But is this true?

Whether you live in a palace or a penthouse, a hut or a one-room efficiency, you are you. Your uniqueness is your God-given gift. Your potential to be different, your capacity for accomplishment, is infinite.

If you've lost sight of that fact, you've been forgetting something — like going to church, maybe?

A BAG WITH HOLES

Lesson for February 11, 1973

Background Scripture: Haggai
Devotional Reading: Hosea 5:15 through 6:6.

Augustine is said to have prayed once: "Lord, make me pure—but not now!" He knew what God wanted him to be and had accepted the fact that he would, in fact, ultimately fulfill God's expectations. But first, there were things he wanted to do, experiences he still wanted to try. He would make that big step upward, but later.

Rev. Althouse

"Not yet come . . ."

This is typical of human nature. As the old saying goes we want "to have our cake and eat it, too." We want to do God's will, but we don't want to bypass anything valuable along the way. What we really want is to "have the best of both worlds."

This is the way it was in Judah in those early days when the newly-returned Jewish captives had returned to Jerusalem. They found their beautiful temple in ruins and all agreed that it would have to be rebuilt—someday. So from one generation to another ran the conviction that the temple would have to be rebuilt, but no one believed it should be done now.

In time, however, God spoke through one of his seers and cut through their rationalization: "This people say the time has not yet come to rebuild the house of the Lord. The prophet reminded the returned exiles that God knew all their excuses and he saw through them: "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies in ruins?" (Haggai 1:24).

The people were playing the old "double-standard" game: one set of values and priorities for God's concerns and another, quite different set for their own. God's "time" had not yet come because they were too busy making it "their time." Isn't that what happens with us today, too. We comfort ourselves and take the cutting-edge off his challenges to us, by thinking of the big things we will do for him "some day." When we have satisfied our needs then we will put ourselves at his disposal.

Never enough

Speaking through Haggai, however, God takes aim at their rationalizations and shoots them down in flames:

> You have sown much, and harvested little; you eat, but you never have enough; you drink, but you never have your fill; you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages earns wages to put them in a bag with holes. (1:6)

To wait for that day when our own needs have been met is to wait for a time that will never come. The more we get, the less satisfied we are. Somewhere I read that the per capita giving to churches was higher during the depression of the 1930's than it is today. In other words, when we are affluent, as we are now, we are less satisfied with what we have and less willing to share.

Take a good look at your life: has it become a matter of filling "a bag with holes"?

THE HEART NEVER DIES
(A Dutch Proverb)

Whether it be a situation involving a physical ailment or a matter of love in bloom, your heart is always honest. Fortunately, the ache of a heart-broken, Valentine romance is usually repairable without surgery and in a relatively short period of time.

An ailing heart is of course another matter and you should never neglect any sort of recurring chest pains. Heart disease is still one of the leading causes of death but more and more people are able to live nearly normal lives with heart problems when the condition has been found and the proper medicines are started.

Southern Defeats Northern 86 To 60

Paul Lewis, Denny Skeweris, Jim Bosley and Randy DiSimone all played a major role last Friday night as Southeran High school made it a two-game season sweep of its two-game series with Northern High school on the Southern hardwoods at Oakland by winning 86 to 60.

Lewis had 20 points, Skeweris 18, Bosley 15 and DiSimone ten as the Rams rebounded from an eight point first quarter deficit to take a ten point lead at halftime, and it was all downhill from that point.

The Rams converted 30 of 33 attempts from the foul line and that provided the wide margin of victory. Southern outgunned the Huskies from the field by a 28-24 ratio.

Also scoring for Southern were Cvetnick 8, Sharps 9, Panther 4, Tressler, 2. C. Bosley and Henline did not score.

Buddy Frazee was Northern's high point producer and the high scorer of the game, with 22 points, coming on nine field goals and four for eight at the charity stripe. Humberson added 18 points and was the only other Huskie in double figures. Layman had 2, Russell 2, Slagle 5, Graves 6, Wampler 3 and Bender 2.

Northern led after the first period by a 25-17 score, but was held to eight points during the second quarter as the Rams zoomed to a 39-33 advantage at halftime. The contest was turned into a rout during the third period as Southern held a 60-43 edge entering the final eight minutes of play.

In the preliminary encounter Southern High junior varsity scored a 35-23 victory over their Northern counterparts.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

How David met Tragedy

In the Old Testament in First Samuel, Chapter 30, we find how the man who became King David overcame sorrow, trouble and tragedy. When he and his men returned home they found their little city a smoking ruin. An enemy army had plundered the city, taken anything they wanted and set the city afire and kidnapped all the people. When they realized what had happened, that their homes were gone and their wives and children kidnapped, the account says that "they lifted up their voices and wept umil they had no more power to weep."

Some sorrow must come into all of our lives. It is better to weep than to become bitter and rebellious. It is stated in the life of Jesus that He wept sometimes.

After this, it is stated that David's men spoke of stoning him. How unfair! David had suffered as much loss as the other men. But this is projected resentment. We should not be shocked if in time of trouble; our friends turn against us.

But we read where David encouraged himself in the Lord. He went alone before God in Prayer. It is better to go to the Lord in prayer than to go out into the street and start a riot. Or to get a gun and start shooting innocent people. Or to plan suicide. No doubt David remembered how God had delivered him in the past when a lion invaded his flock or sheep and how the Lord helped him kill the lion. Also how God had helped him overcome the giant Goliath in battle. God had delivered David from the insane jealousy of King Saul.

When trouble comes, it is helpful if we remember that God did not fail us in times past. The Lord never fails. We are sometimes tempted to believe that He is too late or that He has forgotten us. But as the songs says "Jesus never fails."

After David had prayed, he felt assured that the Lord would help him rescue their wives and children. As he started to pursue the enemy, some of his friends became too tired and turned aside to rest. But as David and his men continued on, they found an enemy soldier who had fallen exhausted. It would have been easy to have vented their angr upon him. But David showed him kindness. He gave him food and water. Then he asked the enemy soldier where the main army was camped. With this information, David and his men were able to overcome the army of the enemy, and they recovered all their families. Jesus said "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you; That you may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust."

Rev. C. R. Stouffer, pastor of the church of the Nazarene, Oakland, Md.

Acting FBI Director Gray said extremists groups continued their efforts to stir up racial unrest in 1972.

Meet The Staff

ROBERT LEWIS

Somebody asked me recently which employe had been with our company the longest. The answer to that question would have to be this week's staff representative, who is Bob Lewis.

Bob was an almost constant companion of the late Cheston Browning, Sr., the founder of our company. Mr. Browning had a lot of faith in Bob and hired him at a very early age to do odd jobs around the store. As Bob grew older, he helped Mr. Browning mine sand at Eagle Rock Sand Company.

Bob has worked in most of the departments in our store. He was a delivery boy when we used to deliver groceries, and he has also helped us in our maintenance department throughout the years. But his main interest presently is in the meat department. He has over twelve years' experience in the meat business and is a first cutter. During the summer months, when our business increases, you won't see much of Bob because he works during the night shift, making sure that our meat cases are full of cuts every morning for your convenience.

Everybody enjoys working with Bob because of his witty humor. There's never a dull moment when Bob's around. He's also a very kind persin who will do anything in his power to help you out. We're proud of the fine job Bob has been doing for us throughout the years.

Bob enjoys doing mechanical work in his spare time and is also an expert handyman. He lives in Deer Park with his wife, Alberta.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

Assault On A Senator

The nation was shocked to read in its newspapers, hear on radio and see on television that a member of the United States Senate had been accosted, robbed and shot in front of his home in the nation's capital. The attack on Senator John Stennis of Mississippi is a tragic example of our failure to make the nation's streets safe. Despite the millions of tax dollars invested in public safety, a distinguished public servant—one of the nation's finest legislators — is assaulted and robbed on his doorstep.

If Senator Stennis could be the victim of such an attack similar assaults can—and too often do—happen to anyone. The Congress needs to move swiftly to adopt a comprehensive plan to deal with crime in our nation's cities, counties, and rural communities.

Last April, I, with a number of other senators, sponsored a massive bill that would reform our criminal justice system. Briefly, the bill would have:

—authorized special Law Enforcement Assistance Administration grants to encourage state and local governments to undertake programs to upgrade their police court, jail and prison systems.

—authorized additional LEAA grants for high-crime areas to combat street crime.

—increased the role of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the area of juvenile delinquency and required that a fixed percentage of LEAA funds be used to combat juvenile delinquency and youth crime.

—established a system of compensation to victims of violent crime who cannot recover from the offender, —provided federal death benefits to the families of law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty.

—created a 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage and social security benefits for working prisoners.

As you can see, this legislation, which I intend to introduce in the 93d Congress, attempts to encompass the full range of our criminal justice system. It deals with prisons, juvenile correctional systems, the courts, urban crime, prison systems and law enforcement. The bill seeks to deal with the nation's crime problems, not problem.

If we are to tackle the criminal justice problem in the United States, we cannot do it in an isolated way. It is not enough to hire police and then not adequately train them. It is not enough to provide new court facilities and then not staff them adequately. It is not enough to build new jails if there are no rehabilitation programs.

The criminal justice system is a chain of people and institutions. The chain starts when a person is arrested and ends when he returns to the community. What happens during the time of detention, arraignment, trial, incarceration and release is important to both the individual and the community. To make our criminal justice system effective, we must make sure that each institution is working properly. If our prisons are workshops of crime, it makes the job of the police that much harder when the man they arrested a few years ago returns to the community from a crime apprenticeship in prison.

Crime cannot be solved by laws alone. Erasing crime means tackling the social conditions — from unemployment to mental disorder—that contribute to its cause. Until government and community join together to see that the institutions created to deal with these problems are doing their jobs, our troubles will increase. My legislation seeks to accomplish this goal. I hope Congress will consider such a measure rather than a collection of stop gap remedies that will be forgotten with yesterday's headlines.

By

Maryland—Sixth District

This regular comma serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me

What kind of scholarships are available to colleges in Maryland?

Your question can best be answered by reading the booklet "Scholarships and Loans for Higher Education in Maryland" which is available from my office here in Washington.

How much financial aid did Maryland receive under the recently terminated Rural Environmental Assistance Program?

The 1973 State allocation for the soil and water conservation program exceeded $800 thousand including $237 thousand earmarked for Garrett, Washington, Carroll, Frederick, Allegany and Howard Counties. Maryland received $1.2 million in aid in 1972.

I read recently that a retired person can now earn $2,100 a year and still receive full social security payments. Can you tell me if this amount will be increased?

Yes, as future earnings levels rise, the amount you can earn and still receive social security benefits will also rise. Under the new law, the first such automatic increase will occur in 1975.

Does the President's Council on Physical Fitness have any exercise booklets available for high school students?

Yes, just write to the President's Council on Physical Fitness & Sports, Washington D. C. 20202. Among the many pamphlets available is the well-known Swedish Fitness book, which includes information on the Swedish training track and the human body and how it works. The booklet also discusses proper diet, motives for regular exercise and training advice and is especially recommended for persons working with young men and women at the high school level.

Would you please explain your pension exemption bill?

Briefly this legislation would exclude from federal income tax up to $5,000 of retirement income. The exclusion covers any amount received as an annuity, pension or other retirement benefit during a taxable year up to this maximum amount. I believe this House bill is necessary for retired citizens, because living on a fixed income they are hit hard by many inflationary pressures such as food prices and property taxes. Congress must continually search for ways to make certain that American elderly live their years in security and dignity and I think this measure is a step in that direction.

1973 Tag Sales To Begin Feb. 13

The State Motor Vehicle Administration will begin mailing license tag renewal applications to Maryland's more than one and three quarter million passenger car and motorcycle owners Friday, February 9 with actual sales beginning, Tuesday, February 13.

Motor Vehicle Administrator Ejner J. Johnson reminded motorists that they will receive tag validation stickers again this year in lieu of new tags. Mr. Johnson cautioned that all motor vehicles registered in the state must be insured in the minimum amounts of $15,000 $30,000 for bodily injury and $5,000 for property damage.

Vehicle owners who do not receive their tag applications by the end of February should contact the MVA immediately, giving present tag number, title and serial number of their vehicle, full name and present address, to enable the computer-printer to print their correct application.

There will be a one-time only additional fee of $1.50 for every vehicle registered in Maryland during 1973. Passenger car fees will be $21.50 for vehicles 3700 pounds or less, and $31.50 for vehicles over 3700 pounds.

Tag validation stickers may be purchased from the MVA headquarters in Glen Burnie or from the county treasurers office in Oakland.

New stickers are not to be displayed before March 1st and should be placed by midnight March 31.
